NLRB Forces Reds on Unions—Green

DECLARES THEY ARE NOT FIT TO LEAD WORKERS

Insists Bridges Is a Communist.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor accused the National Labor Relations board today of forcing American workmen to accept communists as their representatives in collective bargaining disputes with employers.

Edmund Toland, house committee lawyer.

Green referred specifically to the order entered by the board in the Pacific coast maritime case. Testifying before the house committee investigating the administration of the Wagner labor act, he asserted that the effect of this order was to wipe out A. F. of L. unions and turn their membership over to the Longshoremen's union, headed by Harry Bridges, Australian born agitator.

"Harry Bridges is a man that almost all people in America understand and know to be a communist," Green declared. "The evidence shows that all Americans accept Bridges as a communist except Dean Landis and Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins."

Refers to Landis Finding.

[Green referred to a recent finding by James M. Landis, dean of the Harvard law school, who acted as a special trial examiner for the labor department, that Bridges was not a communist. Secretary Perkins accepted the finding and ruled Bridges was not subject to deportation.]

"We are uncompromisingly opposed to such procedure," said Green in reference to the labor board order, "and we are coming to congress for relief. We don't want to be represented by communists in collective bargaining."

Committee Counsel Edmund Toland then told the committee that he had evidence ready for presentation which showed that Bridges designated certain attorneys to the labor board whom he wished to try certain cases. Correspondence taken from the board files revealed this demand by Bridges and the reply of a board member, he said.

Wants Evidence Later.

Chairman Howard W. Smith [D., Va.] told Toland that the committee was highly interested in this evidence, but that it should be presented at a later date thru a witness who could identify the matter disclosing such a close link between Bridges and the board.

Green defended the labor act itself, but vigorously attacked its administration. The general policy of the board has been to injure and destroy A. F. of L. unions and supplant them by C. I. O. unions, he said. He cited a number of cases to prove his point.

"We charge the board with maladministration, with bias, with an attempt to apply their own peculiar philosophy in the disposition of the cases," he told the committee. "They have shown discrimination of the most reprehensible character. They have resorted to vicious trickery to gain their objectives."

Green declared that the board had resorted to "outrageous delays" in their campaign to destroy A. F. of L. unions.

Urges Revamping of Board.

"The board must be completely revamped so that there will be five members and a complete change in personnel," he said.

Attorney Toland asked if any member of the board had ever referred to the unions of the A. F. of L. as "hostile organizations." Green declared that board member Edwin S. Smith had expressed hostility to craft unionism in a dissenting opinion in the Allis-Chalmers case.

Lewis Union in an Uproar Over Red Flag

Columbus, O., Jan. 25 [Special].—John L. Lewis was heckled and defied by his C. I. O. followers at an uproarious convention session of the United Mine Workers' union today as a result of his speech yesterday in which he turned on the New Deal and predicted an ignominious defeat for President Roosevelt if he seeks a third term.

Forty-seven resolutions supporting a third term for Roosevelt were introduced on the convention floor by various delegates, indicating a sharp division of opinion among the union's membership over the split of the C. I. O.-New Deal combine.

A heckling stunt that caused general confusion among the 2,000 delegates and so irritated Lewis that he asked for police aid was staged as he made a speech to the delegates during a ceremony in celebration of the union's 50th birthday.

Hammer and Sickle.

A red flag, bearing the hammer and sickle emblem of communism, was lowered over the head of the belligerent C. I. O. leader as he spoke. He continued without looking up, but irate delegates leaped to their feet shouting: "Tear it down!"

The flag was lowered from the loft above the speaker's platform and was held stationary 10 feet above the stage. As the banner waved above him, Lewis said:

"The United Mine Workers of America is an American institution. It has but one flag and that is the American flag."

The Flag Vanishes.

As he finished speaking the flag was raised out of sight. Delegates remained on their feet after the ceremony ended, staring at the place where it had vanished. Lewis took the microphone and demanded that ushers induce them to sit down.

"It appears," he said, "that some one has attempted to perform a most cowardly, reprehensible, and dastardly trick in the midst of our commemoration ceremonies. There are no communists in the United Mine Workers."

His remarks were loudly cheered. Lewis said later that the union would ask police to investigate the incident.

No Action on Resolution.

The 2,000 delegates took no immediate action on the third term resolutions which were offered by representatives of locals in Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, Alabama, Wyoming, and Maryland. It was expected the resolutions would inspire some heated debates but that there was little likelihood of any being adopted, in view of Lewis' stringent control over the convention.

Among about 1,800 resolutions submitted before the jubilee session opened was one offered by the Crows Nest, Pa., local, advocating peace between Lewis and William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Several resolutions were offered opposing use of the union's funds for political campaigns.

ONE GADGET INSTEAD OF DOZEN TELLS ALL PILOT NEEDS TO KNOW

New York, Jan. 25 (AP).—Aeronautical engineers have invented an instrument, simpler in appearance than the face of a clock, which tells a pilot all he needs to know about where and how he is flying in even the thickest weather. It is called the "flightray" and a product of the Sperry Gyroscope company, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Basically it is nothing more than the end of a cathode ray tube such as used in television sets with three lines and a circle on it instead of television pictures. The lines tell the direction the airplane is pointed, whether it is in level flight, whether it is maintaining proper speed, and whether it is at the flight altitude selected. When the lines move the plane is deviating from a true course.

The circle is used for blind landings. When a tiny plane painted on the end of the tube is centered in the circle the pilot knows he is on a chain of radio signals which will bring his wheels to the surface of an airport in blinding snow, rain or fog. That's how it works. Telling why it works is another matter which only engineers can understand.

$4,000 A WEEK FOR GABLE FOR 7 YEARS; NO IFS

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 25 (AP).—Clark Gable signed a new contract today that will pay him almost $1,500,000.

His new salary of $4,000 a week was reported to represent a $1,000 a week raise.

The M-G-M studio said the contract was unusual in that it is for a straight seven years without options, runs for 52 weeks a year instead of the usual 40, but permits the actor time off during October, November, and December—the hunting season.

Gable will be required to appear in at least three pictures annually with a fourth probable.

Five Maidens Tell Story of Doctor's Love

Austin, Tex., Jan. 25 (AP).—Five young women today accused elderly Dr. W. J. Johnson, head of Texas' largest hospital for the insane, of having acted improperly toward them.

The witnesses, all former nurses at the San Antonio institution, testified at a board of control investigation into charges by the San Antonio Ministers' association that the hospital's superintendent was morally unfit for the position.

Wife Hears Testimony.

Dr. Johnson, tall, thin, his bald head fringed by white hair, sat at counsel table and smoked cigarets. His wife sat nearby. Thru his attorney the doctor described the charges as "false and slanderous." Previously he claimed there war a conspiracy to oust him.

Miss Ruby Benton, an attractive brunette, told the three man board that she was forced to permit Johnson to kiss her to get her job. In the course of her employment he fondled and petted her, she added, explaining she resigned because "I was tired of being annoyed by him."

Mrs. Bertha Williams, testifying the doctor had inquired of her knowledge of love matters when he interviewed her on her application for a job, said she quit "after one or two days because I saw I'd have to put up with Dr. Johnson's familiarities if I remained there."

Witness Is 'Ashamed.'

Mrs. L. S. Moore, another witness, said Dr. Johnson asked her whether "I ever had intimate relations with men. I said I didn't. I'm ashamed of those conversations I had with the doctor."

Mrs. Adella Cooper testified that Dr. Johnson had "petted me" on one occasion; that he had said "some nasty things" to her and that in her presence he had urged other women to indulge in intimacies with him.

Miss Ras Stockton said she was transferred to night duty after she had displayed coldness toward Dr. Johnson's frequent discussions of love topics.

What He Told Her.

"Did he tell you," asked Claude Williams, assistant secretary of state, "that if a girl did not engage in improprieties she would be missing one of the most beautiful things in life?"

"Yes, in effect," Miss Stockton replied.

She testified that after she had informed Dr. Johnson she "didn't play that way," he told her, "If you ever change your mind, let me know."

"But I always said 'no,'" the witness added.

U. S. MINISTER ADVISES ALL TO LEAVE FOR HOME

BULLETIN.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan. 26, Friday (AP).—The Swedish foreign office press department said early today that American Minister Frederick A. Sterling has advised Americans to leave Sweden because of "German troop concentrations" in north Germany across the narrow arm of the Baltic sea from Sweden. The minister could not be reached immediately for an explanation.

[In Washington, D. C., state department officials said they knew of no warning by the minister to Sweden.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Jan. 25 (AP).—Relentless assaults by Red armies all day and all night across blood stained snows and frozen lakes were reported tonight by Finnish military authorities to have failed utterly in the Russians' do or die attempt to relieve two soviet divisions trapped and harassed from every side. Hundreds of Red army troops were left dead on the battle fields northeast of Lake Ladoga, terse official reports said.

In a tremendous all day battle in the stubbornly contested Alttajoki sector the Russians attacked incessantly. But, the Finns reported, all of their attacks were thrown back with "heavy" Red army losses.

In the evening the Russians launched an attack on the nearby Kollaanjoki sector. The Reds spent all night sending wave after wave of troops against the Finnish lines. The Kollaanjoki assault was smashed at dawn today with several hundred Russians left dead on the field and three tanks destroyed.

Asiatic Troops Fail.

Even the Reds' reported use of fighters imported from the Asiatic soviet snow lands, in the hope of achieving a great victory by Feb. 23, the 22d anniversary of the establishment of the Red army, failed to crack the Finnish defenses.

Nor did these furious attacks on the northeastern flank of the Mannerheim line bring help to the two Red divisions marooned near Kitela. These forces are cut off almost entirely from supplies and communication with their main armies. The impression grew in Helsingfors that Finnish strategists are on the verge of another great victory such as those which brought destruction to two Russian divisions on the Lake Kianta and Suomussalmi fronts.

At two points in far northern Finland and also on the Karelian isthmus the Finns said the Russians had equally bad luck.

Renew Northern Attacks.

An army communique said Finnish positions at Markajarvi, on the Salla front above the Arctic circle and 50 miles from the soviet border, were assaulted but held fast. A Red army force of 40,000 men, abandoning a drive intended to cut Finland in two, retreated to Markajarvi some days ago, where it was forced to fight a bitter rear-guard battle. Now apparently this force has launched a counterattack.

Far to the north, in the deadly cold of Petsamo, Finland's northernmost tip, two Russian attacks met no success and the Russians lost two more tanks, the Finns said.

"Big Bertha" Shells Viipuri.

"They did no damage," said Finnish official reports.

Snowy weather prevented air activity over Finland yesterday "except for minor raids" on Kuusamo and the Aland Islands, on the sea route to Sweden across the Gulf of Bothnia.

Reds Mass Fresh Troops.

OSLO, Norway, Jan. 25 (AP).—The Norwegian radio said today that soviet Russian troops were being concentrated in the Petsamo area of northern Finland and that it might indicate preparations for new action on the arctic front.

The Russian Communique.

"Jan. 25, nothing of importance took place at the front."

One Submarine a Day

BERLIN, Jan. 25 (AP).—An excellently informed source tonight said Germany's submarine construction program had reached the stage of one built every day. This source said the first group of submarines built under this high pressure program had been completed. Officers and crews will need about four weeks' practice before going on regular duty, he asserted, and thereafter submarine warfare will be increased "by leaps and bounds."

LONDON, Jan. 25 (AP).—Neutral shipping, which brings in a substantial portion of the supplies which feed the British, suffered another black day today with the disclosure of the loss of six vessels.

One of the ships was sunk today, while the other five were losses of previous days announced only today. Norway was the heaviest loser, contributing three ships to the grim toll. Sweden lost two boats, while one Finnish vessel was lost.

The new victims of the sea warfare were:

BIARRITZ—A 1,752 ton Norwegian steamer which sank early today after an explosion believed due to one and possibly two mines. Twelve of her 24 passengers and 28 members of the crew of 35 lost their lives in the North sea disaster. Those saved were picked up by the Norwegian steamer Borgholm.

ONTA—A 1,333 ton Finnish vessel which struck a mine Tuesday in the North sea. Her crew of 18 was saved.

PATRIA—A 1,188 ton Swedish steamer which sank Saturday in the North sea after hitting a mine. Four survivors of the crew of 21 reached a Swedish port today on a Finnish steamer.

GOTHIA—A Swedish steamer of 1,640 tons, which sank several days ago after an explosion. Eleven sailors who reached a Scottish island said three of her crew were killed and 10 were missing.

MIRANDA—A 1,328 ton Norwegian steamer which went down off the British coast. Fourteen members of her crew are missing.

The admiralty lowered to 68 the number missing in the sinking of the destroyer Grenville. In its original announcement Sunday the admiralty said 73 were missing and eight were known dead in the loss of the warship.

Report Plane Carriers Launched.

Reports that Germany has launched several new airplane carriers were circulated widely here today. British aviation circles speculated on the possibility the vessels might be used as bases for intensified attacks on merchant shipping.

British aviation experts, however, expressed belief the carriers would have difficulty in obtaining supplies to sustain operations on the high seas even should they succeed in slipping past British naval and air patrols in the North sea.

Naval Ship in Distress.

GENOA, Italy, Jan. 25 (AP).—Shipping circles this afternoon heard that French warships had reached the French auxiliary naval vessel Forfait, 622 tons, which had messaged she was in distress in the Mediterranean near where the Italian liner Orazio burned Sunday.

CANADA CALLS NATIONAL POLL ON WAR POLICY

Ministry Seeks Vote of Confidence.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 25 (AP).—Under continuing attack for alleged failure to push Canada's share of the empire war effort, the government of W. L. Mackenzie King decided suddenly today to call a quick general election and proclaimed the dissolution of parliament at the end of a one day session.

W. L. Mackenzie King.

Parliament was dissolved at 7:07 p. m., a few hours after the election decision was announced in the traditional speech from the throne. The date for the election will be set shortly. Mackenzie King indicated it should be over before the end of March, one reason being the possibility of heavy fighting on the western front by spring.

Point of Greatest Stress.

The premier laid the greatest stress however, on efforts of his political opponents to "create distrust of our patriotic effort."

"As I was prepared to trust the people to decide on the question of peace or war, so I am prepared to trust the people to decide what government is to carry on the war," he told the legislators.

No sooner had the prime minister spoken than Dr. R. J. Manion, the Conservative leader, renewed the attack on the government's war activities.

"The government has handled the war effort in a most disgraceful manner," said Dr. Manion. "It should have been prepared years ago for a war which had appeared inevitable."

Lack of Equipment.

Dr. Manion charged the government had called up one division without clothes, boots, or equipment and that one British Columbia unit had crossed the nation in winter wearing cotton uniforms and underwear. Many of the men wound up in the hospital, Manion added.

Dr. Manion also charged it was "unscrupulous politics" to call parliament together only to announce an election and try for a "snap decision" from the people.

The dissolution, coming as it did four hours after the 18th parliament had opened its sixth session, was without precedent in Canadian history.

Signs Dissolution Order.

Lord Tweedsmuir, the governor general, signed the dissolution order. Mackenzie King minced no words in blaming his position on "political opponents who are seeking to undermine every effort that is put forward by this administration."

The premier said his opponents, including Provincial Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario and Conservative leaders, already had started the campaign and that the Conservative slogan was "King must go."

"I am quite prepared to accept that challenge and go to the people," he said.

Citing the resolution which Hepburn propelled thru the Ontario provincial legislature last week condemning "so little" war effort by the dominion government, Mackenzie King declared:

"I believe the people approve both of the manner in which the government has undertaken its duties and the way in which it has discharged them."

Series of Attacks by Hepburn.

Hepburn, a Liberal like Mackenzie King but a bitter political critic of the dominion premier, has conducted a series of attacks on the dominion government's alleged inefficiency in equipping Canadian troops and in making Canada an effective arsenal for the empire.

Last Friday Hepburn put his legislature on record as condemning the Mackenzie King government by a vote of 44 to 10, after threatening to resign if the resolution failed of passage.

Mackenzie King's Liberal government, sworn in Oct. 23, 1935, would expire this autumn anyway. A winter election, however, is almost unprecedented.

The speech from the throne was read in the senate chamber by Lord Tweedsmuir. It said government ministers had decided that effective prosecution of the war required "a direct and unquestioned mandate from the people" and therefore they were making "an immediate appeal to the country."

A subsequent announcement said that the second division of Canada's overseas force would sail "as soon as possible."

Mackenzie King explained that the advanced date for the election would permit the second division to vote before leaving Canada and the first division, now undergoing training in England, to cast its ballots before going on to France.

Lack of Unity in House.

"This government intends, if it is returned to power, to see that the first division is reinforced from week to week and month to month but it intends also to see that the second division is sent overseas as soon as may be possible," the prime minister asserted.

He told the house that he had hoped to hold a regular parliamentary session to pass essential legislation and hold the election. Lack of unity, he indicated, exploded this possibility.

In fact, Mackenzie King went on, that had been his intention until adoption of the Hepburn resolution which he said was directed at the dominion government "in no uncertain terms."

Conscious of Responsibility.

Since the start of the war he said he and the other ministers had devoted all their energies to the prosecution of the war.

"We are conscious of the responsibility that is ours," he declared. Continuing, he said, "I do not think it is advisable that we should wait until June for a general election. One important question is what may happen on the western front in the early spring. If we can have an election before the heavy fighting takes place then, in the public interest, that should be done."

Canadian Election Law.

Canadian law provides for an election within seven weeks after it is called by parliament allowing two or three days of grace.

The present dominion parliament was composed as follows in September, 1938: Liberals, 178; Conservatives, 36; Social Credit, 17; Coöperative Commonwealth Federation, 6; Independent, 2; Reconstruction party, 1; United Farmers of Ontario-Labor, 1; vacant, 4. Total, 245.

FRENCH TIGHTEN CURBS ON FREE SPEECH, PRESS

PARIS, Jan. 25 (AP).—Wartime restrictions tightened today around free speech and the press in France. The government announced a new decree which provides sentences up to two years and fines up to 5,000 francs [about $110] for "false assertions which, presented as personal opinions, correspond in reality to the keynote of enemy propaganda and which, expressed publicly, indicate the marked intention of their authors to injure national defense by attacking the morale of the army and population." The government said speakers and writers whose works "are of the nature to favor enemy enterprises" would be prosecuted.

Finnish Financiers Sail to Seek American Arms

BERGEN, Norway, Jan. 25 (AP).—A delegation of Finnish financiers and military experts sailed for America today aboard the steamer Bergenfjord to seek a loan and American planes and arms. Also aboard were the Finnish athletes, Paavo Nurmi and Taisto Maki who are scheduled to participate in track exhibitions to help raise funds for Finland.

HOLLAND KEEPS ANXIOUS EYE ON DUTCH 'FUEHRER'

Nazi Leader Gives Neutral Nation a Headache.

THE HAGUE, the Netherlands, Jan. 25 (AP).—Mild mannered Anton Mussert, civil engineer turned Nazi, is providing the Netherlands one of its most delicate problems in its zealous efforts to avoid charges of favoritism in the European war.

Anton Mussert. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

This fuehrer of the Dutch Nationalist Socialist party is little known outside the Netherlands. Until a few years ago he was unknown here except in engineering circles. Now the government keeps an anxious eye on his every move.

To Dutch Nazis, whose organization he formed in 1931, he is "de leider." As an engineer for the state he built a large part of the canal between Amsterdam and the Rhine—a part of the Netherlands' main water defense system—but he lost his job when he fathered his party and since then has devoted his entire time to politics.

Tries to Keep in Background.

Mussert, 45 years old, is a genial, hearty fellow with ruddy face and greying hair. He seldom is serious and stern and tries to keep in the background—in striking contrast to Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini, whose totalitarian principles he propounds.

From the day of his party's formation he has insisted that it was a purely Dutch movement connected in no way with any other Nazi or Fascist organization.

Since the war started, however, the Dutch Nazis have become much more active. Both their daily and weekly newspapers—Nationale Dagblad and Volk en Vaderland—have openly supported Germany.

Privately, Mussert confesses great admiration for Hitler and Mussolini—associates say Il Duce is his favorite—but that is all he has to say about totalitarian moves abroad. He has met both Hitler and Mussolini.

50,000 to 100,000 Members.

The question often is heard: How strong is the Nazi movement in Holland? But it is difficult to answer accurately for there are believed to be many secret members.

Most estimates place the membership at between 50,000 and 100,000. The party has four seats out of 100 in the second chamber of parliament and four in the first chamber.

Despite this small membership the Dutch Nazis have commanded considerable attention by the noise they make, especially their outspoken views and military activities.

On one occasion Prime Minister Derek Jan de Geer appealed to them to coöperate with the government; at another time he threatened to impose martial law thruout the country if they continued to publish what he called unneutral statements.

During recent parliamentary budget debates members of all parties, Catholic, Socialist, and Christian, in the second chamber attacked utterances and activities of the Nazis. Several articles were quoted as showing they were spreading propaganda for a greater Germany which would embrace the Netherlands.

TWO NEUTRALS STAND FIRM

Resentment against the proposal of Winston Churchill, British first lord of the admiralty, that Europe's small neutrals enter the war against Germany was still alive in the Netherlands and Belgium yesterday. Here is how the two countries reacted:

THE HAGUE, the Netherlands, Jan. 25 (AP).—Belligerent nations were told bluntly by Foreign Minister Eelco Van Kleffens today that the Netherlands gives no heed to "siren voices trying to involve us directly or indirectly in war."

A unanimous vote of confidence was given the foreign minister by the first chamber of parliament. The vote followed a speech in which he reiterated the nation's determination to defend her neutrality, insisted upon respect of her sovereign rights and refused to be swayed by threats or appeals from belligerents.

Rejects Churchill's Thesis.

Without naming Winston Churchill, British first lord of the admiralty, Van Kleffens rejected the contention which Churchill made in a radio speech Saturday that neutrals were under both juridical and moral obligations as league of nations members to join England and France.

German criticism that by league membership the Netherlands was siding with the empires also was waved aside by the foreign minister.

Tho expressing hope for development of the league as a universal body of sovereign nations, Van Kleffens warned that membership in a league of one sided political character would be impossible in the long run.

Relies on Promises.

He said the Netherlands relied on promises by the belligerents against violation of her neutrality and on the belief that no world power, for geographical reasons, could permit Netherlands territory in Europe and Asia to fall into other hands.

"If others need our help to find an approach to each other, we are willing," he said in a peace gesture.

He added that the Netherlands does not wish to see central and western Europe "go down in poverty and bolshevism."

He asked if the time had not come for "an intelligent arrangement of European affairs."

Van Kleffens said that "whoever takes up arms against us will be opposed by our arms." He praised Belgium's neutrality attitude and said the two low countries are "open to the same dangers" and must have a joint watchfulness, altho he said "military consultation beforehand is not possible in view of our own special policy."

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Jan. 25.—Confidently expressing the opinion that Belgium can keep out of the war, Premier Hubert Pierlot today before parliament and in private negotiation put the finishing touches on two programs toward that end.

One program calls for an internal loan by which it is hoped to raise 8 billion francs [about $270,800,000] to cover mobilization and other defense costs for a year. Treasury notes are being printed in series drawing from 2.40 to 3 per cent interest depending on whether payments are due in 4, 8, or 12 months.

The other program provides for an increase in coal production. Increased exports of coal will yield Belgium more gold or foreign exchange.

Appeals to Patriotism.

Premier Pierlot in an address to parliament appealed to the patriotism of all Belgians.

"Belgium has only one chance to preserve its peace and liberty and that is to keep a well equipped, well fed, and strong army at the front," he said. "Therefore it is necessary for the country to pay for the mobilization."

This appeal was directed particularly to capital and labor to induce them to submit to the sacrifices that the war has imposed not only on belligerents, but also the small neutrals, which have been squeezed from both sides by the economic blockade and fears of invasion.

Pierlot reached a compromise agreement with the miners in the government's campaign to increase the production of coal. The miners agreed to work a full eight hour shift. They will receive extra pay and will assume part of the cost of social insurance.

Plan to Reopen Mines.

Mines, which were closed because operation was impossible in normal times, are to be reopened because of urgent demands for fuel. The government will pay for the cost of opening the mines. No benefits will be paid mine owners outside of small interest on investments until charges are amortized. The agreement is to last for the duration of the war.

In Holland, Belgium, and Luxemburg there is a fear that last Saturday's speech of Winston Churchill, British first lord of the admiralty, tho disavowed officially, had a deep significance. Churchill in his talk said neutrals were under obligation to join England and France.

Deputy Leon Degrelle's newspaper, Le Pays Reel, today said the empires are planning to demand that all countries "coöperate in the economic blockade against Germany or submit to the blockade against Germany."

Belgian and Dutch officials have indicated that either policy would be disastrous to the economic life of the countries. Belgian newspapers have declared that Belgium never will furnish shock troops for either side.

BRITAIN REJECTS AMERICAN AND JAP PROTESTS

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Viscount Halifax, British foreign minister, has drafted notes rejecting two protests, one from the United States and the other from Japan, it was disclosed today.

The note to the United States was in answer to the state department's protest against the British decision to seize German exports. It is understood Halifax's reply explains that Britain felt bound to seize German exports in retaliation against the German war on shipping.

The note to Japan, answering Tokio's protest against the seizure of 21 German seamen from the Asama Maru, says that these seamen were expert technicians who undoubtedly would have been drafted in the German navy for submarine duty.

Belgium Seizes 3 Members of Fascist Party as Spies

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Jan. 25 (AP).—Three members of the Fascistic Rexist party were arrested today at Charleroi on spying charges. They were Jean Perot, chief of the Heste Rexists and a frequent visitor to Germany; Joseph Desmedt, and Emile De Lattre.

ITALY STARVING FOR COAL AS WAR CHOKES IMPORTS

Germany Able to Supply Little of Vital Need.

ROME, Jan. 25.—Dr. Karl Clodius, German trade expert, arrived here today for important talks which some observers think may change the basis of Italo-German war trade.

Italy is chiefly concerned about the diminished shipments of German coal. Because Italy needs enormous imports of coal she will have to import coal from England, Belgium, and Holland if she cannot get it from Germany.

Of Italy's total coal imports, between 12,000,000 and 13,000,000 tons, 10,000,000 tons used to come by sea from Hamburg, Stettin, and Gdynia. Ships from those ports cannot get thru the empires' blockade now, and to send coal by rail from Germany to Italy is uneconomical and taxes the reich's overworked railway system. Experts estimate that at best Germany can only supply half the amount she formerly did.

Deal Made with Britain.

In 1938 Italy got 2,200,000 tons from Britain and recently made an additional agreement for Welsh coal, but this is short of her needs.

Yesterday Premier Mussolini ordered lignite production increased to 2,500,000 tons for 1940. In addition, imported coal and coke no longer can be used for heating houses.

Even so, Italy is going to be in bad shape for coal. Her domestic production was 2,353,000 tons in 1938, and probably close to 2,500,000 tons in 1939, but that means coal, anthracite and lignite together, lignite being about one-third of the total.

The chief trouble is that the inferior Italian coal cannot be used in the important industries. A London economist recently estimated that, altho the domestic output amounts to 12 per cent of the total required, only 2 or 3 per cent is suitable for important industrial purposes.

Hopes to "Modify Treaty."

Dr. Clodius, therefore, has something vital to talk about. The German embassy here says he hopes to "modify the existing trade treaty in accordance with the needs which have arisen since the war started."

Germany has found the war is making it impossible for her to meet some of her export quotas to Italy, while she wants different things from Italy than had been agreed upon. Ordinarily, Germany exports to Italy coal, iron, machinery, optical and chemical products, while Italy exports to Germany fruit, vegetables, rice, hemp, rayon, wine and sulphur.

There are reports that the Rumanian oil situation is playing a part in Dr. Clodius' visit, since he comes fresh from his discussions in Bucharest. Some say he will bid for Italian support in his efforts to corner a large part of the Rumanian oil exports for Germany by promising Italy a larger share. In 1938, Italy imported 522,872 tons of crude and lubricating oils from Rumania.

German Plan to Get Supplies from the Orient Is Reported

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—Germany today was reported to be planning an attempt to evade the British blockade by shipping rubber and tin from the Dutch East Indies over the Russian Trans-Siberian railway.

This is believed to be the chief reason the reich is building up credit in Amsterdam. When the war started the reich owed the Dutch 40,000,000 guilders [about $21,244,000] for goods sold to Germany. This debt has been repaid and in its place there is a balance of several millions in Germany's favor which can pay for purchases from the Dutch.

Germany built up the balance in Amsterdam by restricted purchasing in Holland and at the same time is continuing to sell Holland all the goods possible.

Vegetable Scarcity Explained.

The scarcity of fresh vegetables here is attributed to the policy of cutting down Dutch imports. Vegetables, butter, cheese, and eggs were shipped to Germany in vast quantities in previous years, but have been lacking since the war started. The British blockade further reduced imports from Holland.

Altho there has been no official announcement of the reich's plan to ship thru Russia from the Dutch colonies, it is reported in bank circles that the Nazis hope to transport rubber and tin from the Dutch islands to Vladivostok for transfer to the Trans-Siberian railroad. It is estimated it will require five to six weeks for the shipments to reach Germany. Coffee, tea, cocoa, and tobacco also may be brought to the reich the same way.

Altho the Dutch colonies produce petroleum, the Russians are believed to have insufficient tank cars to spare any for the long haul across Siberia. Some authorities here consider that the war in Finland will reduce the number of Russian trains available for German shipments from the far east.

Tighter Blockade Likely.

The British blockade in the far east is likely to be intensified if German goods begin moving to Vladivostok. The British are reported to have taken a soviet steamer bound for Vladivostok into Singapore 10 days ago for a contraband search.

Meanwhile, the Nazis have taken steps to avoid a shortage of farm workers which might threaten next year's food supply. The ministry of agriculture today announced that 1,000,000 farm hands will be transferred from Poland to Germany. About 2,000,000 reichsmarks [normally about $800,000] were spent last year on farm machinery, trucks, and tractors in an effort to increase production, the ministry said.

GANDHI ON 1 DAY FAST AS TEST OF FREEDOM DRIVE

BOMBAY, India, Jan. 25 (AP).—Mohandas K. Gandhi today began a brief personal fast on the eve of Independence day demonstrations intended as a barometer of India's temper.

Refraining from food for 24 hours, beginning at 12:30 p. m. today, the little leader of the powerful Congress [Nationalist] party took precautions against any premature country-wide action by the masses.

He issued a stringent manifesto that Jan. 26 "would serve as an index of discipline among Congress party members and those millions who hitherto have answered the Congress call."

BAR ALL ARTICLES TO BELLIGERENTS IN U. S. AIR MAILS

Officials Act After British Postal Seizures.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—Trans-Atlantic air mails were closed to articles or materials destined to belligerent nations today as officials here studied British charges that millions of dollars and tons of food intended for Nazi Germany were found in United States mails.

The postoffice department issued the order that no articles or materials shall be accepted in the air mails for dispatch by trans-Atlantic air service to belligerents or to neutral countries whose mails pass thru belligerent nations.

Since inauguration of the transoceanic service there has been only one class of mail and that paid for at the rate of 30 cents a half ounce. Persons willing to pay at this price could send almost anything they wished.

The effect of the order issued today will limit the contents of trans-Atlantic air mail pouches to written matter. Any matter copyrighted, such as motion picture films, also is excepted.

It was said that the order is in line with the state department's interpretation of the neutrality act. The state department is engaged in a verbal war with the British government over search and seizure of American mails.

In support of its contention that it has the right to examine American mail in the face of guarantees in international law of the sanctity of neutral mail, the British ministry of economic welfare made public a report in London on an analysis of 25,000 items of mail seized en route from North and South America to Europe.

Scoff at British Claims.

Officials scoffed at claims reich money orders in the mail totaled about $2,500,000 and American dollar money orders $500,000 and that in addition there were considerable shipments of dollars and other money of the American republics.

It was said here that any one desiring to send sizeable sums to Germany would undoubtedly choose to do so by wireless. The Lloyd Hapag line agents announced early in the conflict that money could be sent to Germany by radio.

The company also accepts wireless orders for food shipments to Germany. Delivery is made by arrangement with Germany's neutral neighbors. The food, largely dairy products, comes from Holland, Denmark, and other neighboring nations.

Shipment is made through the Fortra corporation, which has offices in the Lloyd Hapag steamship offices in New York City.

Air Mail Costs Compared.

Two types of packages are offered, one costing $8.50 delivered, containing four pounds of butter, three pounds of cheese, a pound of evaporated milk, a half pound of coffee, and a half pound of cocoa. The other, costing $6.70, contains four pounds of butter, two pounds of cheese, and a pound of powdered milk.

Trans-Atlantic air mail on the equivalent in weight of the first package would cost about $86.40 and on the second $76.80. For this reason officials here doubt that any food has found its way into Germany via air mail from the western hemisphere.

It was learned here that some 30,000 food packages have already been delivered since Nov. 1 by the Fortra corporation, which has 16 branch offices thruout the country. One is located in Chicago.

Because the British report on the postal seizures was not addressed officially to this government, but released to newspaper men in London, state department officials are not planning to make an official answer to it.

The line said an official investigation of the fire that swept the South America bound liner Sunday in the western Mediterranean showed it was due entirely "to a mechanical accident to the left motor."

Officials ruled out the possibility of negligence or sabotage.

END DEUTSCHLAND MYSTERY

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—The mystery surrounding the whereabouts of the German pocket battleship Deutschland was lifted today. The admiralty announced that the vessel had pierced the British blockade and had returned to home waters "some time ago and now was ready for new tasks."

The Deutschland, it was added, had been "raiding in the Atlantic since the outbreak of the war, harassing British sea communications and depleting enemy tonnage."

Name Changed to Luetzow.

The admiralty announced that by order of Adolf Hitler the Deutschland had been rechristened the Luetzow, after the German free corps leader who fought against the French in the Napoleonic wars. The cruiser Luetzow, which is nearing completion in Bremen—the fifth 10,000 ton cruiser of the German navy—will receive another name. The name Deutschland, it was explained, will be reserved for a "larger warship."

It was believed that one of the new super battleships Germany is reported to have under construction will be christened the Deutschland. These ships, it was said, will carry much larger armament than the two 35,000 ton battleships Tirpitz and Bismarck, which are nearing completion in the Wilhelmshaven naval yards.

Said to Have Aided Bremen.

The Deutschland returned to home waters via the north Atlantic and the North sea. Thus it had to break thru the ring of blockading British warships, which German naval circles lauded as a daring achievement. Since no list was published of merchant ships sunk by the Deutschland, there is no possibility of determining the warship's loot.

Survivors of the Rawalpindi, the 17,000 ton British auxiliary cruiser which was sunk by a German warship off Iceland, believe they were shelled by the 11 inch guns of the Deutschland. Other reports said that the Deutschland convoyed the liner Bremen from Murmansk, Russia, to German waters. The Deutschland was a sister ship of the Admiral Graf Spee, which was destroyed by her own commander following her battle with three British cruisers off Uruguay last Dec. 13.

GERMAN U-BOAT SUNK BY FRENCH PATROL VESSELS

PARIS, Jan. 25 (AP).—The French command tonight announced French naval patrol ships had sunk a German submarine. The communique said, "Quiet day on the whole. Some artillery action. The German freighter Albert Janus, 1,600 tons, was scuttled on being intercepted by one of our patrol ships. A U-boat was successfully attacked by one of our patrol ships."

British Planes Shot Down.

BERLIN, Jan. 25 (AP).—A British scouting plane was shot down by a German fighter over Duisburg today. Duisburg is 10 miles from Essen, center of the Krupp munition works. The German communique said the air force had reconnaissance flights over France and Britain, but said there were "no special events in the west."

PREDICT U-BOAT RAIDS ON SHIPS IN AMERICAN WATER

Believe Three Submarines Prowl Near Trinidad.

New York, Jan. 25 (AP).—A German submarine thrust against British lifelines in the West Indies—within the Pan-American neutrality zone—was predicted tonight in reliable maritime quarters.

These sources said that three German U-boats, tendered by a German passenger liner, had run the British blockade, crossed the Atlantic and were now prowling in the vicinity of Port of Spain, Trinidad, a tourist resort in the British West Indies.

Area in which U-boat campaign is predicted.

A Lightning Blow.

The speedy tendership accompanying the German U-boats was described as a twin-screw 5,504 ton vessel owned by the German government and operated by the Hamburg-American line in peacetime. She is believed to be armed.

The plan, according to these observers, called for a lightning blow against the British and French ships carrying grain and other foods and fuel oil to England.

Trinidad is near the island of Aruba, location of a huge Standard Oil refinery off the Venezuelan coast, and near other vital oil ports and tourist pleasure spots. The Panama canal is near enough, too, so that shipping thru it might be affected.

Precedent Is Seen.

British and American authorities were reported as being fully aware of at least some details of the German project, and it was said that British warships have been trying strenuously to locate the undersea raiders.

Britain's refusal to recognize the 300 mile neutrality belt set up by the Americas was believed to have encouraged Germany to do likewise.

President Roosevelt proclaimed last October that warring undersea craft could not visit American ports or territorial waters except when unforeseen circumstances, such as storms, forced them to take shelter.

LAKE FORESTER NOW IN HELSINGFORS TO FLY IN FINNISH CAUSE

George R. Folds of Lake Forest was one of seven American aviators to arrive in Helsingfors, Finland, yesterday to aid the Finnish cause in the war with Russia, according to word received here. Folds, who is 35 years old, is the son of Charles Weston Folds, banker and industrialist, who died in 1928.

George R. Folds.

Folds had represented a soap company in Indianapolis, Ind., until last June when he left for France. When the war began he and a group of Americans organized an ambulance corps to serve the French army.

His sister, Mrs. Lithgow Mitchell, of 20 East Laurel avenue, Lake Forest, reported that she received word from him recently that he was leaving for Finland because there was not enough activity in the ambulance corps. Relatives here said they did not know that he is a licensed pilot. He is unmarried.

Norway Arrests German as Spy in 3 Ship Sinkings

NARVIK, Norway, Jan. 25 (AP).—Police today arrested a German believed to have supplied information leading to the torpedoing of at least three ships by German submarines. The prisoner, named Mueller, was charged with espionage. Police said he had confessed sending reports to German submarines regarding ship movements.

14 Devil's Island Fugitives Detained at Virgin Islands

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands, Jan. 25 (AP).—Fourteen escaped convicts from the French penal colony at Devil's Island, who arrived here yesterday in an open boat, were detained tonight while authorities awaited instructions from Washington. The fugitives said they left Trinidad Jan. 19 in an attempt to reach Mexico.

BERLIN DEMANDS MORE OIL FROM RUMANIAN WELLS

Matter of 'Life and Death,' Envoys Insist.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Jan. 25 (AP).—Germany on the one side and Great Britain and France on the other today appeared heading for a showdown in their battle over Rumania's vast petroleum resources. Nazi envoys were reported to have told the Rumanian government that it must supply more oil to the reich.

The German envoys were said by a high authority to have declared that an increased supply of Rumanian oil is "a matter of life and death," and that Germany would be compelled "to seek other methods" if Rumania fails to ship it of its own accord.

As this veiled threat was disclosed, the influential Turkish newspaper Republic predicted that the nations of the Danube and Balkan areas would go to war against Germany or Russia at the least sign of aggression by either in southeastern Europe.

Claim Support of World.

Republic's editorial, which appeared as Gen. Maxim Weygand, commander of French forces in the near east, arrived at Ankara for conferences with Turkish leaders, added:

"We know that not only will the western democracies [France and Britain] be with us, but also the entire world."

As tension increased German ministers from southeast European countries were summoned to Berlin for conferences. Johann Fabritius, German minister to Rumania, left for home Tuesday. He was followed by the German ministers to Hungary, Jugo-Slavia, Greece, and Bulgaria.

Between Two Fires.

The German demand for additional Rumanian oil caught the Bucharest government between two fires. Only two days ago France and Britain warned her against forcing British and French companies operating in the country to produce oil for shipment to Germany.

Because a great part of the oil industry is foreign owned—chiefly by Britain, France, and the United States—Rumanians say they can meet the German demands only by defying the British and French warning and levying quotas for Germany on the French and British companies.

Indications that neither side is disposed to yield in the controversy caused increasing fear in Rumania that the coming of spring will turn the country into a battlefield. Rumania's position already has been rendered difficult by Hungarian and Bulgarian demands for territorial revision at Rumanian expense, and by Russian claims to the province of Bessarabia.

Continue Military Preparations.

The government continued military preparations, establishing wheat, iron, and steel commissions in addition to the recently created petroleum commission, to assure that all the country's resources will be available in event of war. A general coördinating commission also was created.

The government is expected to make a strong effort at the meeting of the Balkan entente in Belgrade Feb. 2 to line up the solid support of her partners in an attempt to stave off the war threat. The other members of the entente are Turkey, Jugo-Slavia, and Greece.

Italians Back Germany.

ROME, Jan. 25 (AP).—Approval of Germany's negotiations with Rumania for oil and other supplies was expressed today in authoritative Italian circles. One responsible Italian said that Italy considered commercial negotiations for goods preferable to other more direct methods, such as occupation of the country involved.

The newspaper Il Messaggero said that Rumania was obliged to fulfill her commercial treaties with Germany and argued that a barter arrangement was preferable to any other for the Balkan countries. Barter, it said, assures them of manufactured goods in exchange for raw materials, whereas the blockade and other wartime restrictions make money useless in the world market.

German-Turkish Trade Deal.

BERLIN, Jan. 25 (AP).—Germany and Turkey were disclosed today to have agreed to liquidate 10,000,000 marks [about $4,000,000] worth of German goods stored chiefly in warehouses in Turkey. Turkey is to send food products to Germany in exchange for the goods, it was said, but full details of the agreement were not published.

The deal was understood to be supplementary to a broader agreement to replace a trade pact which expired last August. The ministry of commerce in Ankara announced yesterday that Turkey would sign the latter.

THE TEXAS OF EUROPE

Rumania is the Texas of Europe. Last year her rich oil fields produced more than 45½ million barrels of petroleum. The most important customer for this oil has been Germany, especially since the outbreak of war.

[A total of 475,814,000 barrels of oil was produced in Texas in 1938.]

Germany last March obtained assurance from the Rumanian government of an increased supply of petroleum products under a five year trade pact. During the first eight months of 1939 Rumanian oil flowed into Germany at an average rate of 4,500 metric tons a day [7.48 barrels to a metric ton]. This daily shipment represented about one-fourth of Rumania's oil exports.

Cut off from other oil fields by the British and French blockade, the reich has been forced to depend primarily on Rumanian oil to keep its war machine moving. The German quota of Rumania's oil exports has been increased.

Last December Germany induced Rumania to permit shipments of 190,000 tons of oil each month, or almost one-half of all the oil exported each month. Shipments recently, however, have been only about 80,000 tons a month because travel on the Danube river has been impeded or stopped entirely by ice and the cold has clogged pipe lines. Most of the oil movement has been by rail. The creation by the Rumanian government several days ago of a national petroleum commission to control the oil industry was interpreted by the British and French as a German inspired move to force foreign owned oil companies in Rumania to sell to Germany.

The British and French objected to any pressure upon French and British owned oil firms to furnish oil to Germany. Of the capital investment in the Rumanian oil industry about 36 per cent is owned by Anglo-Dutch firms, 16 per cent by French, and 10 per cent by American.

International Organizations.

Among the companies operating in Rumania many are subsidiaries of large international petroleum organizations, such as Royal Dutch company, Socony-Vacuum Oil company, and Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

The following table lists the major companies operating in Rumania in the order of their 1938 production [in metric tons] and the nationality of the capital invested in the enterprises:

Astra Romana, Dutch-British	1,453,992
Steaua Romana, British-French-Rumanian	738,090
Concordia, French-Belgium-Rumanian	864,021
Unirea, British	672,510
Romano-Americana, American	901,494
Creditul Minier, Rumanian	380,205
Colombia, French	384,476
Prahova, Italian	334,518
I. R. D. P., French-Rumanian	167,392
Petrelul Romanese, French-Rumanian	110,804
Foraky Romaneasea, Belgium	57,106
Dacia Starnaphtha, French	58,616
Redeventa, Rumanian-French	28,552
Romano-Belgina, French-British
Petrolifera Romona, Rumanian	45,107
Other companies	403,117

Rumanian oil production has slipped in recent years. Foreign oil companies operating in the country have attributed the decline to restrictive laws limiting land grants for prospecting and exploration.

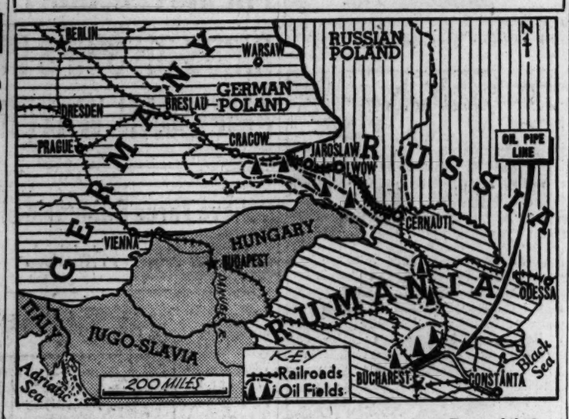

The following table compares Rumanian annual oil output [in metric tons] in the last 10 years:

1930	5,792,000	1935	8,394,000
1931	6,756,000	1936	8,701,000
1932	7,348,000	1937	7,150,000
1933	7,377,000	1938	6,600,000
1934	8,466,000	1939	6,100,000

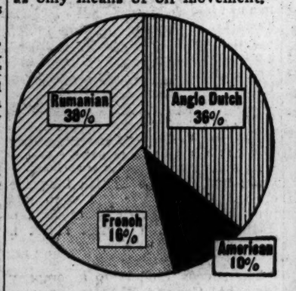

Under the terms of the German-Rumanian trade pact of March, 1939, it was expected that the declining oil production would be given a boost by the injection of German capital, technicians, and machinery into the industry. None of the present foreign companies operating in Rumania is controled by Germans. It was reported at the time the agreement was consummated that Germans would be permitted to spur the development of Rumania's petroleum reserves, estimated at 180 million metric tons.

Whether any of the German guidance became effective in 1939 has not been indicated, but production in the year dropped from 7 to 8 per cent from that of 1938, it was estimated.

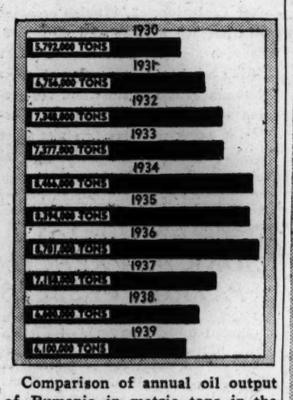

German-Rumanian Oil Problem

Since the outbreak of the war Germany has become Rumania's best customer for oil. Germany is now confronted with a transportation problem in obtaining the oil. The Danube has frozen over and the cold has affected the pipe line from Rumania to Germany, leaving the railroad as only means of oil movement.

How ownership of oil industry in Rumania is divided. The British and French have objected to pressure on their companies to send oil to Germany.

ARMY TO HELP PARIS GET COAL IN COLD CRISIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 25.—The end of the cold crisis appeared in sight tonight as the government acted to speed the shipment of coal and crude oil to Paris while the weather improved. Six members of the Paris municipal council visited Anatole de Monzie, minister of public works, who conferred with Premier Edouard Daladier. In agreement with army authorities, measures were taken to end the coal shortage. Altho no official announcement was made, this may mean army trucks and freight cars have been obtained to bring in coal which piled up in ports due to the freezing of the canals.

ENGLAND'S WAR BABY—RATIONS—HAS UPS, DOWNS

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Food rationing, now under way for two weeks, has had its ups and downs. In some places the machinery seems to be working well, at others it doesn't. Bacon, one of the rationed items, is freely sold in some districts, at others it is unobtainable. Paradoxically enough, you can only get some types of gammon if you are willing to purchase more than five pounds.

In theory, everything rationed is supposed to be sold on coupons torn from ration books. In practice, sales are not made on that basis everywhere. Rationing is more likely to affect the suburban housewives or those in the lower income brackets than those who buy in large quantities.

In restaurants so far in London the rationing has not made any appreciable difference. In places around Saint Paul's, in the Strand, or in Piccadilly I usually am offered the usual pat of butter and as much sugar as any one would want for coffee. Yet sugar and butter are the top items on the rationing list.

So far there is no question about showing any ration book coupons when you dine or lunch out.

It is reported that every week hundreds of London women apply to change the shop where they are registered for rations. Most requests are refused.

Here are a few excuses which are not usually regarded as reasonable. "Brown's butter is not as good as Smith's." The official answer is, "It's all pool butter now." Another reason for changing is, "The salesman was impolite."

Still other reasons for wanting to change are: "He won't give me credit," or "My cook registered for me while I was away and she didn't go to the grocer I wanted."

FAMOUS DIRECTIONS TO RELIEVE PAINFUL SYMPTOMS OF COLDS FAST

Note Easy Steps in Pictures ...Be Sure to get quick-acting BAYER Aspirin

1. To relieve headache, body discomfort and aches, take 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets and drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

2. For sore throat from cold, dissolve 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in ½ glass of water and gargle. Pain, rawness are eased in a short time.

3. Check temperature. If you have a fever and temperature does not go down—if throat pain is not quickly relieved, call your doctor.

Sore throat from colds also eased in a hurry! No strong medicines to upset system.

Don't wait if you even suspect you are catching a cold. At the first sign, faithfully follow the directions in the pictures above—the simplest and among the most effective methods known to modern science.

See Your Doctor. Even though he may wholeheartedly approve using Bayer Aspirin to relieve painful symptoms, you should not fail to see your family physician, because many colds may lead to serious consequences. Largely with medical approval, this simple scientific method of relief has taken the place of old-fashioned "shot-gun" medicine for colds, which may upset the system, or have little or no effect. Literally millions have adopted it.

Try this way. You will say it is unequalled, we are sure. When you buy, however, be sure you are not given a substitute for the fast-acting Bayer product you want. Ask for Bayer Aspirin by the full name, not for just "aspirin". And see that you get it.

Why Bayer Aspirin Starts to Work So Fast
Drop a genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablet in water. Almost instantly it starts to disintegrate—is ready to go to work. Make this test, and see for yourself why Bayer Aspirin acts so quickly!

JAPAN PREDICTS A STRAIN IN TIES WITH AMERICA

Fears Embargo as Trade Treaty Expires.

TOKIO, Jan. 26, Friday (AP).—Japan maintained outward calm today over expiration of the Japanese-American trade treaty of 1911. However, the nation harbored uneasiness over the fact that the United States is free to apply economic pressure on Tokio in behalf of American interests in China.

The calmness was due to a belief there would be no immediate change in Japanese-American trade relations, altho the foreign office said expiration of the 29 year old treaty would put general relations between Japan and America under strain.

Japan's major concern is whether the United States will move further to curtail shipments essential to prosecution of the Japanese war in China by legal or moral embargo.

Reports Plot to Slay Envoy.

Meanwhile, Lieut. Col. Jiro Saito, Japanese army spokesman at Shanghai, declared he had received information from Nanking of a Chinese plot against the life of Nelson T. Johnson, American ambassador to China. Johnson left Nanking yesterday on the American gunboat Luzon en route to Hankow.

Saito said he was informed the plotters planned to attack the gunboat with mines or artillery "in the hope of blaming the Japanese and this causing a crisis in Japanese-American relations simultaneously with the expiration of the Japanese-American trade treaty."

The trade treaty ends at midnight tonight in accordance with its denunciation by Washington, D. C., last July 26. Abrogation of the treaty, removing legal obstacles to a possible embargo against Japan, was effected, the American state department said, "with a view to better safeguarding and promoting American interests as new developments may reuire."

Deal for New Pact On.

The Japanese foreign office, in predicting last night that a strain in both general and trade relations would follow expiration of the treaty, said negotiations still were in progress for a new treaty or a less formal operating agreement—preferably the former.

[Japan's trade with the United States involves her vital supplies of war goods. During 1938, the last full year for which figures are available, the United States sold $239,620,000 worth of goods to Japan, while Japan sold $126,820,000 worth to the United States. Details on page 25.]

When America abrogated the pact, the statement said, the Japanese government sought to readjust relations "in view of the importance of the trade relations and because Japan's policy in the China affair is not aimed at eliminating the just and reasonable interests of third powers in China."

"On the contrary," it added, "it is firmly believed there are many fields of coöperation between Japan and third powers in creating a new east Asia. . . .

Seeks Normal Relations.

"It is confidently hoped that thru the negotiations that are being continued, relations will be restored to a normal state with a treaty basis."

Japan was informed by the American state department on Monday that future commercial relations between the United States and Japan would depend on Japan's attitude toward the rights of Americans in China. It was made plain there would be no stop-gap formal exchange of notes covering trade relations.

The Japanese news agency Domei, canvassing business opinion, reported that cotton spinning circles were the most optimistic over prospects of an indefinite continuance of the present trade conditions.

Vision Pressure on Congress.

Iron and oil traders were hopeful that the American Pacific coast, from where most of the scrap iron and 65 per cent of the oil come in the United States, would put pressure on congress to prevent a curtailment of shipments. Financiers believed there would be no direct adverse effect on the monetary and foreign exchange situation because American banks and traders already stringently restrict import trade financing.

While Japanese leaders studied the possible effects of the expiration of the trade treaty, Japan's diplomatic tangle with Great Britain over the Asama Maru incident reached a new tenseness. The press sharply attacked Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, the British ambassador, for giving newspapers an outline of the British position before formally replying to the Japanese protest.

The attack on the ambassador was only one phase of the friction over the incident, in which a British warship removed 21 German passengers from the Japanese liner near Yokohama.

Calls Statement Insulting.

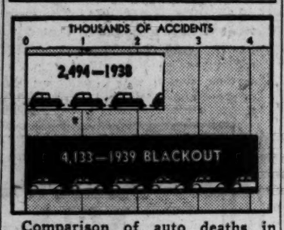

An admiralty spokesman said Japan had been outraged by the incident and that "the navy is making preparations to prevent such incidents in the future."

Of the Craigie incident, the newspaper Asahi quoted the foreign office spokesman, Yakichiro Suma, as telling Japanese newspaper men, "It is arrogant, base, and insulting."

Craigie's statement said that Britain was entirely within international law in stopping the trans-Pacific liner.

He contended the Japanese navy had established a precedent for the action in boarding the British passenger liner Ranpura in May of last year only four miles off Hongkong, and that Japan herself recognizes the right to search, having "boarded British ships on more than 191 occasions" during the Japanese-Chinese war.

Blackout Auto Toll

Comparison of auto deaths in Britain for the last four months of 1938 and the same period in 1939. Blackouts began with outbreak of war.

LONDON, Jan. 25 (AP).—Because blackouts have nearly doubled traffic fatalities and curtailed night-time activities, Britain will go on summer time Feb. 25, two months earlier than usual. The country will have been on standard time little more than three months.

Home Secretary Sir John Anderson said the decision to advance the clocks an hour was reached after consulting the French government. France also will adopt summer time on Feb. 25.

In the last four months of 1939 there were 4,133 fatal traffic accidents in Great Britain. For the corresponding period of 1938, before the introduction of blackouts, there were 2,494.

NAVY CAN BUILD 82 SHIPS AFTER 200 MILLION CUT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25 (AP).—Admiral S. M. Robinson, chief of the navy bureau of engineering, said today 82 new combatant ships could be laid down during the next two years even tho the proposed fleet expansion was cut 200 million dollars. He told the house naval committee that the 82 vessels would include replacement of over-age combatant craft, ships already provided for the 1941 budget, and 21 fighting ships.

Robinson gave the figures on the reduced program at the request of Chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.], who first had proposed a 1,300 million dollar six-year program, providing a 25 per cent increase in the navy's tonnage, or 77 combatant ships and 31 auxiliaries. Vinson later reduced his proposal by 500 millions to which a second 200 million reduction would be added, if the committee approved.

The program, if thus reduced, Robinson said, would provide 372 millions for combatant ships and approximately 200 millions for auxiliaries.

Sings 'Beer Barrel Polka' and Gets His Throat Cut

CUT ROOSEVELT BUDGET DEMAND BY $33,550,000

Senate O.K.'s 252 Million for National Defense.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25 (AP).—Three important appropriations bills, shaved $33,550,000 below President Roosevelt's budget estimates, made progress today thru a congress which appeared to be in an economy mood.

The house passed a $1,032,154,612 measure for the treasury and post-office departments, thereby stamping its approval on a cut of $11,491,000 recommended by its appropriations committee. The bill now goes to the senate.

The chamber also approved and sent to the senate a $58,502,600 urgent deficiency bill, pared down $1,882,400 in committee. No amendments were offered from the floor to either measures.

Senate Uses Knife.

Acting almost simultaneously, the senate stamped approval on a $251,822,588 emergency defense appropriation, which was $20,176,935 less than the President asked. This bill must return to the house for further action because the senate voted for a $12,788,664 reduction in it, in addition to $7,388,271 trimmed off in the house.

An informed member of the house appropriations committee predicted that the senate cuts in the emergency bill—which would finance the neutrality patrol and other defense precautions—would be approved in substance by the house.

House for Maneuvers.

This informant said there probably would be a house attempt to restore at least a part of the $3,000,000 cut from an army fund for maneuvers this spring in the south. The army asked for $18,000,000 for four months training for two streamlined army corps, and the house approved in full. Otherwise, this informant said, he knew of no changes the house would wish to make.

The smallest of all the measures, the urgent deficiency appropriation, would provide $29,000,000 for armor plate, guns, and ammunition for new naval vessels under construction and $29,300,000 for the bureau of internal revenue, plus $202,600 for the use of the house.

Wang Denies Agreement on Jap Peace Terms for China

TSINGTAO, China, Jan. 25.—Former Premier Wang Ching-Wei, who has been slated to head a Japanese sponsored government in China, today denied that the sensational "peace terms" recently published in Hongkong are those he has agreed upon with Japanese representatives. Wang insisted that the Hongkong documents were merely tentative proposals first advanced on Nov. 5 and later largely amended.

LUTHERANS FEAR PERIL IN LINKING STATE TO CHURCH

Assail Appointment of Envoy to Vatican.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The national Lutheran council, representing eight Lutheran branches with 7,000 local churches, yesterday condemned President Roosevelt's appointment of Myron C. Taylor as his representative at the Vatican and his naming of Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy as official representative at the coronation of Pope Pius XII.

The council, closing its 22d annual meeting in the La Salle hotel, acted on the report of a committee which had studied state participation in religious matters.

Resolution of Protests.

The following resolution was made public:

"The national Lutheran council is unalterably opposed to the establishment by the United States of official diplomatic relations with the Vatican. The actions of President Roosevelt in sending Ambassador Kennedy as his official and personal representative to the coronation of Pope Pius XII. and in appointing Mr. Taylor as his official and personal envoy to the pope must be regarded with deep concern.

"To us they are steps in the direction of a permanent relationship. We hold them to be in violation of the best American tradition and contrary to the fundamental principle of church and state."

In response to the cabled appeal of Archbishop Erkki Kaila, head of the Lutheran church of Finland, the council set up machinery for the collection of a half million dollar relief fund, approved on Wednesday, principally for Finnish church relief. The council authorized Archbishop Kaila to administer the Finnish fund.

Drive Opens Feb. 11.

The Rev. Dr. O. C. Mees of Canton, O., was named by the council to head the drive which will begin with a day of prayer in the 7,000 churches on Sunday, Feb. 11. There will be no solicitation, it was announced, and no quotas established for the council's constituents. Four million Lutherans will be urged to make war relief offerings in their churches on Feb. 18 and 25.

Problems concerning thousands of Lutheran refugees from Germany occupied the council's attention. More than 90 per cent of these refugees were deprived of their professional status in Germany. The council, under the leadership of the Rev. Dr. C. E. Krumbholz of New York, will endeavor to settle most of the refugees in western districts of the country instead of permitting them to congregate in New York.

PRISONER OF WAR: IT'S A COLD LIFE IN FRENCH CAMPS

Germans Huddle at Fires; Two Blankets Each.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES, Jan. 25.—Life in a French camp for war prisoners was revealed today in a visit to such quarters behind the lines.

At one camp officers exclusively occupy a building in which each has a room, or a cell, if you prefer. They get the same food as French officers and half the pay of the French rank corresponding to theirs.

Noncommissioned officers and privates were in a shed of an abandoned factory from which the machinery had been removed. They were huddled about two stoves which were almost red hot and the quarters struck me as being about the same sort, altho possibly a little less uncomfortable than American soldiers had at the camp at St. Nazaire, France, during the winter of 1917-'18.

Coal Supply Increased.

The commander told me he was doing his best to protect these Germans from the rigors of this winter, which is unusually severe. He is allowed 35 kilograms [77 pounds] of coal a day for the prisoners' stoves, but has succeeded in providing 100 kilograms [220 pounds] during the bitter cold wave.

Each man has two blankets and a cot. Some team up, put their cots close together, and share their coverings, each man thus getting four thicknesses of blanket. The only disadvantage of this is that the two soldiers become as closely welded for the night as Siamese twins if the blankets are narrow.

Each day some of these prisoners work on detail, which the French call "corvee." Some help to arrange the camp for the day when it may have at least 1,000 prisoners and others work in a town under guard. The rest play cards, read or write, or just look into space.

Cold Wave Special: Hot Wine.

I came thru the turnstile into their barracks as a big event was happening. Two prisoners came from the kitchen with a steaming kettle and the men crowded around to get a ration of one-quarter liter [about a half pint] of hot wine. This is a special ration that will last as long as the weather remains severe. The prisoners normally get regular rations of French soldiers, including three-quarters of a liter of wine a day. No canteens [camp stores] have been provided for them, but they may order little luxuries and get them, these being charged to their accounts. The prisoners are paid the same as French soldiers of corresponding ranks.

The commander told me the prisoners have been well behaved. Some were sure all other countries were in bad shape and that a German victory was inevitable.

One officer, I was told, is embarrassed because of the circumstances of his capture. Soon after arriving at the front he boasted he would show his troops how to do patrol work properly. He was sent on patrol, got far ahead of his force, and was captured. His men escaped.

Fannie May has many stores but No Storage!
★ WILLIAM H. KEOUGH, conductor on the Chicago Surface Lines, tells of his visit to Fannie May Kitchens . . .
"As I knew there were Fannie May Stores all over Chicago and suburbs, I was not surprised at seeing so much and so many kinds of candy being made in the Fannie May Kitchens. But I was amazed at the complete lack of candy stored! Then I learned that each day Fannie May makes only as much candy as the public will want immediately! No wonder Fannie May Candy is always so deliciously fresh!"

THROUGH TIME'S TELESCOPE (3)

By CALEB

SOME DAY, another Gone with the Wind will be written around the burly, brawling, catch-as-catch-can Chicago of the 1840's, 50's and 60's. And when it is, a saga of toils, dreams, conflicts with brute Nature, grim adventure and blithe invincibility, will emerge such as only the most romantic realist could depict. It is all waiting—in the dusty research-bins of those Gargantuan yesterdays.

Here was primitiveness-plus—animated by a pushing, persistent progressiveness. New Year's of 1848 saw completion of the first municipal building—a two-story affair of brick and stone, costing $11,000, fronting 40 feet on Randolph from State, and running another 180 feet toward Lake. Called the Market Building, it occupied the site where stood, a half-century later, the magnificent Capitol Building, Chicago's skyscraper masterpiece of Columbian Exposition days, which recently was demolished.

This long-vanished Market Building was memorable for two things. It housed the City Council, along with the City Clerk's office; and was also the home of the Public Library, ultimately destined to open its own building on Michigan Avenue, Oct. 11, 1897.

Especially would such a novel as we have suggested emphasize the terrific tempo of population-increase registered during those virile years. Where the figure of 1847 was 16,859, by 1855 it had soared to 80,000—a 400 per cent gain! And in the next fifteen years, it would gain still another 400 per cent! . . . Why? Because in those years, young giants of industry, construction, civic promotion, merchandising, were invading this crossroads of destiny—and forging the events of leadership narrated in our series, Builders of Chicago. Always are great men the secret of a great metropolis.

Naturally, the pages of such a chronicle would glimmer, too, with many lesser episodes both memorable and amusing. Such as iron hitching-rings scattered up and down State Street in the 60's—gay midwinter skating carnivals, rivaling those on the Scheldt, in Holland—horse-races with cutters, driven merrily over the river-ice by society's "Four Hundred"—prairies deep-banked with blizzards—Spring freshets sweeping vessels from their moorings into the open lake. Also, moving unnoted amid all these, would be the quiet figure of an energetic young retailer, Marshall Field, hard at work laying the busy foundation of his eventual fame.

PICKETS' 6 YEAR VIGIL IN FRONT OF HOTEL ENDED

Longest Strike in City's Labor History Settled.

The longest strike in Chicago's labor history, which cost the unions involved almost $300,000, ended yesterday when pickets were withdrawn from the Edgewater Beach hotel. Nearly six years of constant picketing, day and night, in front of the hotel was stopped by the joint union-hotel announcement that the strike was amicably settled.

The settlement came after a series of conferences Wednesday night and early yesterday. It was announced: "The strike has been settled to every one's satisfaction. Picketing has ceased." Negotiations looking toward a wage contract, however, are continuing.

"Eyesore Is Removed."

Taking part in the conferences were William J. Dewey, managing director of the hotel; Abraham Teitelbaum, attorney for the Chicago Restaurant association; Louis Romano, president of the local crafts council of the Miscellaneous Hotel and Restaurant Employés' association, and representatives of the electrical workers' union.

"The pickets were an eyesore in front of the well known hotel," said Attorney Teitelbaum. "The eyesore has been removed.

"Everything has been settled amicably," said Romano. "Both sides are satisfied."

Originally local 134 of the electrical workers' union called a strike in January, 1934, asking for a monthly wage increase of $28. On April 19 of the same year unions representing the bartenders, bus boys, cooks, and waiters walked out. It was announced then that the secondary strike was called both as a sympathy measure for the electricians and to obtain better working conditions.

Union's Claim Disputed.

The hotel management disputed the union claim that 125 employés had ceased work. Instead, said hotel executives, only 27 workers walked out on orders of professional organizers.

From that day until yesterday the parade of pickets was a familiar sight to bus passengers passing the Sheridan road side of the hotel. In pairs and singly they strode back and forth, in fair weather and foul. Eighteen pickets, supervised by two picket captains, worked six shifts of four hours each.

On Aug. 14, 1934, a bomb was exploded in the doorway of a first floor printing shop of the hotel. It injured three persons, two of them pickets. Policemen from the state's attorney's office raided the headquarters of the hotel workers' unions and seized records, but nothing ever resulted from further investigation.

Wage Contract Signed.

On Tuesday a two year wage contract was signed by the Miscellaneous Hotel Workers' union, local 593, and the Chicago Residential Hotel association. Representatives who took part in settling the Edgewater Beach hotel strike said there was no connection between the two developments.

The contract signed by local 593 specified that all grievances must be submitted to arbitration, which would be final and binding. No sympathy strike can be called to aid any other union unless the hotel has refused to submit to arbitration in the other dispute and two full work weeks have passed since the refusal.

CHARGES TRICKS WITH FIGURES BY NLRB HEAD

Cleveland, O., Jan. 25 (AP).—The president of the National Association of Manufacturers today accused Chairman J. Warren Madden of the National Labor Relations board of resorting "to tricks with figures that would have brought a business man up before the Securities and Exchange commission."

H. W. Prentis Jr. made the statement in a reply presented before the United Christian council for democracy. Madden told the conference Tuesday that immediate improvement resulted in labor relations after the Wagner act became effective in 1937, and cited a decline in sitdown strikes.

"Men do not strike as readily when business is bad," said Prentis. "Mr. Madden misused this simple economic truth to make a point when the fact is that the number of strikes in 1938 was greater than in any year since 1920.

"Industry does not oppose collective bargaining. What it has opposed, does oppose, and will continue to oppose is 'crooked' unions and their racketeering leaders, biased labor boards, and one-sided hearings."

FLYING PALS WIN PILOT'S RELEASE IN DIVORCE CASE

Marvin J. Griggs, an air line pilot, was ordered released from the county jail yesterday by Judge Rudolph F. Desort after two of his flying buddies, Lee H. Williams and Theodore E. Jonson, assured the court he would not leave the state. Griggs, who lives at the Del Prado hotel, 5307 Hyde Park boulevard, is being sued for divorce by Mrs. Lorine Collier Griggs, 25 years old, stewardess on a Northwest Airlines run out of Seattle, Wash. Griggs has filed a cross-bill for annulment. At a hearing Tuesday he said he planned to join the Royal Flying corps in Canada. Judge Desort then put him under $2,000 bond to prevent his departure, and the pilot went to jail when he could not post the bond.

A. F. of L. Head Assails NLRB

Terms Members Unfit for Service.

change would provide for a five man board and another would eliminate the long delays in decisions. He also suggested depriving the board of the power to deny to workers the right of self-determination in the choice of bargaining agents. Fourthly, he advised an amendment to permit a direct review in the Circuit Court of Appeals in representation cases.

Green cited the "extraordinary delay" in the Electric Vacuum Cleaner company case which began on April 22, 1937, almost three years ago, and which has not yet been ended. On Dec. 22, 1939, 33 months after the petition was filed, the board voided the exclusive bargaining rights of the A. F. of L. and reserved decision on a new petition to determine the unit.

Termed Vicious Trickery.

"There's discrimination of the most reprehensible character," Green said.

In the Consumers Power company case, Green continued, the board caused delays which were "deliberately indulged in to permit the C. I. O. to continue a campaign of vicious propaganda against the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers [A. F. of L.]." In the American-France Line case, he declared, an election was held to determine the bargaining unit. But after the election was held, the C. I. O. union intervened with a complaint and the board ruled the ballots should not be counted.

"We think this was vicious trickery," commented Green.

Numerous other cases were outlined by Green to support his contention that the labor board had campaigned to destroy A. F. of L. unions. Discussing the qualifications of the three board members, he declared:

"I have disqualified all of them long ago as fair and impartial. They are out the window so far as I am concerned, every one of them, and I think you will recall that the senate of the United States believed the same when it made clearly known to the administration that it would refuse to confirm the reappointment of Donald Wakefield Smith. These men would have no more chance of being confirmed by the senate now."

Opposes Madden for Bench.

Apparently referring to reports that the board chairman, J. Warren Madden, is to be "eased out" of his position by receiving an appointment to a federal court from President Roosevelt, Attorney Toland inquired:

"What would you say to the appointment of any member of the board to a judicial position?"

"I think they have disqualified themselves to serve in any judicial position," answered Green.

"Have the delays in the decisions of the board caused strikes?" Green was asked.

"In some instances they have," was the answer. "By pursuing this policy of delay and trickery, the objective of the act has been nullified because it was designed to promote peace in the labor world."

NO SONG OF HATE FOR ROOSEVELT, GREEN DECLARES

New York, Jan. 25 (AP).—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said tonight labor had made the greatest progress in history during the last seven years and added that the A. F. of L. had not formed a "royal order of ingrates."

Apparently referring to John L. Lewis' criticism of the Democratic party and President Roosevelt, Green said, without mentioning the C. I. O. leader, that the A. F. of L. had not "sung a song of hate" against the Roosevelt administration.

Green said the A. F. of L. had "endeavored to further the practicalities of life and to shape its course within the realms of possibility. That is the reason we have succeeded. That is why we do not sing a song of hate.

"Thru the support of our political friends, the workers have made more progress along legislative lines during the last seven years than we ever did in the history of the world."

APPEAL RULING ON DU PAGE PIN GAME SEIZURES

A petition was filed with the state Supreme court in Springfield yesterday asking that court to overrule County Judge Edgar F. Thoma of Du Page county, who held recently that the seizure of pinball machines in eight Westmont taverns last June was illegal. Judge Thoma had granted a defense motion to suppress the evidence on the ground that the pinball machines were seized without search warrants.

The petition to the high court was filed by Attorney General John E. Cassidy and State's Attorney Russell W. Keeney of Du Page county. It asserted that raiding officers did not need search warrants because the machines were not concealed.

"It was never intended," the petition said, "that inferior courts, under the guise of protecting constitutional rights, could hamstring law enforcement officials."

FINED IN ASSAULT ON WOMAN.

Tom Papas, 5457 Belmont avenue, a house painter, was fined $100 yesterday by Judge LeRoy Hackett in Shakespeare avenue court on a charge of assault brought by Mrs. Louise Banner, who lives at his home. He was sent to the Bridewell to work out the fine.

WAR ON CUT RATE DAIRIES PLEDGED BY MILK DRIVERS

Offer to Cut Pay to Save Jobs from Competition.

Union milk wagon drivers voted a willingness last night to accept a drastic pay cut in a move openly designed to smother competition in Chicago from cut rate dairies.

This action was taken at a meeting in Temple hall, 336 South Marshfield avenue, attended by 500 drivers and the newly elected officers of the union. Henry Weber, new president, presided.

Speakers said that cut rate competition from several dairies which distribute their product thru stores on a cash and carry basis had thrown hundreds of union drivers out of work. They said that to restore these drivers to jobs and to prevent further unemployment in union ranks the drivers and the big dairies employing union men should arrive at some workable plan to put the cut rate companies out of business.

Slim Operating Margin Cited.

The cut rate dairies, it was declared, are operating on a slim margin of ¾ cent a quart. At that rate, it was asserted, the big dairies and union employés by coöperating might push the cut rates below a successful operating line.

Various methods of attaining such a goal were discussed and that brought up the question of wages. Several drivers shouted they would "work for nothing" to suppress cut rate competition. Others said they would work for $10 or $20 a week.

The salary of union drivers is now $48 a week, but union officials said few of them net that much because hundreds of drivers are selling for less than the standard scale to keep customers from going to cut rate stores or agencies. Recently the union drivers voted down a demand that they accept a pay reduction to $35 a week. Their contract runs to May 1.

Vote Parley with Employers.

The drivers voted to authorize their leaders to meet within 48 hours with company representatives to formulate a workable plan whereby the drivers would accept a pay cut provided the companies coöperate to the desired end—more jobs. Peter Hoban, recording secretary, emphasized, however, that the companies must coöperate to the degree the drivers do.

"We would then be willing, if necessary," he said, "to lend even financial support."

Another spokesman said the drivers will do all possible to win the union's battle with the cut rate dairies. It is their hope, he said, by eliminating competition to rebuild their routes.

James Kennedy, vice president, proposed that the companies extend the selling of half gallon and gallon containers of milk. In that way, he said, sales would be increased and more jobs safeguarded.

MICHIGAN IS URGED TO OPPOSE SEAWAY AND HULL'S TREATIES

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 25 [Special].—Michigan county supervisors in annual convention here today, were advised to oppose the St. Lawrence waterway and Secretary Cordell Hull's reciprocal trade treaties. Both projects were said by Melville B. McPherson of Lowell, chairman of the association's executive committee, to be inimical to Michigan rural interests.

McPherson, Republican state tax commission chairman, introduced Gilbert R. Johnson of Cleveland, O., representing the Lake Carriers association, who addressed a luncheon session on the St. Lawrence waterway issue.

Johnson charged that elimination of the natural barrier between the middle west and the seaboard, to which he attributed the building of a largely self-sufficient industrial area, would result in irreparable damage to the Great Lakes region. He said agriculture, particularly, would suffer thru the lowering of freight costs, permitting easy entry of cheap foreign products.

Britain to Register 250,000 Young Men for Army Duty

LONDON, Jan. 25 (AP).—The government today announced that 250,000 men aged 20 thru 23 years would be registered on Feb. 17 for military service, which was considered likely to start about the middle of March.

LYONS ASSAILS DEMOCRATS FOR ABUSING POWER

Widespread Evils Lashed in W-G-N Speech.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Richard J. Lyons, Republican candidate for governor, last night made the opening radio speech of his primary campaign a broadside attack on Democratic misrule in national, state and local governments.

In a fifteen minute talk over W-G-N he assailed the New Deal program as founded on economic error, criticized the extravagance of the Horner administration, and condemned corruption in both state and local governments.

Promises a Program.

Lyons described his opening address as merely an outline of the big issues between Republicans and Democrats. He said that during his campaign he would take up the separate issues and would submit a constructive program "for the restoration of sound, economical, honest and efficient state government and for the curtailment of expenditures in all its branches."

"Today we see the New Deal administrators," he said in discussing the national situation, "still floundering in a program of conflicts and contradictions with numerous opposing forces in their own ranks.

"Their entire program is based on economic error. Price fixing, curtailment of production, processing taxes and regulatory edicts have hindered recovery. They do not seem to realize that employment cannot be increased by discouraging and hounding private enterprise and by frightening private investment, that public confidence cannot be restored in government with continued deficits, unlimited borrowing and excessive spending."

Attacks State Costs.

Lyons charged that the cost of state government has almost doubled under Gov. Horner, that pay roll padding has been proved and that the padding has been done for political purposes.

"We have experienced more corruption in state and local governments under Democratic rule in the last seven years," he continued, "than in the entire previous history of Illinois.

"Confessed criminal are occupying positions of trust. Campaign assessments are brazenly and illegally levied against civil service employés. All this accounts for the heavy taxation under which our people are laboring.

"We must lighten the local and state tax burdens by abolishing all useless and overlapping agencies and by legislation enabling the simplification of local government.

Asks Purging of Courts.

"The administration of penal and parole laws and of public institutions must be removed from corrupt, political domination and placed in honest and capable hands. Courts must be purged of the vicious and corrupt element that has undermined confidence in the administration of justice."

The increased interest in the election of 12 judges of the Municipal court, aroused by recent scandals in the court, was believed reflected in an increasing number of Republican entries for these posts. One of them was Charles F. McKinley, who served 15 years on this bench with the approval of the Chicago Bar association. Another who was announced was Samuel A. Hoffman, a Republican nominee in 1936.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt Is Decorated by China

New York, Jan. 25 (AP).—Col. Theodore Roosevelt today received in recognition of his services to the people of China the Grand Cordon Bleu of the Order of the Jade. The decoration is the highest honor the Chinese government may bestow on a foreigner. Col. Roosevelt is national chairman of the United Council for Civilian Relief in China. The award was presented by Ambassador Hu Shih.

In Marriage Tangle

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

GOLDIE LONG BOWLES.

Mrs. Goldie Long Bowles, 26 years old, 1844 East 79th street, has a suit for separate maintenance pending against Joseph C. Bowles, 47, a railroad engineer. Yesterday she appeared before Judge Rudolph Desort seeking a temporary support order. Bowles' attorney, Paul R. Simon, argued the couple were not married and that the suit should be dismissed.

Mrs. Bowles said she entered into a common law marriage with the engineer in Gary, Ind., in 1934 and charged Bowles deserted her last Dec. 27.

"They were residents of Illinois," said Attorney Simon, "and couldn't legally avail themselves of Indiana's common law marriage statute, which since has been voided." Mrs. Bowles' attorney, Edward Gorenstein, said Bowles told hundreds of people they were married, introduced her as his wife, and bought her a wedding ring.

Mrs. Bowles shied tearfully from Judge Desort's proposal that the couple be married in a regular ceremony. She then consented to accept a settlement of cash and insurance policies. Attorneys will work out details which will end the litigation.

DIES COMMITTEE GETS $75,000 TO CARRY ON WORK

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25 (AP).—The house voted $75,000 to the Dies' committee today to carry on its investigation of un-American activities. The committee was ordered continued until Jan. 3, 1941, under a resolution approved by the house Tuesday, 345 to 21.

The money was provided in another resolution, offered by Chairman Lindsay C. Warren [D., N. C.] of the accounts' committee. The money measure was approved without debate. The committee, which went out of existence temporarily on Jan. 3, does not have to be reappointed, Speaker Bankhead told his press conference.

Across town, Secretary Ickes commented that Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] should resign, to restore public confidence in the conduct of the committee.

Mrs. Christine J. McDonald and Detroit PostmasterWed

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 25 [Special].—Mrs. Christine J. McDonald of Ann Arbor and Roscoe B. Huston, Detroit postmaster, were married here this afternoon at a church ceremony attended by a few close friends. Mrs. McDonald is vice chairman of the Democratic state central committee. She has served on the state unemployment, child health and welfare, liquor control, and hospital commissions under appointment from three governors. She is the widow of James H. McDonald, Detroit attorney, who died in 1934. Huston was an attorney here and later in Detroit. He was named postmaster there in 1933.

G .O. P. CHAIRMEN DECIDE AGAINST SLATE MAKING

All Is Harmony—on the Surface at Least.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 25.—Harmony prevailed at today's meeting of the Illinois Republican County Chairmen's association, with the result that neither the backers of Dwight H. Green nor the forces of Richard J. Lyons sought an indorsement for their respective gubernatorial candidates.

This program was finally agreed upon an hour or so before noon when representatives of both sides approved the wording of a resolution later unanimously adopted by teh association.

The preamble of this document cited the spirit and intent of the primary law as to give the voters free reign in the selection of candidates, and continued:

"Therefore be it resolved that the Illinois Republican County Chairmen's association refrain from officially indorsing any candidate or candidates for any office in the coming April primary, with implicit confidence that the Republican voters will wisely and conscientiously choose capable and outstanding candidates to carry the Republican banner in the November election.

"Be it further resolved that each and every member of this association will enthusiastically and wholeheartedly support all Republican nominees in the November election to insure victory in our state and nation."

Indorsement Sought by Some.

A few of the Green supporters came to the pre-meeting conferences last night determined to seek an indorsement of the Chicago candidate either by open or secret balloting. Lyons' field generals, who are also backing Wayland Brooks of Chicago for United States senator, opposed any indorsement, and the same position was taken by the major Green leaders.

This joint counsel eventually prevailed, emissaries exchanged visits, the resolution was drawn and approved, and when Charles A. O'Connor of Kane county tapped his president's gavel at the luncheon, the short program was quickly adopted.

To frame the picture of harmony it was further arranged that each side should have a hand in presenting the resolution. Accordingly it was introduced by a Lyons man, Chairman C. Frank Daly of McHenry county, and seconded by a Green man, Chairman A. F. Schupp of Will county. There was no debate.

This amiable surface failed, however, to conceal the strong undercurrents for and against slate making. Proponents and opponents were found in each camp.

Tax Burden Perils American Government, Searcy Warns

In two downtown speeches yesterday State Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield asserted that taxation in America had reached the saturation point and was threatening the existence of traditional constitutional government.

Senator Searcy.

"Taxes," he said, "are taking 25 per cent of the national income. Many governments in the past have found that the limit people would stand—and they learned it just before they went overboard."

The senator's first address was delivered to the Hamilton club at a luncheon in the Hotel La Salle. The second was before a forum last night sponsored by the Chicago Association of Commerce and held in the Brevoort hotel. Searcy is a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Searcy told the association group that the per capita debt of the federal government was $350, and that Cook county alone would have to give up half its real estate [on the basis of assessed valuation] to clear away its share.

"Government must be taught to live within its legitimate income," he said. "Government is nothing but the aggregate of all American families. There must be drastic retrenchment and economy."

He added that government costs in the last 23 years had gone up 900 per cent while the population had increased only 30 per cent.

In the noonday speech the senator asserted that the Republicans would have to fight a Democratic 1940 "war chest" of half a billion dollars. The figure, he said, represented all federal and state appropriations spent in Illinois during 1939 and 1940; he declared that Democratic office holders were distributing these great resources with the object of keeping themselves in office.

'If business interests are against the New Deal," he said, "and want Roosevelt and his spendthrift officials replaced by men sworn to economy, let them pitch in and help us."

Nominate 2 Grand Rapids Candidates for Congress

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 25 (AP).—Two Grand Rapids men, Bartel J. Jonkman, a Republican, and William McCaslin, a Democrat, won the respective nominations for congressman from the 5th Michigan district in a special primary election today. The two topped a field of 13 candidates for the office made vacant by the death last December of Representative Carl E. Mapes, veteran Grand Rapids Republican. They will run in a special election Feb. 19.

Squad Car Patrolman Shot to Death by His Partner

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 25 (AP).—A fight between two patrolmen in a radio squad car today ended in the fatal shooting of Detective Von R. McClellan, 30 years old, former high school football star. His cruising partner, Sergt. Walter B. Smith, 39, was charged with manslaughter and jailed under $10,000 bond pending a police court hearing tomorrow. Detective Chief James E. Malone quoted Smith as saying he shot McClellan after the latter had called him a coward, put a pistol in his side, and said, "There's a way to make you fight." Chief Malone said Smith admitted the two officers had been drinking.

HORNER 3D TERM PETITIONS PUT IN CIRCULATION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 25.—Third term petitions for Gov. Horner were placed in circulation here today. Fifty thousand blanks—each containing spaces for 20 signatures—were sent out to all downstate county chairmen and precinct committeemen, as well as to P. A. Nash, Cook county chairman, and all the country township committeemen in Cook county.

Chicago precinct captains were omitted from the petition list. The state house people explained that they expected the Democratic forces in the city to act as a unit—both Horner and Nash-Kelly leaders.

If all the petitions were to be returned signed, Horner would have 1,000,000 names supporting his candidacy. Actually he needs only 10,000 signatures to place his name on the April 9 primary ballot.

Only Personal Petitions Out.

It was emphasized at Horner's office that only his personal petitions were sent out. None was circulated by him for any other state candidates, despite the recent reports that the governor has a few personal candidates he would like to see nominated and elected.

This circumstance called attention to the governor's feud with his second in command, Lieut. Gov. John Stelle, who, some of the Horner leaders hope, will not be reslated. The answer from Stelle's office was that he would make three speeches within the next few days—speeches which one associates with a candidate seeking reelection, or to a higher post.

Stelle has repeatedly said that he will run either for governor or lieutenant governor in the primaries. His immediate itinerary as announced today takes him over considerable territory.

Some Horner adherents seem to take it for granted that Stelle will not be slated for his present post and when they speak of a successor, they mention several names, including State Chairman Hershey of Taylorville, and Congressman at large John C. Martin of Salem.

Stelle to Speak in Chicago.

Tonight Stelle addressed the Young Democrats of Franklin county at West Frankfort. Sunday he will go to Chicago to speak to the congregation of the Berean church [colored] at 52d and Dearborn streets. This meeting was arranged by the commander of the 8th infantry regiment, Illinois National Guard, Col. William J. Warfield, a Republican state representative.

On Tuesday Stelle will be the guest speaker at President Roosevelt's birthday dinner in the Presbyterian church at Carmi.

Stelle's office said that his addresses will not be political. "Rather," one of his assistants said, "he will stress the infinite benefits of being an American who can enjoy free speech, free press, and freedom of opportunity."

MIAMI BUSINESS WANTS FASTER TRAIN TO CHICAGO

Believe Profits Await Road That Speeds Service.

[This is the third in a series of stories comparing train service to Florida from Chicago and New York.]

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Miami business leaders assert that Miami-Chicago train service is much too slow and that the railroads which provide a really fast train will attract substantial revenues.

Mayor E. G. Sewell of Miami, a real estate man; John C. Hall, president of the Miami Chamber of Commerce, and Edward C. Romfh, president of the First National Bank of Miami, gave this view to a Tribune reporter who recently surveyed the service from Chicago and New York to Florida.

The present fastest train between Chicago and Miami takes 31 hours and 40 minutes. New York has de luxe trains that make the trip in 25 and 26¼ hours, altho Chicago is but little farther from Miami than New York.

"When the Seaboard Air Line started its streamlined train the Silver Meteor last year, connecting us with New York, I asked," said Sewell: " 'What are the railroads going to do about the Chicago service?' I have been asking that question since. We have seen more streamliners to New York, but none to Chicago.

Summer Service Bad.

"Service during the winter is slow enough, but during the months when the winter resort trains are not in use it is terrible. During the summer it takes about 40 hours to get to Chicago.

"The roads that offer a 26 or 27 hour train to Chicago will get lots of business. Miami continues to grow. Its own business interests are creating a travel to supplement the winter travel when about 2,000,000 northerners visit us.

"I know that there are lots of Miami people who would like to visit the northern lakes and resort regions during the summer and possibly a good many northerners may visit our seashore during the summer."

Want Faster Trains.

Hall said that Miami business men want a fast thru service between Miami and Chicago. He was especially critical of the slow service given during the summer.

"Altho vacationists will probably provide the bulk of the train travel," Hall said, "there is a growing commercial travel. This should increase as a result of the expected expansion of American trade with Latin American nations. Miami is at the starting point of air travel to South America. Already a number of Chicago companies have enterprises here and others are certain to follow."

Hall commented that in the summer a limited bus that travels 1,381 miles over the highways makes as good time as do the trains to Chicago which run over protected private right of ways.

Romfh said that all Miami business men want faster train service to Chicago. He said the railroads need something to stimulate more enterprise in developing faster service.

WISCONSIN ACTS TO MAKE PEACE WITH THE SOUTH

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 25 (AP).—A group of Wisconsin agricultural department officials today attended the southern governors' conference in an attempt to "remove or soften the differences of opinion between Wisconsin dairy interests and southern agriculturists."

Declaring there was no ill feeling among Wisconsin dairy men toward the south, Ammons said their chief complaint was against the manufacturers and merchandisers of oleomargarine, whose advertising and selling schemes tend to create confusion in the minds of consumers.

Move to End Dispute.

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 25 (AP).—The Mississippi senate moved today to end a commercial war between the south's cottonseed oil and the north's animal fat butter substitutes. A bill was introduced exempting cattle oleo stocks from Mississippi's rigid privilege tax on distributors of butter substitutes.

Hurt by Fall on Ice, Boy, 10, Dies of Bone Ailment

David Zuck, 10 years old, 4920 West 30th street, Cicero, died early today in the County hospital of osteomyelitis, a rare bone disease. The disease developed after he was bruised on the ice by a fall Jan. 9. Dr. Roger T. Vaughan, night superintendent of the hospital, said the disease germ probably had been present in the boy's system for some time, becoming active as a result of the bruise. Blood from a Lake Forest youth who had recovered from the malady was transfused in a vain effort to help the Zuck boy.

Also on the Super Chief were Tyrone Power and his wife, Annabella, both of the movies.

Sterling Holloway, tousled-headed, hollow voiced comedian of the movies, returned to Chicago yesterday, the scene of his first triumphs. Holloway, who recently blossomed forth as a radio crooner on programs from Hollywood, got his start in the entertainment business in Chicago as a song and dance man in the "Garrick Gayeties." Holloway, who starts an engagement at a loop theater today, will be interviewed on Quin Ryan's News commentary on W-G-N at 11:15 a. m. tomorrow.

Also in Chicago yesterday were Tyrone Power and his wife, Annabella, both of the movies. They were en route to New York.

DOCTORS WORK ON A FOUR DAY SYPHILIS CURE

Experimental progress in the development of a four day cure for syphilis was reported yesterday in the Journal of the American Medical association. The present syphilis treatment calls for 70 to 100 injections of an arsenical drug and bismuth over a period of 1½ to 2 years.

Under a new technique, with which four researchers at Mount Sinai hospital in New York are experimenting, the arsenical compound is added hourly to a dextrose solution flowing into the vein at the rate of 30 drops a minute. The treatment is given 10 to 15 hours daily for four or five days.

The technique, known as the drip method, has produced satisfactory clinical results in some cases and serious complications in others according to the Journal, and therefore is not yet ready for general use.

TEACHER 45 YEARS DIES.

Rochelle, Ill., Jan. 25 [Special].—Mrs. Emma Campbell Shoop, 76 years old, former Oregon, Ill., grade school teacher, died here last night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Isabelle Leonard, with whom she lived. She was a school teacher for 45 years and taught at Oregon for 27 years.

A LADY BOWLER FINDS A DIVORCE CASE NO SETUP

Judge Decides She's Able to Stand Twist of Wrist.

Mrs. Rose Klicman, 39 years old, was one of several dozen women whose divorce cases were heard yesterday. A number of elements conspired to make Mrs. Klicman's case the weightiest of all.

Mrs. Rose Klicman.

Among the items given heavy consideration by Judge George Fred Rush was Mrs. Klicman herself. He also viewed her athletic abilities closely. And he gave minute inspection to her husband, George.

Mrs. Klicman said she lives at 8501 West 39th street in Brookfield, where she runs a neighborhood store. She charged George with cruelty. One time when she was counting the silver in the till, she said, George twisted her arm.

Nobody Murmurs Sympathy.

No murmur of sympathy was heard in the courtroom.

On a couple of other occasions George pushed her and inflicted bruises, Mrs. Klicman said.

The spectators seemed unmoved.

Judge Rush looked again at Mrs. Klicman. She is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 196 pounds.

Judge Rush looked at Klicman. He's a truck driver by trade, but stands only 5 feet 5 and weighs 140 pounds with wrenches in his overalls.

And Mrs. Klicman's athletic prowess! The other night as a member of the Gillespie & Runkle team she bowled 224 and was crowned women's champion of Brookfield.

She uses a man's 16 pound ball.

"What's a Mere Twist?"

"What's a mere twist of the arm, or a push, to a lady bowling champion?" asked Klicman's attorney, J. H. Silver.

"What indeed?" said the judge. "She looks able to take care of herself. Divorce denied."

"A lady is a lady," insisted Mrs. Klicman's attorney, James Hogan, last night. "I'm going to appeal. An act of cruelty is an act of cruelty. I don't care if the woman is an Amazon or a midget—or if she bowls 224 or 114."

100 VOLUNTEERS OFFER BLOOD TO SICK POLICEMAN

At 9 a. m. yesterday the police teletype carried a call for volunteer blood donors to help Policeman Thomas P. Creely of the Summerdale station. He was seriously ill in Swedish Covenant hospital. Within an hour 100 policemen were at the hospital. Three were found to have the proper type of blood, and one of them, Sergt. Eugene McNally of the Summerdale station, gave an immediate transfusion. Drs. Raymond Elmer and Rex Anderson said last night that Creely's condition was still serious. Creely, a policeman for 18 years, lives at 4240 North Kedzie avenue with his wife and seven daughters.

SERRITELLA WINS CONTINUATION OF RACE NEWS WIRE

Judge Harry M. Fisher signed an order yesterday enjoining the Illinois Bell Telephone company from discontinuing service to the two racing news services operated by State Senator Daniel A. Serritella.

Daniel A. Serritella.

The temporary injunction will be in force until Judge Fisher completes a review of proceedings before the Illinois Commerce commission. The commission on Wednesday ordered the service cut off and refused Serritella's petition to reopen the case. Serritella then appealed to the Circuit court for a review of testimony at the commission hearings.

Judge Fisher first suggested that the telephone company agree to maintain a status quo until he could complete his review. The telephone attorney, Leslie Jones, said he had no authority to make such an agreement.

POLICE PUSH SEARCH FOR BOOKIE ACCUSED OF BRIBE IN JURY FIX

Police continued their search yesterday for a bookmaker who is reported to have left $100 in a south side saloon for James McNamara, one of the jurors involved in the 11th ward vote fraud jury fixing case. McNamara and two other jurors have admitted accepting bribes in the trial which resulted in the acquittal of Sam Orlando and Joseph Vinci, Democratic leaders in the 52d precinct of the ward.

The last name of the bookmaker sought is said to be Callahan. Edward J. Reynolds, saloonkeeper at 5428 Wentworth avenue, was reported to have told the grand jury Wednesday that the bookmaker left an envelope containing $100 in the saloon. A relative of McNamara claimed the envelope three days later, investigators said.

Meanwhile, state officials offered no explanation of the puzzling circumstances under which John Howe, another person involved in the jury fixing case, gained an appointment as a state highway policeman despite a criminal record. Howe is accused of trying to bribe a juror. Charges of four holdups in 1930 have been reinstated against him. He evaded trial at that time by commitment to a state insane asylum. He quickly escaped and was made a highway policeman in 1936.

CUT IN DIVE THRU WINDOW.

Charles Dacey, 22 years old, was cut on his face and hands yesterday when he tried to dive thru a window at the New City police station. Dacey, who lives at 4336 South Hermitage avenue, had been arrested for questioning about a stolen automobile.

MISS BRITAIN'S LOVE SONGS COME TRUE; SHE'LL WED

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Miss Marjorie Farrage's trip to America last year to sing as "Miss Britain" in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S Chicagoland Music Festival, has had a sequel in a wartime romance for the pretty Darlington soprano. Her engagement to Capt. R. A. Kinnear of the royal artillery, whom she met on her voyage home, was announced today.

Marjorie Farrage.

The first intimation of the romance was reported to the Daily Sketch, which coöperated with THE TRIBUNE in organizing the national contest here in which Marjorie won the honor of representing Britain at the songfest and the thrill of flying to America. She returned to England on the liner Manhattan four days before war was declared and has been working as an ambulance girl at the Darlington air raid precautions depot.

Kinnear is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Kinnear of Doncaster, Yorkshire. Marjorie, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farrage, is a principal of the Darlington Operatic society.

BOY, 13, CONFESSES STARTING SIX FIRES IN SCHOOL BUILDING

Ypsilanti, Mich., Jan. 25 [Special].—A 13 year old pupil confessed Thursday that he started six fires within a week that caused $6,500 damage to the Woodruff grade school and twice routed 350 children from the building. Sergt. Cyril J. Ray of the Ypsilanti police department, said that the only reason the boy would assign for setting the fires was: "I want to go to the reform school."

Several of the fires occurred behind apparently locked doors. The boy explained, Sergt. Ray said, that he stole a key to the auditorium in which the most damaging blaze was discovered, touched a match to a pile of crêpe paper costumes, then relocked the room and returned the key to the office of Principal Floyd L. Smith before the alarm was given.

Blood Donor Gives 901st Transfusion; Aim Is 1,000

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP).—Edward Howard, who a year ago said he wanted to give 1,000 blood transfusions before he died, started on the last 100 today. The professional strong man, who is 61 years old, let a surgeon's needle tap his veins for the 901st time to aid Mrs. Louise Simons. He does not charge for his blood.

The Abyssinian methods of crime detection and punishment have been almost unchanged through the centuries. For example, when a theft is committed the authorities can usually tell to which tribe the criminal belongs. Differences in clothing and even in the methods of stealing often make this possible. There is no attempt made to arrest the individual, but every member of his tribe is herded into a huge enclosure. There they stay for weeks if necessary, on a strict diet of bread and water, until the tribesmen themselves produce the culprit. "Usually the criminal confesses," says Captain White, who has spent many years in Abyssinia, "when he sees the hardships he is causing every member of his own tribe. But one way or another, the Abyssinians always get their man." Here's a fair trial you ought to make. Step up to any bar or into your favorite package store and order White Horse. Weigh all the evidence . . . its smooth taste, its distinctive character, its sterling quality. Study the record of White Horse, its centuries of world acclaim. You be the judge and the jury. If you are like millions of other good men and true, you will say, "My verdict is in favor of White Horse on every count."

Capt. Harold A. White, explorer and world traveler, relates his fascinating experiences in this White Horse series. Lovely flowers with their delicate fragrance, their very freshness and beauty bring sunshine and gladness wherever they go. But in the sick room they work magic in perking up a patient as nothing else can do. Choose flowers for your message of cheer and make someone happy who is not as fortunate as you.

A SUGGESTION TO THE THOUGHTFUL: The first day in a hospital is the darkest day of all. Send flowers immediately to a sick friend. They are treasured beyond words.

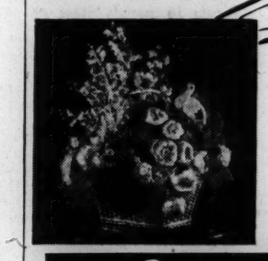

Flower 'Cheer' Suggestions:

A Semi-Weekly Fresh Flower Service
A few flowers sent frequently are invariably more appreciated than one large bouquet if a patient is confined very long. Simply arrange with your florist to send flowers twice weekly.

Flowers in an Attractive Vase
Ask your florist to send your gift of flowers in an attractive vase or bowl. It adds so much to the beauty of your gift and is a lasting remembrance of your thoughtfulness.

To a New-born Baby and His Mother
To delight the mother of a new born baby, send a lovely basket of flowers with a stork and a little bouquet of tiny roses for the baby. Your florist can suggest many novel arrangements.

CITY PROMISED LETUP TODAY IN NEAR ZERO COLD

Southern Illinois Peach Crop Wiped Out.

Temperatures near zero are expected in Chicago early today, but Forecaster C. A. Donnel said there would be a rise this afternoon to a maximum of about 18 degrees. Tomorrow is expected to be cloudy, with a possibility of snow.

Lake Michigan yesterday saved the city from extreme cold that prevailed over much of the middle west. Water warmed breezes swept in from the north and held the readings above zero. Donnel explained that the cold air mass from the northwest is moving slowly and absorbing a little heat as it proceeds, and that this will account for the higher maximum today.

Fruits and Vegetables Hit.

The long continued cold spell has caused severe damage to fruit and vegetables in many sections. Experts for the University of Illinois said that virtually all the peach buds in southern Illinois, which normally has a crop valued annually at two million dollars, had been ruined.

In Florida extensive preparations were made to protect citrus fruits. Miami reported a minimum of 36 Wednesday night, and there were complaints in the winter resort sections of a shortage of firewood and blankets. Official forecasts indicated that the temperature today would remain above freezing in most of the Florida peninsula.

In the Rio Grande valley of Texas it was estimated that 30 per cent of the citrus fruit in orchards protected by heaters had been lost, and that 80 per cent in unprotected acreage had been destroyed.

Ice Jam Flood Peril.

Engineers were fearful that a huge ice jam which has formed in the Ohio river below Cincinnati may cause extensive floods if heavy rains follow the cold. The gorge now extends solidly for 40 miles above Madison, Ind., and is growing 10 miles daily.

So far the river has risen only slowly behind the ice dike. Such gorges are a rarity and the last one of consequence formed on the Ohio in 1917-'18. Navigation has been abandoned along the stream, and 125 craft are tied up in the harbor at Louisville, Ky. From Cairo to Memphis, Tenn., floating ice islands have interrupted Mississippi river travel.

The lowest temperature in the United States yesterday was —30 at Sheridan, Wyo. Readings from 10 to 20 below were common in many middle western cities.

The ice harvest in Lake county was in full swing yesterday. Cutting of the ice, which is 17 inches thick on many lakes, is done with cutting machines and hand saws. The ice is stored for summer use.

Summons Aid by Pounding Water Pipes; It's Too Late

Mrs. Emily Hoban, 74 years old, pounded on water pipes to attract aid when she was overcome by a heart attack yesterday in her home at 3358 Ravenswood avenue, where she lived alone. Neighbors heard her signal and hurried to her aid. They arrived too late, however. Mrs. Hoban died on the way to County hospital.

Cold Hits Peaches

(Story in adjoining column.)

Counties in black are those producing most peaches in Illinois peach section. Peach trees have been severely damaged in that area as well as in other counties (shaded) where production is important.

HELD FOR NAVAL STATION THEFT.

Thomas Eugene Shain, officer's orderly, who enlisted in the navy from Peoria last October, was held to the federal grand jury yesterday, accused of having stolen $255 from a safe at the Great Lakes Naval Training station. Shain was arrested in Peoria by government agents after he fled from the station. He is 16 years old.

WIFE FINDS KEY, TO DIVORCE CASE IN MATE'S COAT

Mrs. Josephine Swift.

Mrs. Josephine Swift, 2233 East 70th place, testified yesterday that she detected an unfamiliar jingle in the coat pocket of her husband, William E. Swift Jr., when he entered her cigar store at 14 East Jackson boulevard on the afternoon of last Dec. 14.

"Go on," said Judge Rudolph Desort, who was hearing her suit for divorce. Mrs. Swift continued. She said she found a key to room 421 at the Great Northern hotel in Swift's pocket. She went to the hotel and learned that "Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McQuirk" were registered in 421.

Mrs. Swift hid in a maid's room adjoining 421. Soon, she said, her husband and one Jane Doe entered. She waited a while, then called Frank C. Brown, the house detective. Brown testified he found Swift in a compromising situation. Judge Desort granted her a divorce.

A Fire Leaves Firemen Nothing to Fight It With

WINS CUSTODY WRIT IN SECOND DIVORCE SUIT

Mrs. Jean Ford Redfearn, 41 years old, who is seeking her second divorce from Harry H. Redfearn, wholesale butter and egg merchant, got an injunction yesterday restraining Redfearn from disposing of assets or taking their two children out of Superior court jurisdiction.

The Redfearns were married Oct. 8, 1921, divorced March 28, 1935, and remarried at Waukegan, Aug. 2, 1935. Mrs. Redfearn charges her husband struck her last Aug. 4 and on Jan. 4 dragged her down a flight of stairs, injuring her so seriously she spent 10 days in a hospital.

In reply to a question by her attorney, Robert E. Cantwell Jr., Mrs. Redfearn said her husband makes $20,000 a year. He heads his own business at 110 North Franklin street. Attorney Benjamin B. Davis appeared for Redfearn and said he would contest any move by Mrs. Redfearn to get custody of the children, Patricia, 12, and Robert, 11. Mrs. Redfearn lives at 243 Moraine road, Highland Park.

The city fireboat Fred A. Busse came to the rescue yesterday when a barge being pushed by a tug became stuck in the ice in the river at Clark street. The barge was hauling sand for the Materials Service corporation from Lockport to the subway river tunnel at the State street bridge crossing.

Capt. Phil Furlong and his crew of six from the tug, which is operated by the John I. Hay company, started to walk ashore on the solid ice. Before they reached the embankment, however, the Fred A. Busse came along and broke the ice. Furlong and his crew returned and moved the barge to its destination.

COUNCIL GROUP TO GET DRAFTS OF TRACTION PLANS

Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the city council's local transportation committee, said yesterday that drafts of the proposed unified traction franchise will be submitted to the committee early next week. Representatives of the city and the transit lines will meet jointly to hear the report of attorneys who have been working on the measure.

The companies and the city agreed last week to have sections drafted providing for maintenance of the present 7 cent street car fare for an experimental period, and for payment of compensation to the city and pensions to transit employés by the proposed unified company.

WITNESS' ERROR THROWS BERWYN TRIAL IN UPROAR

Identifies Defense Lawyer as Defendant.

A state witness caused an uproar yesterday in Judge William J. Lindsay's Criminal court when he identified one of the defense lawyers as one of the two defendants, officials of the city of Berwyn, who are on trial in a charge of embezzling special assessment funds. The witness quickly changed his identification to the right man while the attorneys were bickering about it.

The witness was Leo Kushman, 6527 Bosworth avenue, a teller for the Continental Illinois National bank. On the witness stand he testified that on Jan. 23, 1937, a "little lady," identified as Mrs. Rosalyn Nye Hitzman of Berwyn, appeared at the bank with three men to cash a check for $3,726, one of the checks identified previously as part of the sum embezzled from the assessment funds.

Names Both Mau and Berg.

Kushman testified that two of the men, who stood in the background while the check was cashed, were Ernest W. Mau, city treasurer of Berwyn, and Matthew Berg, former treasurer, the defendants in the trial. He said the men refused to indorse the check with their signatures, but that one of them gave a verbal indorsement.

Kushman was asked to step from the witness stand and identify the men he named as Berg and Mau. He walked to the counsel table and placed his hands on the chairs of Berg and Attorney Bernard J. McDonnell. Mau was sitting behind them.

Defense Attorneys Joseph T. Harrington and James M. Burke were immediately on their feet, shouting that the court record should show that the witness had identified McDonnell instead of Mau. Assistant State's Attorneys Robert Wright and Vernon Thompson sought to shout them down. In the confusion the witness readjusted his glasses and, after giving a second look, picked out Mau in place of McDonnell.

Leaves Point Up to Jury.

Judge Lindsay finally silenced the lawyers and said it would be up to the jurors to decide the point.

When Kushman resumed his testimony he said that one or both of the defendants said they would not place their signatures upon the check because of either "personal or political reasons," he did not remember which. The state contends that Mrs. Hitzman, former secretary for Mau, was used to cash the check in an effort to cover up their embezzlement. She will be a state witness later.

INDICT 5 IN 28TH PRECINCT FRAUDS IN 1ST WARD VOTE

Altho a recount showed that 44 straight Republican ballots were cast in the 28th precinct of the 1st ward in the last mayoralty election, Dwight H. Green, the Republican candidate, received only eight votes in the count of the election board. This was revealed yesterday when the grand jury indicted five officials of the precinct on charges of conspiracy to violate the election laws.

Those accused are Mrs. Jane Downs, 2801 South Park way, and Mrs. Bertha Popp, 2617 Cottage Grove avenue, Democratic judges; Miss Grace E. Say, 2809 South Park way, Republican judge, and George Lohr Jr., 2830 Cottage Grove avenue, and Miss Miriam M. Mellman, 2822 Cottage Grove avenue, Republican clerks.

The canvass of the precinct gave Republican candidates eight votes and Democratic candidates 196 votes. The recount showed that Mayor Kelly got 155 votes, Green, 46, and other candidates three.

The indictment was the eighth returned in the 1st ward vote fraud investigation.

SET TRIAL DATE FOR 2 ACCUSED IN LABOR SLUGGING

Two butchers' union officials charged with assault to commit murder and mayhem in connection with an attack on Czeslaw L. Mikolajczyk, 3035 Cullerton street, were ordered to trial Feb. 28 by Judge Joseph Graber in Criminal court yesterday.

The defendants are Joseph Kopke, 1845 23d street, and Harry Hlavacek, 1533 South Cuyler avenue, Berwyn, business agents of local 638 of the American Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor.

The men were arrested after an attack on Mikolajczyk, who is 51 years old, in a butcher shop at 2227 South Springfield avenue several weeks ago in connection with a union dispute. Both have denied the charges.

MRS. BERNICE DALPE.

Mrs. Bernice Dalpe, 25 years old, filed a suit for $50,000 damages in Circuit court yesterday, naming as defendants Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for State's Attorney Courtney, and six others of the state's attorney's police.

A similar suit, also asking $50,000, was filed last Nov. 21 by Mrs. Dalpe's husband, Theodore, a furrier whose home and shop are at the Buena Park hotel, 4155 Broadway. Mrs. Dalpe is executive housekeeper of the hotel.

Dalpe charged the policemen illegally removed furs and jewelery after forcing their way into his home without a search warrant on Jan. 28, 1938. Dalpe was convicted of receiving stolen property but last June 30 the Illinois Supreme court reversed the conviction.

Mrs. Dalpe's suit, filed by Attorney Thomas J. McCormick, charges she was pulled from bed, beaten and bruised at the time of the police raid and held for 12 hours at the state's attorney's office without food. Other defendants are Lieut. Thomas Kelly, Sergt. William McCarthy, and Policemen Raymond Burton, Nicholas Disseldorf, Charles Prbyle, and John Walsh.

FALLON, MANTON CASE AID, GIVEN 9 MONTHS' TERM

New York, Jan. 25 [Special].—William J. Fallon, 60 years old, confessed go-between in transactions involving former Justice Martin T. Manton of the United States Circuit court, today was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment and fined $5,000.

Former Judge Manton, who was convicted of selling his judicial decisions, sentenced to serve two years in prison, and fined $10,000, has an appeal pending before the United States Supreme court.

Federal Judge W. Calvin Chestnut, who presided at the original Manton trial, came to New York from Baltimore to sentence Fallon, who was brought over from Rikers Island prison, where he is serving 18 months for a state offense.

THIRTY DAYS GO BY; HVID KILLERS STILL ROAM CITY

Police Unable to Dig Up Single Clew.

Thirty days have passed since Marinus Hvid, north side garage owner, was fatally slugged by goons with a baseball bat. Yesterday police and State's Attorney Courtney's investigators reported they were still without a clew to the identity of the attackers.

Hvid's widow, Dagmar, has told investigators that her husband was killed as a result of trouble he had with the Affiliated Garages of Chicago, an owners' association, and the Auto Livery Chauffeurs, Taxicab Drivers and Helpers' union. She reported that he had no other trouble or enemies.

Deny Part in Slaying.

Officials of both the union and owners' association have been questioned but deny that either organization was responsible for the sluggings. The January grand jury is investigating the murder and an alleged working agreement between the union and the association.

Mrs. Hvid said that her husband's garage at 3514 North Halsted street was picketed a few days after Hvid had been expelled from the association last March for refusing to pay a $75 fine for taking a customer from a neighboring garage.

Mrs. Hvid named Milton Cohen, in front of whose home at 655 Buckingham place the owner was slain, as the customer whom her husband was accused of taking from another garage. Hvid had driven him to his home when he was attacked by the goons. Cohen told the police that he did not know that Hvid had trouble over him or he would have left Hvid's garage.

The grand jury has heard the testimony of witnesses and officials of the owners' association. Yesterday they sought to have Cohen appear to testify. Capt. Patrick O'Connell of the Town Hall station reported that he was unable to find Cohen.

Witness Leaves City.

He was told that the witness left over a week ago for a winter vacation in the south. Cohen is in the optical business in the loop.

William Crawford, assistant state's attorney, who is conducting the grand jury investigation, said that every witness who may throw some light on the case will be brought before the grand jurors.

Henry Arends and K. A. Benedict, directors of the association, appeared before the grand jury yesterday. They were questioned about the handling of association funds by Emil Mermall, executive director. Both are alleged to have said that they were not familiar with the association's finances.

During the day State Senator Abraham L. Marovitz, attorney for the garage owners' association, informed Capt. O'Connell that he had received anonymous information that Hvid had trouble with a former employé two years ago. He said the informant told him the former employé had threatened to kill Hvid. Police are investigating this information.

GLASSER SEEKS SEPARATE TRIAL IN BOOTLEG CASE

David D. Glasser, a former assistant United States district attorney, filed a petition in Federal court yesterday asking a separate trial and a second bill of particulars to an indictment charging him and four others with conspiracy to fix bootlegging cases.

The other defendants are Attorney Norton I. Kretske, also a former assistant district attorney; Attorney Alfred E. Roth, Anthony Horton, professional colored bondsman, and Louis Kaplan, an alleged bootlegger. Glasser said a separate trial is necessary because their interests are diverse and charged that the bill of particulars already filed by the government is vague and ambiguous.

The petition also asserted that none of the government witnesses will testify that he accepted bribes, as has been charged, and asked that the government be ordered to produce its evidence, so he can examine it before the trial.

BANDIT LEARNS POLICE ARE NEAR; SPEEDS UP WORK

Miss Lilliam Colerte, 24 years old, thought she had the right answer yesterday when a young robber entered the laundry at 52 West Chicago avenue, where she is employed. He produced a blue steel revolver.

"Hand over the money," he commanded.

"Think a minute," advised Miss Colerte. "Don't you realize you are only half a block from the Chicago avenue police station?"

"No foolin'!" exclaimed the robber. "In that case you'd better make it snappy."

He got $20.

LAWTON NAMED TO PAROLE BOARD AS DARRAH QUITS

Samuel T. Lawton of Chicago, lawyer and brigadier general in command of the 58th field artillery of the Illinois National Guard, was appointed yesterday to the Illinois parole board by Gov. Horner. He succeeds Delmar D. Darrah of Bloomington, who resigned because of ill health.

Delmar D. Darrah [top] and Brig. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton.

Gen. Lawton said last night that he intends to administer his duties with an eye to the rights of the public and of each individual convict whose case comes before him.

"As long as we have the indeterminate sentence we must have paroles," said Gen. Lawton. "I believe in parole, but only under proper circumstances."

Gen. Lawton is 55 years old, married, the father of a son, and lives at 5700 Blackstone avenue. He has been a member of the Illinois National Guard for 31 years. He served on the Mexican border in 1916 and in France during the world war, during which he was a captain in the 122d field artillery.

VOIDS MARRIAGE OF BROTHER AND YOUNGER SISTER

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 25 (AP).—Eighteen year old Virginia Williamson, her hands clenched tightly and her eyes fixed upon Juvenile Court Judge Wilfred Bradshaw, today heard the court declare that her marriage to Leroy Williamson, 20, never existed because they are brother and sister.

Only Virginia, her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wolfe, two social workers and newsmen were in the courtroom to hear Judge Bradshaw's ruling. Leroy went to Urbana, Ill., Monday with his aunt, Mrs. Crystal Clair Harker, after Judge Bradshaw told him what the decision would be.

The two were married Jan. 6 after Leroy investigated records and concluded they were not related. They had been separated since Virginia's birth. Judge Bradshaw held that a juvenile court investigation "conclusively shows they are brother and sister."

The judge told the girl the child she said she is expecting will be legitimate under Indiana law.

UNION LEADER'S 3D PARDON PLEA TO BE REJECTED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—The department of justice is preparing to turn down the third pardon plea of George Scalise of New York, president of the Building Service Employés International union, without submitting the request to the White House, it was learned today.

George Scalise.

Scalise served four years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, from 1913 to 1916, after he was found guilty of violating the Mann act. He has been seeking a pardon for almost 20 years so that his civil rights may be restored.

Under pardon procedure the department of justice can turn down any pardon plea without submission to the White House if it does not have the recommendation of the trial judge and prosecutor or has the adverse recommendation of such officials.

Scalise, whose most spectacular achievement on the labor front was the tying up of service in 2,400 New York buildings with a strike in 1936, also has made his power felt in Chicago union circles. He filed a suit in Chicago last June seeking to oust Matt Taylor as president of the Elevator Operators' union, local No. 66. Taylor, in fighting the suit, said he had been forced to place his local under Scalise's international but had been promised local autonomy. Later Taylor dropped his fight, saying he had made private arrangements with the union boss. In September Taylor's union adopted all the changes in its charter which Scalise had demanded.

Scalise at present is defendant in a suit filed by the San Francisco local of his union in an attempt to break his domination over the local in that city. The local's officials, who have been suspended by Scalise pending a financial audit, seek an injunction to prevent their removal from office. The case is regarded as important because Scalise employed similar tactics in moving in on the locals both in New York and Chicago.

Convicted in 1913.

In 1913 Scalise and an associate, Joe Alfano, were convicted of transporting a young woman named Dorothy Olsen from Brooklyn to Boonton, N. J., for immoral purposes. The trial judge was Van Vechten Veeder of the Federal Court in New York.

When Scalise appealed to President Harding for a pardon in 1923, Judge Veeder offered no recommendation. When the labor leader made a second application Dec. 1, 1939, a curious mistake caused the judge to be listed as dead. This application was denied last September by the department. Scalise had the plea reopened for additional evidence last December. Questioned about the Scalise plea, when it came to light recently, Judge Veeder said the record of the case speaks for itself.

Given Labor Support.

In the new plea Scalise has given as references a large number of people, including William Green, president of the federation of labor, and Joseph A. Padway, its general counsel. Both leaders recommended that Scalise be given a pardon, altho they emphasized that they had no knowledge of his crime.

In a speech last Saturday Green assailed enemies of labor, who seize upon the discovery of an individual wrongdoer in an individual union to bring discredit on the entire labor movement. Altho he mentioned no names, it was believed his remarks were occasioned by the revelation of Scalise's prison record.

$100,000 in Checks Lost in Loop, Then Recovered

A pounch containing $100,000 in checks was recovered yesterday shortly after it was reported lost in the loop. Central police were notified by the owners, the Cudahy Packing company. Later the company said the checks, which were not negotiable, had been recovered. E. D. Page, controler, declined to disclose the name of the mesenger who lost the pouch or to tell how it was found.

3 Accused of Receiving Stolen Suits Are Freed

Charges against Arthur [Fish] Johnston, once questioned in connection with John Dillinger's escapades, were nol prossed by Judge J. J. Drucker in the Felony court yesterday on the recommendation of the state's attorney's office. He was arrested Dec. 18 and accused of receiving 35 stolen suits. Similar charges against Miss Evelyn Stuchel, 21, 2106 Humboldt boulevard, a friend of Johnston, and Joseph Mueller, also were dropped. Johnston and Mueller live at 2838 Armitage avenue.

AWARDED $12,500 FROM LAWYER IN ALIMONY FRAUD

A jury in the federal court of Judge Philip L. Sullivan awarded $12,500 damages yesterday to Mrs. Gladys McVeigh, of Los Angeles, Cal., in her suit against Attorney Henry V. McGurren, who has offices at 110 South Dearborn street. Mrs. McVeigh charged that McGurren induced her thru fraud and deceit to settle a $25,000 alimony claim against her late divorced husband, Thomas McConnell, a furniture salesman, for $1,250.

The jury's verdict provided that Mrs. McVeigh is to get $4,000, and the rest of the damage award is to be divided between her two children, Thomas McConnell Jr., 18, and Charles McConnell, 15.

Attorney McGurren was accused of arranging the settlement with Mrs. McVeigh on representations that McConnell was penniless and had borrowed money to make the $1,250 payment, when in fact McConnell had inherited $30,000 a short time before the settlement was made. A motion for a new trial will be argued Feb. 7.

Ex-Gov. Lowden to Mark His 79th Birthday Today

Woman Held for Abortion; Victim in Serious Condition

Mrs. Anna Taylor, 41 years old, 6345 South Sangamon street, was held last night at the Shakespeare avenue police station on a charge of performing an abortion. She is to be arraigned in court today. The complainant is the husband of a young woman, now in a serious condition at St. Elizabeth's hospital, for whom the operation was allegedly performed.

MAKES AMENDS

"You deserve this reward, dear," said Mr. Banks, as he slipped the ring on his wife's smooth hand.

HIS PEACE-OFFERING A RING
Sorry He Teased Wife About "Dishpan Hands"
But it made her stop washing dishes with strong soaps

"My only complaint with my marriage was washing dishes—and my hands certainly looked it! And when Jim came right out and said, 'Dishpan Hands,' I practically saw red. Luckily, Aunt Jane stepped in and told me it was my own fault—using that strong soap for washing dishes. She got me to change to Ivory, and am I glad! Look at my hands now they're s-m-o-o-t-h-e-r!"

If you want smoother hands—try changing from strong soap to gentle Ivory for your dishwashing. You'll enjoy smoother hands in just 2 weeks. You'll want to use Ivory always.... Ivory's so gentle that many doctors advise it for babies. Yet it costs less than 1¢ a day for all your dishwashing. Get "Large-Size" Ivory for dishes.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Europe has a set of primary interests which to us have none or a very remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves by artificial ties in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities."—From the Farewell Address.

THE MORAL RIGHT TO PEACE.

Representatives of all parties in the Netherlands, in a debate on foreign policy, have rejected the thesis of Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, that all the small neutral countries are involved in this war and that they ought to be fighting it on the side of Great Britain and France.

Mr. Churchill said that their security depends on the outcome and if they do not come in while there is time to decide it in their true interests there may be nothing of them left. If France and Great Britain, said Mr. Churchill, were forced to make a shameful or induced to make a compromising peace, the fate of the small nations of Europe would be sealed by the triumph of the aggressors.

The Dutch party members insisted, as many Americans have insisted for this country, that there is a moral right to neutrality, with its preservation of peace, which cannot be broken down by the exigencies of other nations going to war for causes not submitted to the noncombatants. European neutrality presents problems to nations there not presented to the United States. The war, without crossing their boundaries, is full of uncertainties and risks for them. Facing these risks, they must determine whether they are to accept them and preserve their peace if they can, or are, as an alternative, to accept the inevitability of being involved in every war which may arise from causes out of their control, outside their deliberations, and apart from their decisions.

If they cannot maintain their right, in every one of its phases, to govern themselves in this matter of life or death, they will become merely military adjuncts to larger powers.

Many men of peace in American churches—clergy and laymen—have observed in some other pulpits and other congregations a tendency to revive the moral urge to war which made some churchmen recruiting agents for intervention in the other world war. The men of peace are trying to counteract in public opinion the warlike men of their cloth. The peaceful could tell the bellicose if they are more English than American that their consciences being so involved should lead them abroad to work personally for the cause in which they are enlisted. They should not remain here to conscript the sons of other families to assault the Siegfried line.

If a nation has any moral rights one is to keep the peace. If a nation's authorities have any moral duties one is to protect the people from avoidable war. And certainly peace has its shrine in religion.

WE HATE TO SAY IT.

The Los Angeles Times has brought out its 85th annual midwinter number and in summarizing its contents that newspaper's publisher, Harry Chandler, has this to say:

"Southern California has experienced a year of remarkable progress. For one thing, we have a new young giant out here—the airplane industry—and are now turning out more than half of all the planes manufactured in the United States. In the building industry our record would excite suspicion if not supported by official figures. These show that during the year just ended Los Angeles launched a greater dollar-volume of building than seven large Pacific coast cities combined, including San Francisco, Oakland, Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, Berkeley, and Sacramento.

"During the year we also completed the main Colorado river aqueduct, bringing water from the Rocky mountain watershed a distance of 242 miles to the gates of our city. Manufacturing, agriculture, motion pictures, oil, and mining all have contributed to our activity, while commerce at our harbor has run close to the billion dollar mark. Meantime, we have prepared to entertain more tourists than ever before, and to welcome them have erected what is said to be the finest and most modern union terminal in the country."

THE TRIBUNE doesn't print a yearly progress edition, and this year we are just as well satisfied that it doesn't, because we don't know what we would talk about if it did.

Chicago hasn't any spectacular young giants among its industries. It is having a hard time holding its old ones. Its building is still in the dumps, a little more than half of the volume in Los Angeles last year. We may have our own opinions about Hoover dam, as the Times still calls it, but the federal government hasn't made Chicago any such presents. Our go-getters may go, but they don't get. Ours is the blessing of giving. The plans for the Randolph street terminal are gathering dust along with those for the island airport and most of the rest of our wishful dreams.

Reluctant as we are to encourage any citizen of Los Angeles to boast—even such a citizen as Harry Chandler, who has done so much to accomplish what he boasts about—we have to admit this: Among American cities Los Angeles is now the town Chicago used to be. We might learn from it not how to play, but how to work.

MR. LEWIS SAYS NO.

Mr. Lewis would have it understood that he is not drafting Mr. Roosevelt for a third term. He is putting the chief on the retired list and looking about for somebody else. It couldn't be himself, could it? Mr. Lewis' story still is that the New Deal took his $600,000 and that he hasn't had his money's worth by a long shot. The C. I. O. boss has been talking about that gift ever since it was poured into the coffers of the Democratic campaign committee.

Some of the New Dealers have inquired impatiently what Mr. Lewis thought he ought to get in return. He was given the active aid of three departments of government and several governors for the attack his communist vanguard made on key industries, and he has since had the administration of the National Labor Relations board law just about in his own hands, as the testimony before the Smith investigating committee in Washington proves. If Mr. Lewis had bought any more he would have taken title to the White House and possession of the chief executive's desk.

Mr. Lewis likes to pound the table and make strong statements. That is a quality of dominating leadership befitting a man of direct action.

The first general assumption regarding his remarks at the United Mine Workers' convention in Columbus, the organization that raises most of the money he deals out in politics, was that he was dictating the conditions under which he would accept the third term which he said was already out of reach. The inference would be that Mr. Roosevelt, seeking a third term, would be ignominiously defeated unless he made a satisfactory bargain with the C. I. O. and gave better guarantees that he would keep it.

Another assumption might be that Mr. Lewis' political judgment told him that Mr. Roosevelt actually was stopped by revolt in his own party and was barred by general public sentiment from any possibility of success, first, in getting a third nomination from the convention, or, second, in putting over four more years if he went to the people as a candidate.

If Mr. Lewis had concluded that the third term is a dead duck, he would then be serving notice on the candidate named for the succession and giving him a preview of the demands he must satisfy if he is to get six or eight hundred thousand dollars from the C. I. O. chest and receive the support of the vote thus controled.

Many people who are not greatly perturbed by the fight between the C. I. O. and the New Deal, whether it be straight punching or shadow boxing, agree with Mr. Lewis when he says that the Roosevelt administration is in default to the American people and that its promises and pretenses are written down as shams in the seven year record, and written down as such by the people who were deluded into thinking that their welfare was being promoted. For this default Mr. Lewis himself bears a large share of responsibility. He was one of the members of the firm which contracted to build a new Utopia in the desert. They weren't builders. They were wreckers.

LATIN AMERICAN TRADE.

The export statistics issued in Washington show a marked increase in our sales not only to England and France but also, and significantly, to Latin America. As this news was coming over the wires some 500 business men, meeting here under the auspices of the foreign trade committee of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, were hearing expert accounts of the expansion of our trade to the south and of the opportunity for further increases.

The export figures and forecasts provide a striking contrast to the attitude of defeatism in official circles in Washington. The officials charged with the development of the American merchant marine believe, or pretend to believe, that no alternative use can be found for the ships which have been barred from the war zone by the neutrality act. Hence the proposal to transfer the ships to Panama and Norway.

No account appears to have been taken of the growing demand for ships all over the world to replace those which have been sunk and those which have been withdrawn from their customary routes to serve war needs. More especially, no account appears to have been taken of the growing needs of American commerce. Our foreign trade is increasing because Germany is out of the overseas export markets and because England and France are diverting more and more of their manufacturing facilities to war purposes. The time is near, if it is not already here, when profitable uses can be found for all our ships.

It is difficult to avoid the conclusion that the transfer in registry was favored in Washington because of a desire to place the vessels at the disposal of the western powers even at a sacrifice of our own economic and political interest.

CANUTE IN COLORADO.

[Minneapolis Tribune.]

A judge in Colorado has ruled that the state must pay its $45 monthly old age pension in full, regardless of whether the pension fund contains sufficient money. As King Canute ordered back the waves, so he has ordered Colorado to fulfill its constitutional obligation to the aged, even tho the funds available are wholly inadequate to do the job.

We suspect that the judge, like Canute, will discover that it is far easier to command the impossible than to accomplish it. Since Colorado adopted a $45 old age pension in 1936 the full amount has been paid in only one month. The rest of the time it has had to pinch and scrape to pay even a substantial portion of the promised sum. Appropriations for relief have been subjected to sharp cuts in an effort to sustain the nation's highest pension rate, and the state has gone heavily into debt, and still Colorado has not come close to translating its gaudy pension dream into a reality.

The judge, of course, can cite the law on behalf of his ruling. His insistence that the full pension should be paid will be widely applauded, particularly among the disillusioned pensioners. But does the judge have a formula for squeezing blood from a turnip, or for paying pensions out of deficits? Colorado hopes, but it is not too confident. In this pension Utopia that did not jell there are still innumerable cynics.

FLAGS OF A LOST CAUSE.

In "Gone with the Wind" [the book and the film] the enthusiastic secessionists sing:

Hurrah! Hurrah!
For the Southern rights, hurrah!
Hurrah for the bonny blue flag
That bears the single star.

You're likely to hear this song in any show of southern civil war atmosphere. For an earlier example, remember the operetta of six or eight years ago, "My Maryland."

We went into a huddle over this matter with a gentleman from Texas.

"The confederacy nevah had any such flag, suh," he informed us.

"Of course not," we answered. "It sounds like a Texas song to us. You call it the Lone Star state, I believe."

"Suhtainly. But I cain't remembah any blue flag. Seems to me it was white. The fuhst Texas flag, suh, had a Union Jack in the corner. The folks wanted to join the British empire."

"Well, I think the song started in Texas, which was an early seceder—third on the list. It had a catchy air and spread all over the south in the first months of the war."

"You are entitled to yo' opinion, suh, and it sounds plausible. But I nevah heard that song in Texas."

There the matter rested. A dozen reference books did not give the answer.

The confederate states of America had four flags in their history. The first had a blue "union" with seven white stars arranged in a circle. The body of the flag was of three bars, red, white, and red.

At the battle of Manassas, July, 1861, the confederate forces found difficulty in distinguishing between their flag and the Stars and Stripes, in the smoke and dust. Therefore the "battle flag" was adopted—a red field crossed diagonally with blue bars which bore 13 white stars. This was a fine flag; it is the one usually seen in the civil war paintings.

In May, 1863, the confederate congress adopted another national flag called "the stainless banner." This was pure white with the "battle flag" in the left upper corner. It was found to look like a flag of truce when hanging limp, so on March 4, 1865, it was changed by adding a broad red vertical bar at the outer margin.

LINCOLN AT NEW SALEM.

On tilted chair with feet against an oak,
A lanky youth before a cabin door
Reading the sunset down, and then to walk
Beyond the ridge a pensive hour or more.
Ten scattered cabins in a wilderness;
Bare politics, long yarns, a losing store,
A girl to ease the ache of loneliness
So brief a time and ease that ache no more;
Gaunt coldness of rude nature's naked laws;
The opiate of nature's idle flow;
No fellow spirit burning with applause;
Few books to feed the hungering flame to know;
Yet thru it all, still young, he plucked up heart,

A Philosopher Thinks of Retiring.

I suppose we all have our "Shangri La," our dreams of the far-off place we'll find when some day our duties and responsibilities have at last been satisfied and we are free to do what we wish. Most of us will never find our dreams in reality, but it helps to forget our cares to turn our thoughts to our daydreaming plans occasionally.

I like to visualize a little cabin, hidden somewhere among the high hills, blending with the trees at the end of a rocky road. The walls, except for the fireplace and windows, will be covered with the books that at last I shall have time for. There, with Montaigne, Shakespeare, and the others [including good Master Pepys] for company, with the few old friends who may come the long way once in a while, and with a dog or two to respond to every careless mood, I fancy I could watch the sunset gradually come over the hills, and finally lay down my book without a sigh when the long, long night comes down. TO AN INFANT DAUGHTER.

I.

"How much do you weigh?
My dear! You're a whopper!"
Friends ask us all day
How much do you weigh,
But too soon they won't say
(Asking girls isn't proper)
"How much do you weigh?
My dear! You're a whopper!"

II.

It always is an infant's fate
To be inquired about by weight,
And after "Girl," the nurse announces
"Seven pounds and fourteen ounces:"
More than lamb chops—very perky—
Less than last year's Christmas turkey.
As if an elephant's preferred
Immensely to a humming bird!

A Tall Tale of the Wild West.

The Carlsbad caverns in New Mexico were formerly inhabited by a rare species of two headed cave snakes whose bite was poisonous. One of these vicious creatures encountered a character known as Peg Leg Ike, and inadvertently bit him on his wooden leg. The snake died instantly.

Ike went on his way, apparently unharmed. The next morning, however, he found his wooden leg so swollen that he had to whittle it down to normal size before he could put his pants on. Every morning after that he had to whittle his leg down, providing himself with enough shavings for kindling wood the rest of his wicked old life!

VITAMINS HELP FIGHT DISEASE.

THE several vitamins are so easy to prescribe and our food sources are now so well known that we may wonder if the "hit or miss" administration of such preparations may not lead to harm. It is thought that the excessive use of vitamin D may predispose to the formation of calculi [stones] within various organs of the body. This theory, however, has not been proved.

A vitamin shortage, however, may invite disease. Furthermore, many ailments appear to destroy or use up these substances rapidly, with the result that the patient may possess far too little for the preservation of well being. The question then arises, what effect, if any, will a deficiency have upon an illness? Will it endanger life or prolong disability?

Certain facts seem to be well established. For example, in pulmonary tuberculosis a drop in C parallels the severity of the affliction. Restoring this material to normal by means of extra allowances in the meals is signified usually by increasing signs of recovery. It should not be inferred that it is curative but apparently when it is present in average amounts the system is in better trim to fight the infection. A number of cases treated with supplementary portions of C over a period of nine months showed gains in strength and healing power quite superior to a like group whose diet was not augmented in this manner.

In another quite unrelated malady, whooping cough, liberal quantities of this vitamin brought about marked reduction in the frequency of vomiting attacks and more rapid disappearance of symptoms. Rheumatic fever—the bold bandit that launches forays upon the heart—is similarly affected. In a series of victims of this disorder, there was an increase in weight, better general health, and fewer recurrences [new attacks], than in those whose C level was not kept high. Observers also feel that in arthritis the improvement is more striking if the consumption of this element is maintained steadily. It has been noted that those who are obliged to submit to abdominal operations showed a more prompt convalescence and firmer scars with an adequate quota of C. One authority states that 90 per cent of those afflicted with peptic ulcer exhibit a lack of this vitamin.

Curiously enough, while the administration of C containing foods—particularly oranges, lemons, grapefruit, and tomatoes—has been lauded as raising resistance against infection, nevertheless proof is lacking that the common cold can be influenced greatly. Some evidence, however, is presented in a report of several students who were given additional allotments of fruit juices and who experienced a decided shortening of the duration of their "colds." In other words, the indisposed days were fewer than with those whose menus had not been reinforced.

We must not, however, look upon these dietary accessories as cure-alls. They merely place the individual in the best possible position for defense and for normal functioning. We may say then that in the presence of any disease it is wise to make sure that the intake all along the line is standard at least. We have no right to punish the body in its effort to overcome ailments with what amounts to a nutritional deficit.

Perhaps this explains what we mean by reserve. Given a dozen persons all exposed to the same hazards, one or two may acquire an infection while the remainder will escape. Why? Well, we have put it down to immunity, a strong constitution, or resistance. It may be all of these plus a proper vitamin ratio. But—like food—the cells and tissues will and can use only so much and there is no justification in loading up on these components unless there is real reason to believe that a negative balance exists. Fortunately, the average American family table supplies them all.

PAIN AFTER OPERATION.

T. P. writes: What causes a person to suffer continually with the right side after the appendix has been removed?

REPLY.

The most common cause for the continuation of pain following removal of the appendix is adhesions. It is possible that the appendix was not responsible for the pain in the first place. Investigate the gall bladder or the presence of a duodenal ulcer.

NOSE BLOWING.

A. J. writes: In blowing one's nose is it proper to blow only one side at a time or can both be blown without injury?

REPLY.

If you must blow, use but little pressure and empty one side at a time. Forceful trumpeting may crowd infected discharges into the Eustachian tubes, resulting in ear infection.

FALTERING HEART.

B. G. writes: Are cardiovascular heart disease and a rheumatic heart the same condition?

REPLY.

No. The latter refers to a heart weakness following rheumatic fever or rheumatism. Any condition resulting in damage to the blood vessels and heart, such as may be associated with hardening of the arteries, is known as cardiovascular disease.

JOURNEY TO TROPICS.

R. B. writes: What injections should be taken by one who is going to vacation in the tropics?

Typhoid and smallpox vaccines are essential.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BASEL, Switzerland.—Porters in the Basel railroad station spend their days gazing ruefully at the vacant platforms that were enlarged last summer to handle the winter's tourist traffic, which has never materialized.

Special Dutch, English, and French trains, which normally would have been jammed with winter sports fans whom Basel hoped to accommodate with the new facilities, have been canceled for the duration of the war. This has been a severe blow to the Swiss hotel and tourist trade.

Many large Basel hotels have only a handful of guests and without exception are losing money. This town, known as the gateway to Switzerland, has long been famous as a stopping off place for visitors traveling to the Alps in the interior of the country. This transit trade kept the hotels busy for much of the year, but it has now vanished. In its place come a few business men traveling between Switzerland and France or Germany.

In ultra fashionable resorts like St. Moritz many of the more expensive hotels are not opening their doors this year. In addition to the absence of guests, Switzerland's precautionary mobilization has greatly depleted hotel staffs.

Tourism is one of Switzerland's major industries. The country's lakes and mountains draw visitors from all the world and they annually spend hundreds of millions of francs. It is estimated that Swiss hotels, to show a profit, require 14 million lodger nights a year.

In a normal year 58,000,000 francs [$13,019,400] are spent for meat by the hotels, 66,500,000 francs [$14,915,950] for vegetables and fruit, and 63,500,000 francs [$13,794,450] in wages, hotel authorities say. Maintenance of hotels costs 40,000,000 francs [$8,972,000] more, and it is estimated tourists spend 50,000,000 francs [$11,215,000] at shops.

With Americans, Belgians, and Dutch choosing to remain at home and the British and French occupied with the war, the Swiss are seeking to stimulate their internal tourism. Italian visitors are not permitted to take enough money out of their country to be a factor as patrons of expensive Swiss resorts.

Since 1934 the Swiss have been attempting to promote travel by their own countrymen, and by intensifying the campaign this year they hope to get 25 to 30 per cent of the normal tourist trade.

While the hotel industry suffers, the Swiss fishing industry is booming. Record catches of whitefish are being hauled from Lake Constance by both the Swiss and Germans. In 22 days in November and December, Swiss fishermen caught 131,000 fish weighing about 50,000 pounds. As a result of an advertising campaign, this large catch was disposed of inside Switzerland. Much of it was bought by the military authorities to feed Switzerland's half million mobilized soldiers.

The Germans are reported to have caught 250,000 fish in November and December.

STORAGE CHARGES.

Chicago, Jan. 18 [Legal Friend of the People].—I accepted custody of furniture for one room last July. I received $4 for storage and packing for which I made out a receipt in pencil worded "until called for." My understanding at that time was that the owner would call for the furniture at the end of one month. I do not know this person's whereabouts, nor has she returned.

I received the money from her sister, who lives in Chicago and [1] I can obtain her telephone number and get in touch with her.

2. I hear the owner is not coming back and the furniture should be sold and I should attend to the selling. Being employed during the day, [3] this would make it rather onerous for me.

Under these circumstances, having worded the receipt in that way [4] would I be within my legal rights if I inserted an ad about selling the goods "not called for within three days?"

5. The value of this furniture does not exceed $11.

6. If I inserted this ad without notifying the sister, could she bring legal action against me?

7. I know for a fact that neither the owner nor her sister is willing to pay another cent. C. R.

1. We see no reason why you should not follow up such a possible source of information as to the desires of the owner of the furniture.
2. From whom?
3. It would seem reasonable for you to employ an auctioneer after notifying the owner that this is your plan.
4. No.
5. Obviously this would not warrant much overhead expense. The obvious course would be to exhaust the possibilities of making an amicable arrangement with the owner.
6. We do not understand why you wish to act without notifying them.
7. It is not clear how you can know this if you are unwilling to notify them. A safe legal course would be to notify the owner that unless you hear from him to the contrary you will have a storage warehouse pick up the goods. They can later sell for their charges.

How Our States Got Their Names

17. MAINE.

Historians say the name probably came from the French province of Meyne [now Maine] or else was intended to distinguish Maine as mainland, and not an island. It was named by early French settlers who did not stay, and the first use of the name in an official document was in a land grant in 1622. Maine became a state on March 15, 1820.

Maine state seal. Farmer [left] and seaman support shield, which shows pine tree with moose deer lying beneath it. Between shield and north star [top] is motto: "Dirigo."

Maine is variously called the Border, Lumber, Pine Tree, Polar Star, and Old Dirigo state, as well as the Switzerland of America. Because Maine was the northernmost state when admitted to the Union, and because it uses the north star on its coat of arms it is known as the Polar Star state. Old Dirigo apparently springs from the fact that the state motto is "Dirigo" [I direct].

The state song is the State of Maine Song. The pine cone and tassel are the state's flower, the bird is the chickadee, and the tree the pine.

LETTERS TO EUROPE.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—With much surprise I noticed in an item in THE TRIBUNE a few days ago that air mail sent to Europe by the Clipper is apt to be five or six weeks on the way. This explains why four letters sent by me in the last five weeks, with a request for prompt answer, have brought no reply.

Don't you think that before selling me a beautifully colored stamp for 30 cents, with the statement that the Clippers are still flying, the postoffice should add that the mail may get to Lisbon all right but there is no telling when it will be forwarded from there, and that a 5 cent stamp using ordinary steamer service will probably get results sooner?

And, don't you also think the government, having accepted my 30 cents with at least the implied promise of sending a letter to some destination, should at any rate try to find out what became of mail so sent? I would like to know what became of the four letters I sent which to me at least are of some importance. C. S. P.

GERMANY AND FINLAND.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—When the Finnish minister was on the air the other night, pleading for assistance of little Finland in its gallant fight, he made several mistakes. First of all he forgot to mention that Finland owes its victory over the Russians in 1918 to the German divisions, who fought with Gen. Mannerheim. You can still find the monument erected in Finland to these Germans for their timely help. The thanks which Germany got from Finland was that they worked against Germany in the league of nations, instead of at least sympathizing with the Germans in their plight.

He, however, was very careful not to forget the gallant, noble statesman Lord Lothian, as the Finnish minister called him. He also mentioned a Scottish general, who fought with the Finns a couple of hundred years back, also another Englishman was favorably mentioned. While this all is good diplomacy no doubt at the present time, his final reference to the tyrannical leadership in the dictatorial countries will not help the Finns to get any support from these countries. CARL SCHULTZ.

MR. GARNER AND FINLAND.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—What kind of a person is Vice President Garner turning out to be? He has refused to support the movement for aid to the valiant Finns. It seems incredible that any man can turn a deaf ear to the cries of men, women, and children being cruelly butchered by a malignant oppressor, Sweden, a small country, has so far given close to $17,000,000 to the Finns in money and supplies. The United States, the richest country in the world, has given very little as yet. The United States has a moral duty to give all the aid she can to Finland without becoming involved in war herself. TOWARD A NAZI AMERICA.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—On the whole, your editorials of the past have been high grade and very intelligent. Recently, however, you have turned out stuff which is outright idiocy.

Besides displaying a colossal ignorance in your "Toward a Nazi America," you drag in Hitler's name by a hair. For 2,000 years the forests of Germany were public concern tho generally owned in private. The German empire never owned and does not now own any forests. Those owned by states and communities became public property after the 30 Years war when their original owners with their entire families had perished and were wiped out by fire, sword, and disease. Universal state control, not ownership, of American woods from Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico would have saved America the tragedies of Mississippi floods and the calamity of the dust bowl.

Would you term nationalized Yellowstone park a "Nazi idea?" Does not the war department tell Chicago what to do with Lake Michigan, its harbors, and its rivers? Were not these ideas patent before Hitler was ever born?

Please think, and stop this nonsense. Do not spoil the pleasure I derive from reading my favorite newspaper.

NOT A NEW DEALER.

CONTROL OF PRIVATE FORESTS.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—I read THE TRIBUNE regularly and it is my paper. I am, that is, in general accord with its policies. However, it seems to me that the writer of "Toward a Nazi America" must have indulged in a little wool gathering.

Does he not know that Sweden has had a definite forestry program for nearly 100 years, and who has ever accused her of Nazification?

If there is any question which naturally belongs to the federal government it is this forestry problem. The denudation of the land of one state can result in immense damage and even loss of life in another state, perhaps far distant, thru floods.

There are so many things which your writer could have touched upon legitimately that one regrets to see him venture so rashly upon such thin ice.

MRS. CHALMERS, INDUSTRIALIST'S WIDOW, IS DEAD

Daughter of Pinkerton, Secret Service Chief.

Mrs. Joan Pinkerton Chalmers, a leader in the city's social and charitable life for more than four decades, died yesterday at the age of 84 in her home at 1100 Lake Shore drive. She was the widow of William J. Chalmers, former chairman of the Allis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee and a pioneer Chicago business leader, who died a year ago.

Mrs. Joan P. Chalmers.

Mrs. Chalmers was the only living daughter of Allan Pinkerton, chief of the federal secret service during the civil war. She often recalled stories about President Lincoln which her father had told to her. At the Chicago charity ball in 1894, she was a partner of Lincoln's son, Robert.

Founded Children's Home.

In 1911, to perpetuate the memory of her crippled sister, Isabelle, Mrs. Chalmers founded the Country Home for Convalescent Children, at Prince Crossing, near Wheaton. The home, to which prominent Chicagoans contributed, provided a cheerful environment for convalescing children and a place where they might carry on their education. The University of Chicago took over operation of the home in 1927.

Mrs. Chalmers was a member of several clubs in Chicago, among them the Saddle and Cycle, the Fortnightly and the Woman's Athletic club. Mrs. Chalmers and her husband were in Austria when the world war war began. On their return, they raised money for Belgian children.

Grandchildren Survive.

Surviving are two grandchildren, Mrs. F. Hamilton Merrill of New York, and Norman Williams Jr. of Woodstock, Vt. Mrs. Chalmers' daughter, Mrs. Norman Williams, and her son, Maj. Thomas Stuart Chalmers, died several years ago.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in St. Chrysostom's church, 1424 North Dearborn street. Private burial services will be in Graceland cemetery.

ART GETS OFF ON WRONG FOOT, WITH A BARGAIN

Detective Arthur Keller, who works out of the Dunes Park station of the Indiana state police, awoke yesterday morning in the dormitory there with pleased anticipation. He thought he was going to put on the fine, thick felt lined overshoes he had purchased Wednesday at a bargain.

He was mistaken. A practical joker at the station had put the prize boots outside. Keller, looking out a window, saw a large dog approaching them. With a muttered cry of anguish the detective hurried out to save his property.

The dog won the race. In a playful mood he galloped off with one overshoe. Keller pursued, up dune and down, for nearly an hour. Then he returned. When he went out to duty he was wearing only half his pair of boots.

Lost Purse Leads to Death of Girl and Companion

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 25 [Special].—Because Miss Naomi Norton, 17 years old, returned to find a mislaid purse after a basketball game, she and Earland Tooley, her companion, were killed and two others injured last night when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Big Four passenger train. They were well on their way home when Miss Norton missed her purse.

Hound with Artificial Foot Again Ready for the Chase

Delmar, N. Y., Jan. 25 (AP).—George W. Taylor's foxhound soon will be running foxes again. The dog lost a paw in a trap a year ago. The paw was amputated after the dog had freed itself. An orthopedic doctor designed the foot covering, similar to a child's high shoe without a heel. The toe has a spring to cushion the dog's step. Taylor says the foxhound can run as fast as ever.

Frank Wilson of Vaudeville Fame Dies in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 25 (AP).—Frank H. Wilson, 64 years old, veteran member of the vaudeville team of Joe and Frank Wilson, died today after a heart attack. The Wilson brothers played big time vaudeville in New York for 37 years. They were German comedians. Wilson's body will be sent to Maywood, Ill., for burial.

HAROLD TEEN—JUST HOW DO YOU MEAN THAT, MA?

OBITUARIES

Walter A. Forbes.

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 25 [Special].—Walter A. Forbes, Rockford industrialist, died today on his 70th birthday. He was chairman of the board of Gunite Foundries, Inc., a member of the board of directors of the Mattison Machine company, and was formerly associated with the Rockford Malleable Iron works. He was the son of the late Duncan Forbes, pioneer middle west steel and iron manufacturer, who came to Rockford from Chicago to organize the forerunners of the local iron concerns. Surviving are two sons, Ald. Seely Forbes of the 3d ward and Alexander D. Forbes; a sister, Mrs. Waite Talcott, and a brother, George Forbes, all of Rockford.

Mrs. Celia DuBois.

Funeral services for Mrs. Celia DuBois, a resident of Chicago for 75 years, will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in St. Gertrude's church, Granville and Glenwood avenues. Mrs. Mary Belle Floyd.

Mrs. Mary Belle Floyd, formerly of Riverside, died Wednesday in Phoenix, Ariz., where she had made her home recently. Mrs. Floyd, the widow of George G. Floyd, steel manufacturer, was active in social, club, and Presbyterian church affairs in Riverside. Surviving Mrs. Floyd are a son, Charles Floyd, vice president of the Wahl Eversharp company, and two daughters, Mrs. Katherine Evans of Evanston and Mrs. W. M. Burgess of Fort Clark, Tex. Funeral services will be held in Phoenix today.

Dr. S. K. Mosiman.

Bluffton, O., Jan. 25 [Special].—Dr. S. K. Mosiman, 72 years old, president emeritus of Bluffton college and a leading Mennonite church educator, died yesterday. He was a native of Ohio. Dr. Mosiman was president of Bluffton college from 1910 to 1935, when he retired. He was superintendent of an Indian mission school cantonment in Nebraska from 1897 to 1902, and president of the middle conference of Mennonites from 1908 to 1910. His widow, the former Emilie Diemens Hamm of Beatrice, Neb., survives.

Mrs. Mary Smith Wayne.

Mrs. Mary Smith Wayne, widow of Attorney Charles H. Wayne, who was mayor of Elgin from 1895 to 1897, died yesterday in her home at 29 Monroe street, Elgin. Mrs. Wayne was the daughter of an Episcopal clergyman. Her brother, the late Rev. James S. Smith, an Episcopal minister, officiated at her wedding in 1888. A nephew, the Rev. Leonidal Smith, an Episcopal minister of Denver, Colo., will preach the sermon at the funeral tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. in the Church of the Redeemer in Elgin.

The Rev. Max Zschiegner.

Officials of the Missouri synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church were informed yesterday of the death of the Rev. Max Zschiegner, president of Concordia Theological seminary in Hankow, China. The Rev. Mr. Zschiegner had returned to China last November following a furlough in the United States. He was stricken while en route to Szechwan province, where the seminary had been removed temporarily because of the Sino-Japanese conflict. The widow and two sons survive.

Michael Concannon.

Funeral services for Michael Concannon, a mail carrier for 47 years, will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in St. Mel's church. Mr. Concannon was 82 years old. He died Wednesday night in his home, 4336 Monroe street. He was born in Galway, Ireland, and had lived in Chicago for 60 years. He retired several years ago. Five sons, Austin, James, John, William, and Raymond Concannon, survive.

ATTORNEY OF 63 PROGRESSES ON LEARNING'S PATH

The senior member of the class of 76 students who received certificates for two years' college work last night at Herzl Junior college, 3711 Douglas boulevard, is Vincent Chisesi. He is 63 years old. An attorney, he picked up his college career 19 years after he had been admitted to the bar.

Vincent Chisesi.

Since Herzl opened in 1934, Chisesi has been a part time student, attending classes every afternoon after a morning's work in his office at 3125 Wentworth avenue.

Chisesi was 11 years old when his family brought him from Sicily. A temporarily disabling injury suffered while he was at work with a railroad section gang first gave him leisure to study. He was soon thru the Haven Elementary school, then took a six months' business course and in 1911 began to study law at the John Marshall Law school. Four years later he was graduated and passed the bar examinations.

DODGE'S SISTERS FIGHT AWARD OF $11,000,000 ESTATE

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 25 (AP).—Appeal from a Probate court decision awarding the $11,000,000 estate of Daniel G. Dodge to his mother and young widow was filed today by two of his sisters, Mrs. Winifred Seyburn and Mrs. Isabel Sloane. An appeal by the third Dodge sister, Mrs. Frances Johnson, may be filed tomorrow.

The appeals seek a Circuit court ruling on the recent decision by Probate Judge Thomas C. Murphy, who awarded the estate to Mrs. Mathilda R. Wilson, Dodge's mother, and Mrs. Annie Laurine Dodge, 21 year old widow. The widow received $1,250,000.

Dodge, heir to a motor fortune, was accidentally killed in the summer of 1938 about two weeks after he was married.

MRS. EMILY LYON, WIDOW OF MUSIC DEALER, IS DEAD

Mrs. Emily F. Lyon, widow of George W. Lyon, one of the founders of the Lyon & Healy company, died yesterday in Jackson Park hospital after a stroke suffered a week ago. Mrs. Lyon, who lived at 5100 Cornell avenue, was 89 years old. Her father was J. J. Sands, Chicago brewer. The Sands family left Philadelphia shortly after the big fire there and came here a little while before the Chicago fire. Mrs. Lyon is survived by her son, George W. Lyon. Her husband died in 1894.

Physician Uses Finnish Method to Fight Disease

Maryville, Mo., Jan. 25 (AP).—Dr. R. M. Lilley has solved the problem of making country calls over the snow-drifted roads blocking traffic in the Maryville area. The Maitland, Mo., physician drives as far as he can by automobile, then skis the remaining way to his patient.

PETER ANDERSON DIES; G. O. P. STALWART SAID HE VOTED FOR 80 YEARS

Peter Anderson, who said he had voted in every election for more than 80 years, died yesterday in Salem Lutheran home in Joliet. He was said to be 104 years old. He had lived in Joliet since moving from Sibley, Ill., where he spent most of his life after coming from Sweden as a youth. Anderson, a staunch Republican, was proud of his voting record. His mind remained alert and he read constantly until the recent failure of his sight. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon in the home.

MRS. M'INNERNEY, WIFE OF DAIRY EXECUTIVE, DIES

Mrs. Jessica Smith McInnerney, wife of Thomas H. McInnerney, president of the National Dairy Products corporation of New York, died yesterday in her drawing room on the Broadway Limited while enroute to Chicago. She was 73 years old.

Mrs. McInnerney was accompanied on the trip from New York by her niece, Miss Catherine Ridgefield. She had planned to meet her husband at Kansas City, Mo., and then go to the west coast. McInnerney was notified of his wife's death and was on his way to Chicago last night.

Mrs. McInnerney was known as a patron of the arts in Chicago, where she and her husband lived from 1912 to 1926, and in New York. The McInnerneys maintained homes in New York and Greenwich, Conn. She was a member of the National Orchestral association, and a contributor to the Musicians' Emergency fund. Funeral services will be held today in the chapel at 200 East Erie street. Burial will be in Flint, Mich.

REFUGEE TRIES SUICIDE IN GRIEF OVER PARENTS

George Hoenig, 23 years old, a refugee from Germanized Austria, attempted to kill himself with gas yesterday. He told police later that he was despondent over the plight of his parents abroad, and because of a broken love affair.

Hoenig was found in his gas filled apartment at 5235 Cornell avenue, and revived by an inhalator squad. He was taken to the Hyde Park police station. There he said he fled Austria after its seizure by Germany. Recently, he said, he received a letter telling that his parents, in what was formerly Czecho-Slovakia, were destitute and suffering.

On top of that, he said, a young woman—also a refugee—whom he hoped to marry, had returned his wedding ring.

LOOSE BUSINESS SHACKLES, URGES HUGH S. JOHNSON

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, speaking last night in the Chicago Athletic association, said that "the greatest prosperity that has occurred in our generation" would occur almost instantly if the fear of government interference in business were removed.

"The last 10 years proved that nothing that any power in government can do can cure depression," the former NRA administrator said. "But that government exercising power in the field of business can prolong and deepen a depression. There is more idle money and credit hiding in banks and other places than this country—or this world—has ever known. It is afraid to go back to work."

Gen. Johnson said that he thought it possible Roosevelt might be drafted for a third term at the Democratic convention, but that the Republicans have a good chance of winning the presidential campaign "with a strong middle-of-the-road platform and a strong candidate."

BY MARY MEADE.

Fresh vegetable and grapefruit prices are high. When snow and zero weather sweep the southern states Chicago market prices go up like a thermometer in a heat wave.

But if fresh vegetables are higher, there are canned goods sales a-plenty—many of them in honor of the national canners' convention this week. And there is ample opportunity to make up a few pennies' loss over at the meat counter where you'll find bargain items.

Children, Here's Bad News.

Almost all green vegetables have been hit by cold weather. Spinach prices have doubled since last week. Cabbage and bunch beets are much higher. Higher prices are asked also for green beans, broccoli, brussels sprouts, carrots, greens, tomatoes, onions, peas, peppers, sweet potatoes, and radishes. The only vegetables that have stayed somewhere near last week's levels are celery and cauliflower and those which are coming from storage or nearby hothouses.

The Texas grapefruit crop is being put into cans as rapidly as possible. Little of it is fit for fresh shipment. Since most grapefruit on the Chicago market has been coming from Texas the price trend of this citrus fruit is decidedly upward.

Oranges Still Reasonable.

Texas oranges now make up only a small part of the total offered, so orange prices are still reasonable. Prices of other fruits remain about the same.

It's pork loin roast for Sunday dinner if you're trying to save money. Pork loin is a bargain this week and widely featured. Smoked pork cuts, picnics, and butts are also good buys.

Beef rib and pot roasts are not out of budget limits. There are some good buys in lamp chops available. Poultry is being featured in several stores.

HERE'S PAMPHLET WITH HINTS FOR TOUR WARDROBE

For Friday food page readers who are taking a vacation this winter, getting away from household tasks and the kitchen stove for a couple of weeks, we have a pamphlet entitled "Vacation Wardrobes." It will help you know what kind of clothes and how many to take to Bermuda, Haiti, or the north woods. It contains also a little chart of the temperatures to expect at various popular winter resorts during January and February. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Helen Bartlett, Etiquet Editor, CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Vital Statistics

MENU BOOKLET, ENDS WORRIES OF VALENTINE PARTY

Contains Recipes for Every Dish.

February parties dressed up in pink hearts and lace or patriotic bunting are just a flip of the calendar away. It's time now for the foresighted hostess to begin making her plans.

For that bridge club date that looms around the 14th of the month, how about a menu composed of Queen of Hearts salad, comic valentine sandwiches, avocado stuffed celery, coconut ice box cake and coffee?

It's All in the Booklet.

The menu is taken word for word and heart for heart from Mary Meade's holiday booklet. And it is only one of many menus for February entertaining included in the booklet. What's more there are recipes for all the holiday dishes in the menus.

"Holidays and Holiday Meals" is yours for 20 cents, or 23 cents in stamps by mail. You'll find additional Valentine's day receipes in "Heart Shaped Parties for Valentine's Day," at 2 cents; 3 cents by mail. CRUNCHY CORNFLAKE COATING IS SECRET OF THIS CARROT DISH

CRUNCHY CARROTS.
[Serves 6.]

6 carrots, medium
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1½ cups crushed cornflakes
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
⅛ teaspoon paprika

Roll whole cooked carrots in melted butter or margarine, then in crushed cornflakes. Season with salt, pepper, and paprika and place in shallow tray under moderate broiler until golden brown, about 10 minutes.

SYNOPSIS.

On the eve of her marriage Cynthia Brentiford, fashion artist, is sentenced to 18 months in prison under the name of Clara Brown, an innocent accomplice in crime with Rory Clarke. Unaware of the disaster her fiancé, Michael Alloway, is on his way from Malta for the wedding. At Honebyker, Cynthia's childhood playmate, Bessie Stockley, is a prison wardress. Bessie manages to change places with Cynthia and lets Cynthia have her two weeks' leave as wardress and marry Michael. After the honeymoon Cynthia persuades Michael to go back to Malta alone, pretending she has to have an operation and will join him later. Returning to prison, Cynthia discovers she is going to have a baby. Determined not to have her child born in prison Cynthia escapes. In her flat she finds Michael's sister Marion who has been worried by Cynthia's silence. Explaining everything as a lapse of memory, Cynthia goes to stay with Michael's people. Rory Clarke trails her there and blackmails her. Marion's suspicions are aroused. Anonymously Cynthia informs Scotland Yard where Rory Clarke can be captured. Clarke escapes, but the police trace Cynthia's phone call. Detective Stevens arrives to interview Cynthia and makes Marion even more suspicious. Gen. Sir William Merrowbridge offers to let Cynthia fly to Malta with him—and she sees a chance to escape.

INSTALMENT XVII.

PLANS FOR FLIGHT.

The general was glad to do anything in a hurry. In half an hour he had booked Cynthia's passage for the following Wednesday.

In the meantime in the Taunton public library Marion was looking thru the London directory without result. Then she tried the law list, but still could not find a solicitor of the name of Brentiford nor a firm of the name of Stainham. But she found the address of the Law society and, betaking herself to a postoffice, there and then wrote to that body for information.

In the shooting affray at Paddington the bystander and one police officer had been wounded only slightly, but the other officer was expected to be in the hospital for three months.

"Your men tackled him even when they knew he was armed—they did all they could, Rason. There's no complaint of the discipline," said the chief commissioner. "All the same, it's a very unfortunate incident. When a man's pulled a gun in this country we've got to get him. If the idea once gets a start that a gun helps a crook, we're opening the floodgates."

"Yes, sir," said Rason dutifully. "In this case Rory Clarke is one of the few crooks who really understands disguise. We're bound to get him sooner or later—he knows that. That's why I'm confident he'll try to get out of the country."

The chief stared unhappily at a very long list of men specially employed to look for Rory Clarke.

"We shan't miss anything at the ports, sir—nor the airports. Disguise or not, every man of the height of Clarke, whatever his face looks like, will be asked to show his passport."

"Whether he's with a girl or not?"

"Yes, sir. But there's not much chance of their being together—if it was the girl who tipped us off on the telephone from Exmoor. I don't see who else it could have been. There must be some other man toting her around in a car."

The chief stroked his chin.

"That girl is another hard nut to crack. She doesn't line up with the others, does she, Rason? Look at that escape—the work of a most resourceful crook. But her prison report is all in the other direction. 'Of refined habits and apparently ignorant of crook slang.'"

"It did occur to me at the time, sir, that the jury might have made a mistake."

"Suppose she was a society girl who had fallen for Clarke in the ordinary way? Once she got away, she may have bolted back to a titled family as if nothing had happened. In that case I don't suppose we shall ever get her."

The chief laughed.

Again Rason agreed. But it was his private conviction that, whoever she was, she would not be such a fool as that.

Cynthia found a great deal to do between her return from Devon and leaving for Malta. There were no farewells to take, for all her friends believed that she had left England already with Michael; but there was the problem of her flat.

The conviction came to her that she must retain this place for a while as a stronghold or retreat. "If I find I don't need it after all, I can always let it furnished," she told herself.

Her final conclusions, therefore, sent her to her bank, where she made arrangements for the rent to be paid from her account. The payments made to Clarke and to Bessie had wiped out her current account and eaten into her deposit; nevertheless, she drew further a substantial sum in currency for her own needs. For since first she had planned her trousseau, summer had gone and she required, if only for the journey, warmer and heavier wear.

She intended to buy only a few sober necessaries. But once in the huge, softly carpeted stores, a delicious craziness seized her. Time slipped back and she was again selecting her trousseau before her wedding to Michael, and this time no invitation to dance and sup with Rory Clarke brought disaster crashing down upon her, to split her life in two. This time she was able to complete her lists, even to a glossy trunk in which her outfit would be packed by the shop and sent out to her by rail and steamer. Two things not on the original lists she bought on impulse as she scurried back to Cotswold Mansions—a really good fur coat for herself because she had always wanted one and at least Rory Clarke couldn't take her clothes off her back!—and an absurd, appealing, cuddly woolly bear.

The porter of the flats had supplied a domestic cleaner and with this woman Cynthia worked until far into the evening. Locking away what she valued, preparing the rooms for a possible tenant, collecting and packing everything else. Only one suitcase could be taken on the plane, so that again separate arrangements had to be made for the rest of the luggage. Here the porter proved himself a tower of strength and long after the cleaner had gone, he was strapping and locking the heavier pieces.

"There was a gentleman came here asking for you this afternoon," he remarked as Cynthia crammed the woolly bear into her case and knelt triumphantly upon it. "Clean went out of my head until this minute. Name of Stainham."

The triumph faded from Cynthia's heart. Rory Clarke! What a fool she was to forget him, even for a day. He might well return this evening, tireless in pursuit of her.

She looked around the clean, tidy flat, so oddly bare. Her task here was done.

"I think," she said as casually as possible, "that I'll change my mind and get down to Croydon tonight. Then I shall be sure to be on time tomorrow morning! I know of a hotel. . . . And if that gentleman calls again, my address is just 'Malta,' you understand?"

The porter nodded, looking at her curiously. It was not the first time in his experience that girls—even newly married—quitted their bachelor flats leaving no address behind.

"Splendid!" said the general, "and just on the stroke. Must say I do like a punctual woman!"

He took charge of her suitcase, talking genially.

"I haven't had time to be nervous yet," said Cynthia. "Please don't laugh at me if I start dithering when the thing moves."

"I'll look after you," chortled the general. "Come along now, we've got to pass thru this barrier."

The general, who had Cynthia's ticket, went first. As she folowed him, a man, after staring at her, stepped forward.

"Can I see your passport, please, madam?"

"Passport!" puffed the general. "We're not entering the country, we're leaving it. First time I've been asked for a passport—here you are!"

GASOLINE ALLEY—INSIDE STUFF

CARVING A HAM IS EASY IF YOU FOLLOW RULES

Here Are a Few Tips for Guidance of Host.

When the host is called on to carve ham it's not always a whole ham that is set before him. More likely than not it's a half ham, a picnic shoulder, or even a center cut slice.

Of the three, a picnic shoulder is most like a whole ham, and the procedures in carving both are almost identical. The picnic shoulder may not be so festively decked out as a whole ham, but it usually wears some kind of garnish which must be on display at the table. The shank end of the ham points to the right.

As in a whole ham, the carver first cuts two or three lengthwise slices from the smaller side of the ham. This may be the side closest to him or farthest away, depending on whether it is a right or a left shoulder that he is carving. The shoulder is then turned so that it rests on this cut surface.

Make It Steady First.

Beginning at the right, the shank end, the carver makes parallel slices down to the bone. Slices are all released at once by cutting along the bone.

Carving a half ham is easier than carving a whole ham. It is easy to place the leg bone, because it can be seen at the face of the ham where it was cut in two.

The carver first removes the entire thicker side or cushion section of the ham. He turns it over on the cut side and slices it, beginning at the large end. For further servings the shank of the ham is removed by cutting thru and severing the joint of the shank and leg bones. The meaty section is turned onto the cut side and sliced.

Slice from Top Down.

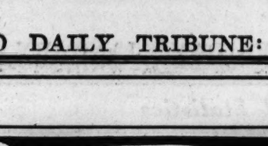

Have the H bone removed at the market if the half ham you buy is the butt or loin end. In carving this piece the face or cut surface of the ham is toward the carver's right. He simply slices the meat from the top down parallel to the face of the ham.

A center cut ham slice is easiest of all to carve. The cut is first divided in thirds, with the two cutting lines meeting at the bone. Each of these three sections is then carved in turn. Turn one of the sections on its side so that the fat edge is up and slice it across the grain. Proceed to the next section if this does not make enough servings. The bone must be removed with the tip of the knife before the end section can be sliced.

Carving of Hams

Picnic shoulder is carved almost exactly like a whole ham. Slices are first cut from the smaller, meaty side and the shoulder is turned so that it rests on this surface. Slices are then made down to the bone, starting at the shank end. The slices are released by cutting along the bone.

To carve the shank end of a half ham, the cushion section (thicker meaty side) must first be removed. It is then turned on the cut side and sliced, beginning at the large end. Next the shank is removed by cutting thru the joint. The bone is removed from remaining meaty section, which is then turned onto the cut surface and sliced.

Divide a center cut ham slice in thirds. Turn one section on its side and slice it. Carve the remaining sections in the same way, being sure to remove the bone from the end section before slicing it.

HOT SANDWICHES SUIT THE TASTE IN COLD WEATHER

Wherever hungry people convene in cold weather, be it for skating or skiing or card playing, hot sandwiches hit the spot. Here are a few hot sandwich ideas you'll want to try.

HOT SANDWICH FILLINGS.

1. Ground beef, browned in butter on bun halves. Cover with strips of bacon and broil.
2. Sliced roast meat of any kind, reheated in a skillet in barbecue sauce or in chili sauce.
3. Hot baked beans, mixed with catsup to taste.
4. Hamburger patties and raw onion slices on bun halves served with plenty of spicy tomato or cheese sauce.
5. Broiled Canadian bacon and thin slices of pineapple and American cheese in a grilled sandwich.

EVERY ONE LIKES TO HAVE A HAND IN COOKIE JAR

So Cookie Maker Must Keep Her Hand In.

Everybody likes a full cookie jar—and everybody shows his appreciation by trying as quickly as possible to make that cookie jar anything but "full."

It's hard on the cookie baker whose only recourse is to select cookies that are as easy to bake as they are to eat. Here are two cookies you can stir up while the oven is heating—and your family will gobble them up while the oven is cooling.

QUICK BROWNIES.

⅔ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup butter or other shortening
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
⅔ cup nut meats

Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together. Melt butter and chocolate together over hot water and add to sugar and eggs which have been beaten together. Add sifted dry ingredients, beat thoroly, and add vanilla and nutmeats. Spread to one-half inch thickness in greased, shallow pan and bake in a moderate [350 degrees] oven for 30 minutes or until done.

PEANUT BUTTER CRUNCHIES.

½ cup peanut butter
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup butter
1 egg
1 teaspoon soda
1¼ cups sifted flour

Cream sugars, peanut butter, and butter together. Add unbeaten egg, beating well, and flour and soda sifted together. Shape into small balls and place in ungreased cookie sheet. Press down with tines of fork. Bake in moderate [350 degrees] oven for 10 minutes or until done.

Know How to Set a Table? Write to Etiquet Editor

Do you ever question the correctness of your luncheon table? Is the bread and butter plate with its accompanying spreader in the accepted position? Is the service from the right or from the left? Chipped Beef and Pineapple Wedges Tasty Appetizers

Tasty little appetizers, made with chipped beef and pineapple wedges, are a perfect beginning for any company meal. Drain the pineapple wedges and wrap them in narrow strips of chipped beef, spread with cream cheese, and soften and season with Worcestershire sauce. Fasten with cocktail picks and broil or bake in a hot oven until frizzled. Serve immediately.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

Barons of Hollywood.

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 25.—I guess Cecil B. De Mille is the last of the feudal lords of Hollywood. . . . Once the town had a score of them who lived in the grand manner, masters of the magnificent gesture. But the castles they owned are now for rent, the dynasties have crumbled, and Hollywood now is populated by a younger crowd, less colorful than the old-timers, but thriftier.

De Mille, however, still lives in baronial style. . . . His office at home is no ordinary office. Once it was the honeymoon mansion of Charlie Chaplin and Mildred Harris, and was quite a show place on its own. . . . Chaplin's bedroom is now tenanted by De Mille's butler. The Chaplin living room is now De Mille's office. . . . There is a swimming pool, but eccentric De Mille, in true baronial fashion, never has been in it in 20 years. . . . He dislikes still water for swimming.

From the time that De Mille rises about 6 a. m., and kisses his wife at breakfast, the magnificent gesture is continued. . . . He walks thru a long corridor of the house, lined with books and souvenirs of his pictures, to "The Office," where two secretaries meet him, one with papers relating to private business, the other with letters and memos concerning whatever picture he is working on currently. At the moment the picture is "Northwest Mounted Police." . . . They are joined later by his business manager. . . . His work completed at home, the two secretaries and the business manager escort him to his car and they wave him out of sight.

Arriving at Paramount studios, De Mille is met by Bill Pine, his associate producer, and three more secretaries. . . . At night these four wave him off and he returns to his house to be greeted by the two home secretaries. . . . There is one thing to be said for him: De Mille gives employment to a lot of people in the best baronial tradition.

The Warner brothers—Harry and Jack—live life on a broad scale. . . . Jack has a magnificent mansion in Beverly Hills. . . . By merely pressing buttons, phonograph music is directed to any desired spot on the estate and at the luncheon table, when the telephone rings, Jack can reach right under the table and come up with a concealed telephone on which to carry on conversations with London, Paris, Budapest, or Melbourne.

Harry M. Warner has hundreds of acres out in the valley near the Warner ranch which is used for outdoor sequels in pictures. . . . Passionately devoted to the soil ever since he was a boy, "H. M." takes great pride in the home he constructed out there. . . . To satisfy, perhaps, a whim, he had workmen tear down a mountain behind the house and level it off, and in the cleared space he erected a tennis court and a run for fowl. . . . In his spare time Harry Warner flogs the town and its celebrities in behalf of charity, and probably every celeb in this town has, at one time or another, received one of his caustic letters for failure to donate to charitable causes. . . . "Why make bad friends for yourself, Harry?" asks his wife. . . . "Some one must do it," he bristles.

Sam Goldwyn lives in the Beverly hills in a pleasant home. . . . Goldwyn, thoughtful, appreciative, and gregarious, is forever meeting people whose company he enjoys and reminding himself to invite them to dinner. . . . As a result, his wife, Frances, quite often gives dinner parties, and there is no hostess in the colony who is more adept or gracious.

Conversation at dinner runs the gamut of topical things, and after dinner the guests retire to the living room, where shorts and a picture are projected. . . . By opening the front of the projection booth the servants also can witness the picture.

Zanuck, Winnie Sheehan, L. B. Mayer, the Selznicks—all of these would fit into the baronial picture of Hollywood. . . . Mayer, more than most, typifies the feudal lord concept; men go out of their way to speak to him, because he is the lord of M.-G.-M., and his decisions can affect careers quicker than you can Leo the Lion.

Yet of them all, 58 year old Cecil Blount De Mille best fills the picture, because he spreads on canvas the last of the terrific, colossal and gigantic productions of the industry. . . . Thousands of extras roam thru his scenes, entire trains are derailed, mountains are blown up, Christians are tossed to the lions, Cleopatras scuttle Marc Anthonys. . . . I often think that the boy from Ashfield, Mass., often must fill himself with amazement.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Well, at last, I can say it!

I HAVE seen "Gone with the Wind"! It HAS everything the producers claimed for it, including length. [Which is certainly being something or other in the line of the ultimate.]

How did they get that great, long book into a movie without chopping it to pieces?

Don't ask me—but they've done it. Miss Mitchell's thousand page novel re the fall of the south and the desolation that followed, has resolved itself into a motion picture of power, sweep, beauty—and bitterness. It oozes hate. There's not a decent Yankee in the piece. Not a tolerant word for the north. I can't understand why there should have been any concern about its reception in the south.

How wrong one can be! I was one who thought that Mr. Selznick should have contented himself with an American girl for the rôle of Scarlett. Now it seems to me that Vivien Leigh is the only one who COULD have played the part and I bow to the intelligence and canny knowledge of human nature displayed by her selection. She is unique. She IS Scarlett—with all her beauty, hypocrisy, ruthlessness, determination, great bravery and the unbounded vitality which carried her triumphantly thru every crisis.

She completely dominates the picture, and the sex battle between her and Rhett Butler, dominates your interest, the while you absorb the color and atmosphere of background-ing events.

Without doubt "Gone with the Wind" is one of the greatest spectacles in color ever screened. . . . Scenes you will never forget are those in an Atlanta hospital, and in the streets of the city, which last become sad bedding places for thousands of the wounded and dying. These stand out in pathetic and terrible contrast to episodes of the lazy, carefree prewar era in a south of cavaliers and ladies and gracious living—a period soon to be gone—with the wind. . . .

Characterizations are all sharply etched. . . Probably no one—with the exception of Spencer Tracy—could have BEEN Rhett Butler more believably than is Mr. Gable. . . .

Olivia de Haviland's Melanie is a true and lovely portrayal of a great and kindly lady—as good in its way as is the Scarlett of Miss Leigh. . . . Excellent, too, is Leslie Howard's weak, bewildered, lovable Ashley Wilkes. . . . Laurels to big, colored Hattie McDaniels as Mammy, and to little, black Butterfly McQueen for dandy "bit" work as Prissy. The whole cast is absolutely swell.

GREAT direction!

And now it must be said. "Gone with the Wind" IS too long. There are many places where it could have been cut to advantage. Especially do the last scenes drag. BUT—

You'll never rest till you SEE the film—and, if you cared for the book, you'll be crazy for the movie.

West Side Illinae Hold Annual Benefit Tomorrow

The west side group of the Chicago Illinois club will hold its annual card party tomorrow afternoon at the 19th Century club in Oak Park. Former women students of the University of Illinois and their friends are invited. The party will benefit the loan fund for women maintained at the university by the club and also the annual Christmas party for children in the Illinois Research and Educational hospital.

A New Coat for Spring

[Charmante Photo.]

One of the first new spring coats in navy blue wool is cut with spectacular but fake side pockets. Three oblong flaps keep the pockets flat. A crisp white lingerie frill accents the deep vee neckline, a zipper keeps the smooth streamline and white accessories complete the ensemble.

Ice Boat Races Open Today at Williams Bay

BY JUDITH CASS.

OUR correspondent at Lake Geneva writes that Williams Bay has taken on a slightly June in January aspect in spite of snowy hills and glassy lake. Preparations are complete for the biggest midwestern iceboating event of the year, the annual regatta of the Northwestern Ice Yacht association. Yachts have been arriving for several days on trucks, trailers, and trains. The regatta will be sailed today, tomorrow, and Sunday.

Over 100 yachts are expected in the races, which are open to all classes. There are yachts from Detroit, Madison, Neenah, Oconomowoc, Pewaukee, Fox Lake, and Delavan. Chicagoans who have homes at the lake seem glad of an excuse to open their homes and to fill them with guests for the week-end. Among those who will have house parties are Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Gartz Jr., and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vilas Jr., all ardent iceboating enthusiasts. Mr. Vilas was among the winners of the Skeeter races held last Sunday on Lake Geneva. The young Philip Starcks will have a house full of guests and so will Nathan Hunt, whose place is next to the estate of the William N. Pelouzes. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wakeley have entered a yacht and will keep open house at Wakewood during the days of the regatta.

Other Enthusiasts to Watch Races.

Robert G. Ferris, who has won many of the Lake Geneva Skeeter races with his Tormentor III., will be among the bachelor hosts to the visitors. The Henry H. Porters are not entering their yacht in the races, but they will be among the spectators with their cousins, the Henry P. Ishams. So will Hubbard Carpenter, an ardent ice yachtsman, and William C. Grunow, who recently joined the ranks of ice sailors, but who will content himself with watching this year. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Curtis are coming from Florida especially for the regatta.

Several homes at Delavan Lake, which is only five miles from Williams Bay, will be open for the event also. One of Delavan's intrepid ice skimmers, Russell Crawford Jr., whose parents have a home there, will have a house full of visiting yachtsmen. So will Mr. and Mrs. Elmer T. Stevens.

First Snow Train Will Run Sunday.

Chicago's first snow train will pull out of the Union station at 7:15 o'clock on Sunday morning, bound for La Crosse, Wis., and a full day of winter sports. Following the successful pattern of snow trains that leave New York on winter week-ends, there will be dancing in a baggage-recreation car — for those with enough pep left after a busy day on the "Mississippi Alps."

The Lawrence Denmans, the Gilbert Osgoods, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Williams, the William W. Millers, the Stewart Boals, and possibly the Corwith Hamills, Miss Barbara Hobart, and Henry Meers will be among those taking the train. They are members of the Snow Chase club, which is sponsoring the one day trip along Quip.

A certain celebrity owns a Rolls-Royce which he has had painted green. His chauffeur and footman wear lavender livery. His car was waiting in front of a New York hotel for him. When he descended in the hotel elevator a second passenger, who got out ahead of him, walked out and started to get in the spectacular equipage at the curb.

"I'm sorry, that's my car," said the celebrity.

"O, I beg your pardon. I have one just like it," answered the other.

Cuff Notes.

Richard Ainley, who plays juvenile lead in Easy Virtue—he is the son of Richard Ainley, retired English Shakespearean actor—and Robin Douglas, also son of a famous father (Norman Douglas) renewed acquaintance after six years the other evening, with Constance Bennett at the Colony club. . . . Quip from Frank Norris, in a note to Bob McNamara Jr.: "We're looking for a Chinaman to introduce us to Cathay society." . . . Bill Robinson, Ray Bolger, and Paul Draper held an informal dance session backstage at the Chicago the other day. The Auditorium put in a new stage for Robinson's tap dancing in Hot Mikado, by the way. Bill Robinson has bought a box for Marian Anderson's concert at the Auditorium Sunday afternoon, and she went there Monday evening to see him. . . . Speaking of theaters, the Blackstone is being painted and refurbished for the occupancy of Clarence Day Jr.'s Life with Father, in which Lillian Gish will play the rôle of Mrs. Day. Mrs. Day herself will be out for the Chicago opening. The Days have a number of Chicago connections, and the late Mr. Day was a member of a Chicago brokerage firm in the '80s—Gwynne, Day & Johnson.

The green uniformed, white gloved elevator operators in one of the largest department stores are "stewardesses," according to the card in the elevator that bears the number of the operator. . . . That befurred and jeweled beauty at the Panther room the other evening was Anita Louise. . . . The committee from the Travelers' Aid society that is running the Globe Trotters' ball has an office at the Drake, where the ball is to be given Feb. 2. When some one telephoned the hotel and asked for Travelers' Aid, he was promptly given the hotel porter. . . . Worst pun of the month, Jack Garber's about the press agent who took a girl writer out on a date. When he tried to kiss her she threw a rejection slap at him.

Remembered Forgotten Man.

A Chicagoan was telling Arnold Davis, New York newspaperman, of the fine work done by Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes thru the Patriotic Foundation of Chicago, which is seeking recognition for Haym Salomon, known as "the forgotten patriot of the American revolution."

"Yes," agreed Davis. "In fact, we've read so much about him lately that newspapermen in the east have begun to call Salomon the most remembered forgotten man in history!"

Camp Kawaga Reunion.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

Add 20th century nuisances: Going to bed each night with a net on your hair. What strikes us as the only graceful solution to the problem is the appearance recently of long nets in color. They are as different from the dull old brown jobs as butterflies from earthworms.

There are two decided advantages to these new nets. One is that they are long—a bit more than a yard, we'd guess—with rather decorative patterning at the selvage edges. With a couple of swoops and twists you can make a turban, and Lord knows a trim turban is better looking any day than the usual net cap. Better at holding the hair up well, too.

The second advantage of these is purely an esthetic one. They come in wonderful colors. You can find one to harmonize or contrast with any negligee or house coat and if you choose your color well you'll look decorative instead of dowdy. For gray hair, for example, there is a beauty in a royal purple.

There are lovely blues and reds. And perhaps what we like best about them is that these are rather unusual colors. Those "feminine pastels," as the ad writers call them, are pretty tiresome; in these nets you can get away from the eternal baby blues, pale pinks, and peach shades that popular opinion has decided are boudoir colors.

We found these in a beauty salon and we love them. In the same shop we also found some real shell barrettes that are knockouts. You might look at these, too.

Flagstad Rows with Director; May Quit Met

New York, Jan. 25.—A temperamental storm threatened tonight to deprive the Metropolitan Opera indefinitely of the services of its world famous soprano, Mme. Kirsten Flagstad, and drove General Manager Edward Johnson to temporary flight.

Mme. Flagstad and Lauritz Melchior, a leading Wagnerian tenor for 14 years, don't want Leinsdorf to conduct.

Friends of the great soprano, who was reported ill, said she was determined never again to appear in a Waynerian opera so long as young Leinsdorf was conducting and that she declared he did not offer the proper cues.

Melchior, while not so sweeping in his demands, complained of Leinsdorf's changes in tempo. He declared his belief that Leinsdorf was a "genius," but an immature one.

Johnson used words like "unsportsmanlike" and "childish," and thus announced his position:

"There are some old boats in the company. There are those who, because they have exalted egos since they have no competition for their rôles, would like to be dictators of the Metropolitan. The operatic art and this institution are greater than these and they will be here, along with Mr. Leinsdorf, long after they are gone."

Foundation for Boys' Clubs Celebrates 20th Birthday

During the last 20 years members of the Union League club have contributed $1,080,233 to the Union League Foundation for Boys' Clubs, it was disclosed yesterday at the foundation's annual meeting. The meeting celebrated the foundation's 20th anniversary. More than 30,000 boys from underprivileged areas have participated in the boys' clubs. Elliott Donnelley succeeds A. W. Warner as president of the foundation.

Milstein Joins in Tribute to Tschaikowsky

BY EDWARD BARRY.

If he had been spared, gloomy Tschaikowsky would now be gloomily preparing to celebrate his 100th birthday, which will fall on May 7 next. Because that date is after the season proper, the Chicago Symphony orchestra is recognizing the centenary early. The Orchestra hall programs of last night and this afternoon are all-Tschaikowsky. Frederick Stock is conducting and Nathan Milstein appearing as violin soloist.

Mr. Milstein's performance of the Tschaikowsky concerto last night drew a few gasps even from those to whom his prowess is an old story. There was a pianissimo phrase which hovered just this side of silence—which a dropping pin would have quite drowned out. There was a haunted, misted quality in the final statement of the first movement's second subject that would have drawn tears from Joe Louis himself.

For these and for better reasons [the integrity and the splendor of the performance as a whole] Mr. Milstein was given an ovation at the concerto's end. He played the fifth and seventeenth caprices of Paganini as encores.

The program's other principal item was the symphony after Byron's "Manfred," an extremely romantic creation complete with lost loves, Alpine crags, subterranean orgies, and all the rest. It was performed last night with a great windy sweep. The brasses gave their sonorous calls the proper epic character. The strings painted the lost love so convincingly that listeners were willing to swear that they would recognize her photograph. The piece made a favorable impression, and intermission strollers inquired of one another why this should not be as popular a work as the same composer's three familiar symphonies.

Besides the concerto and the symphony, the program held the introduction and fugue from the first orchestral suite.

Satin Smoothness for "Winter Hands"

Do your hands look older in the winter time than they do in the summer—simply because they're dry and rough? Keep them satin smooth by using Peau Seche (Po Sesh) Liquid Skin Groom every morning! So pure it's used for babies! Just press the handy dispenser top and out comes a delightful liquid cream. Try it as a powder base—gives a satin smooth foundation for make-up and really protects the skin! Modestly priced at 59c with Dispenser Top.

with the La Crosse Ski club and the Illinois Skating association.

The New York Hound show to be held today is different from all other dog shows, for the hounds are not show ones. They are hunting hounds, born and bred for that sport. Hounds from about 30 packs are entered and all types are represented, English, crossbred, American, harriers, bassets, and beagles. Tonight the annual meeting and dinner of the Masters of Foxhounds association will be held at the Union club in New York.

Clark J. Lawrence and Denison B. Hull, joint masters of the Longmeadow hunt, are in New York for the show and the meeting.

An expert on Finnish affairs, John H. Wuorinen, will address the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations at a luncheon meeting at 12:30 o'clock today in the grand ballroom of the Palmer House. Mr. Wuorinen, professor of history at Columbia university, has made repeated visits to Finland. His topic will be "Finland's Capacity to Resist."

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

It is the opinion of most experts that defense play is the ne plus ultra of bridge, and indeed it is a fact that some of the most subtle and brilliant coups can be made against the declarer. The play described in today's hand does not deserve inclusion in this exalted rank, but it does point out the difference between imaginative and wooden defense.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 spades	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

North's final bid was questionable, but was based on a strong aversion to playing the hand just one short of game.

West chose the eight of spades as the lead least apt to do harm. Declarer's ace captured East's king, and, after careful analysis of the situation, declarer laid down the ace of diamonds. He could not afford to draw trumps, because he did not yet know the lay of certain key cards, nor could he be sure of the trump division itself. At the third trick he led a small heart toward dummy's queen. West hopped up with the king, and correctly returned a heart, to remove dummy's only visible entry.

Declarer now led dummy's diamond queen, intending a ruffing-finesse thru East. But East had been able to draw a shrewd deduction from the manner in which declarer had begun to play the hand, and he saw that it was almost a certainty that South had started with the singleton diamond ace and was now attempting to establish dummy's suit. East knew that if he failed to cover the queen, declarer would not be trapped into a ruff, that he would merely discard. But East knew more than that! He could count that his partner's [West's] ten of diamonds would fall on the third round of the suit, which would automatically establish three remaining diamonds. Thus, if he were to cover the queen and South were to ruff, trumps would be drawn and, when dummy was reentered with either a heart ruff or the nine of spades, declarer would have no choice but to lay down the diamond jack, whereupon he would find the suit ready made. Therefore, East determined to give declarer "a guess." He passed the diamond queen, and, as expected, declarer discarded a club. But now declarer was faced with a sheer guess. He could not tell whether to lead a low diamond or the jack. If East had started with three to the king, the former would be necessary, but if four to the king without the ten, the jack was the play.

Declarer cannot be censured for guessing wrong. He led the nine. East naturally ducked, and declarer ruffed. Declarer now attempted to take out dummy's clubs so that the third round could be ruffed, but the defenders led trumps and declarer found himself with one more loser than he had trumps in dummy with which to ruff.

Mother Should Have a Happy Life with Child

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS
[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The years up to 3 are among the loveliest in a child's life; I mean this time, loveliest for the mother. Of course they can be lovely and happy for the child, too; but what I started to say was that it always makes me a little bit sad to hear from any mother who experiences nothing but annoyance and fretfulness with a little son or daughter of 3. A child of this age is really very easily managed.

When a child is 3, home is his whole world and mother is the much loved center of it. He is busy, companionable, loving, and easily amused. His obedience can be gained very simply with tactfulness and affection.

The important things then are for a mother to be really interested in her young child as a person and to have a very real respect as well as affection for this young personality.

Another thing is for her to really enjoy the companionship of her child. If she feels that her little boy or girl interferes with things that she wants to do, and is not willing to give herself to the child in terms of time and response and interest, she is surely headed for trouble.

Comfortable Coverall Apron

WOMAN'S AND MISS' APRON.

Every homemaker, whether she has a large house or a kitchenette, needs at least one of those aprons which are slipped on over a dress and give full coverage insurance against soiling. This pattern makes one of them, and it's extremely simple to use. The V neckline, armholes, and surplice front are trimmed with ready made, easy-to-use bias binding, or it may be rickrack braid, if you wish. The belt slips thru notches and ties in the back. The pocket is optional. Use inexpensive cottons, plain or printed.

Style No. 3120 is designed for sizes small, medium, and large. The medium size requires 4⅝ yards of 39 inch material.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

For 15 cents buy the spring Chicago Tribune book of Clotilde Fashions, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower; 10 cents if ordered with a pattern. Address mail orders to the New York address above.

The New Extras Feature Colors of the Tropics

BY REA SEEGER.

Shoppers who will be snowbound until the first spring breeze can add the necessary pepper to a jaded winter wardrobe with the new accessories whose colors have South American names. Here is a chance to stay at home and still enjoy the tropics. Amazingly soft suede is the stuff that makes belts, slipon gloves, bags, and two good looking models in headgear.

One hat is a slick little beret with a fuzzy feather thru the side. The other is a skull-hugging affair with two long ends with which you contrive either a bow or an intricately swathed band.

The bags are large enough to satisfy the most exacting shopper, one a pouch the other a capacious oblong also with a wide strap. Smart slipon suede gloves and a swanky narrow belt with a suede covered buckle and jingling clips, necklaces, and bracelets this welcome assortment of high colors for dark wool winter clothes or for fur coats in dark colors.

The colors are sensationally eye-catching . . . a stunning tangerine, unusual because one seldom sees this perfect exotic orange peel shade. Two shades of blue, a south sea blue, dark as the deepest dye of the ocean, and a lighter shade with a suggestion of green turquoise blue, a gold color called banana gold, and the hottest Rio red shade any red enthusiast ever dreamed about.

Gloves, belts, bag, and hats match with the most satisfying exactness and what the tangerine and reds will do for black coffee brown, bronze green, and black background clothes will make fashion history. None of the stuff is priced prohibitively. A complete ensemble for a modest price will rejuvenate any dated costume.

Your Stars ★ Today ★

By WYNN

Friday, Jan. 26.

Judgment somewhat better today than in recent past, with call for it, especially in the domestic and romantic fields. Keep in mind the needs and rights of others; let not thine angry passions grip thee—and avoid all low feelings.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead till next birthday continues mental, community opportunities till May. Some gain thru home, in estate, thereafter; but watch health, deal with past. Danger: Feb. 18-28; June 28-July 17; Nov. 21-Dec. 2.

Tomorrow.

Very favorable vibrations for learning the true value of your schemes.

Volunteers Jam Luncheon Rally for Seeing Eye

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

A far greater number than was expected turned out for a luncheon the Chicago committee of the Seeing Eye gave yesterday at the Racquet club for the founder and president of the organization, Mrs. Harrison Eustis of Morristown, N. J. A small room adjoining the dining room was filled with the overflow crowd of 200.

The guests were principally the volunteers who are taking part in the second annual membership enrollment of the Seeing Eye. Also present were five Seeing Eye dogs and their blind masters, including Buddy II., whose master, Morris S. Frank of Nashville, Tenn., is a vice president of the Seeing Eye. Mr. Frank was the first person to have a Seeing Eye guide dog in America. That first dog was Buddy I.

Samuel S. Holmes, chairman of the Chicago committee, introduced Mrs. Frederick A. Preston, chairman of the membership drive. She, in turn, introduced Mrs. Eustis, who spoke words of encouragement to those who are about to start work enrolling members. It is their duty, Mrs. Eustis told the volunteers, to present the case of the Seeing Eye to the public so the public can see what the institution really is.

When the Seeing Eye school was established in Morristown 10 years ago, 20 dogs were trained in the first year. One hundred and fifty dogs will be trained in 1940.

Companionable Crochet Toy

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Crocheted dogs may easily take the place of a live pet if the baby is too young to play with a pup without being frightened. This puppy is easy to crochet, has a definite personality, and is unquestionably of Scotch origin. Even the tyro crochet worker may create one of these dogs in a short space of time.

For instructions in crocheting the Scotch dog, No. X-418, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Wise Mother Allows Son Early Dating

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

When a 17 year old boy falls in love for the first time, and his parents give him money to take his enamored one to the movies or dancing, he is a happy boy. But, if his parents object to his playing court to his girl, his emotions may do serious damage to his disposition, and suddenly change him from a carefree lad into a sullen, disobedient individual.

Therefore, when we receive a letter from a mother who wants to know if she is handling her son's first love affair wisely, we rejoice in being able to print her wonderful letter, so that other distraught mothers may read, and perhaps profit, by her expert handling of a difficult situation.

"I am wondering if I am doing the right thing to encourage my son, 17, to take his girl, 15, out to the movies or dancing every Friday night. I know the girl, who is just as sweet as she can be. Her parents, whom I also know, think my son is a nice friend for their daughter to have. The fly in the ointment is that my husband thinks Sonny is too young to go with girls.

"I realize that it is only natural for youngsters to want a little innocent fun, and I do not take their being in 'love' seriously. After a talk with my husband I finally succeeded in making him agree."

Jan. 26, 1940.

A strong, energetic day for those wide awake to opportunities. Rather on the chaotic side for those who are out of step. Those born on the 8-days [8-17-26] should not do important things on the 4-days; but on a 5-day like today, they may find they can expand and make changes that are beneficial. The whole year is favorable for changes for them. It is likely to be a lively year full of unexpected happenings.

STREET LIGHTING FAULTS STUDIED WITH NEW DEVICE

City's Traffic Experts See It in Action.

A machine which measures the visibility provided by street lights, which is depended on by the motorist to show up pedestrians and other autos at night, was tried out last night in the presence of Chicago traffic officials.

The machine, mounted on a Chicago Motor club safety car driven by George W. Barton, the club's traffic engineer and safety director, is known as a street lighting evaluator. It was invented in the General Electric laboratories at Cleveland and will be demonstrated by G. B. Buck Jr., research lighting engineer, at the American Road Builders' association convention opening Monday in the International amphitheater, 43d and Halsted streets.

Explained to Experts.

How the evaluator works and what it shows was explained by Buck to Ald. George Kells [28th], chairman of the council committee on traffic and safety; Leslie J. Sorenson, city traffic engineer; W. C. Brandes, Sorenson's assistant, and Charles M. Upham, engineer-director of the Road Builders' association.

A light meter which "looks" thru a tunnel at a miniature pavement mounted on the automobile's hood measures how well the street lights illuminate the actual pavement and obstacles on it. Color matching panels are used to simulate the surface under consideration. A device for measuring the amount of street lamp glare is placed above the car's windshield.

The evaluator was used in the laboratory on a 250 foot model pavement to determine what type of lighting provides the best visibility. Whether incandescent, sodium, or mercury lights were used, the most important factor was found to be how much light the pavement reflects toward the motorist, Buck said.

Develop Better Lighting.

Ordinary street lighting, consisting of a series of lamps which throw slightly overlapping cones of light, was found to be unsatisfactory, he said, because of the alternating areas of light and shadow which the motorist sees. This results from the fact that half of each lamp's light shines away from the motorist.

The difficulty was overcome, Buck said, by use of a style of reflector which cast light much farther down the pavement in each direction. In this way each cone of illumination was made to overlap halfway on the next cone in line and on the one behind it.

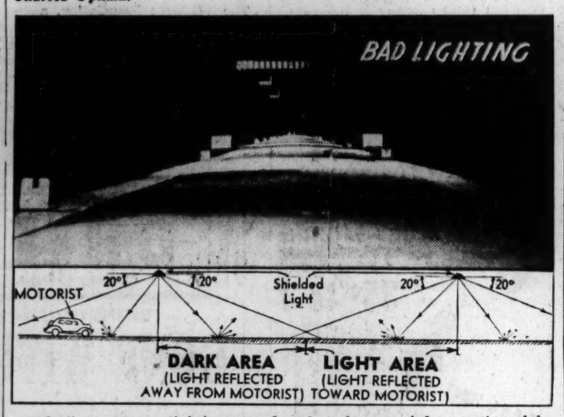

The importance of modernizing street lighting for greater visibility, said Buck, is shown in insurance company statistics which attribute 5,000 motor accident deaths a year to unsafe lighting.

Measuring Street Lighting Efficiency

Ordinary street lighting was found to be unsatisfactory in a laboratory test with the evaluator because of alternating bars of light and shadow from slightly interlapping illumination cones.

Better lighting was obtained by use of a reflector which cast light much farther down pavement. Illumination cones were thus made to overlap on the next cone in line.

Rent Free When It Freezes; That Cold for Eight Days

Corpus Christi, Tex., Jan. 25 (AP).—Fifteen tourist court and hotel operators advertised confidently at the start of the winter season that their accommodations would be rent free for every day the temperature dropped to freezing. It's been that way now for eight straight days.

FORMER DECATUR ASSESSOR DIES.

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 25 [Special].—James H. Winters, 80 years old, Decatur township assessor for three terms ending in 1933, died late last night. He was a resident of Decatur for 40 years. He formerly was a building contractor and served 10 years as deputy township assessor.

CARNIVAL PERIOD BRINGS COST RISE AT NEW ORLEANS

But Mardi Gras Visitors Can Pare Expenses.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New Orleans, La., Jan. 25.—The carnival season opens here next Wednesday and reaches its climax on Shrove Tuesday [Mardi Gras] the following week. It's an expensive altho glamorous time to visit this interesting old city, but we found a few ways that costs might be shaved.

The larger hotels are booked almost solid with reservations at inflated rates for this holiday week. If you can stand the tariff, however, you might still be able to get into one of the better hostelries. The cold wave is prompting some cancellations. The carnival, held since 1838 immediately preceding Lent, is the earliest this year since 1913.

Reservations Recommended.

At the hotels, with arrangements differing at various places, a guest can't pay for a room for only one night during the carnival. Instead he must pay for from three to five days regardless of how many days the room is used. The rate for single as well as for double occupancy is from $2 to $5 more than the regular double rate.

If the visitor arrives in New Orleans for the Mardi Gras without advance arrangements for lodging he'll be lucky to find any place to sleep. If you are one of the expected 75,000 to 90,000 visitors, you better have reservations before you leave home.

The New Orleans Association of Commerce is receiving applications for reservations in tourist courts and in private homes. According to the association, it can get you a cabin in a recommended camp for $3 a night per couple, or a room with a private bath in a home for $5 a night, or without a private bath for from $2 to $4 a night. And you pay for only those nights that you are going to occupy the rooms.

Food Prices Also Boosted.

Restaurants also boost prices for the Mardi Gras. This won't worry Chicagoans if they patronize the modest and not the famous places, because food here in normal times is lower than in Chicago. Neither meals nor room rentals have been hiked during this winter of heavy travel.

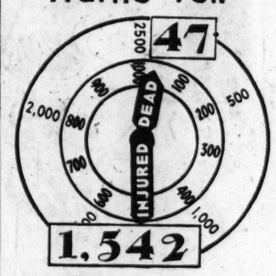

The distance here from Chicago by automobile is 967 miles over roads that no longer include dust and mud in Mississippi, the historical barrier to motor travel between Chicago and the gulf coast. Air and rail schedules are also convenient.

PAROLEE SEIZED IN ROBBERY QUIZ.

Harry Keyes, 23 years old, a paroled convict, was arrested last night for questioning in connection with recent robberies.

More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an urban superhighway.

STREET CAR-AUTO CRASH IN LOOP INJURES SEVEN

Seven passengers were injured last night in a collision between a Wabash avenue street car and an automobile at Benton place in the loop. Those injured were Edmund Ledbetter, 1722 Wabash avenue; Mrs. Francis Doyle, 1039 North Spaulding avenue; James Booze, 215 East 44th street; Joseph Lewis, 3158 Prairie avenue; Francis Luckett, 3904 Indiana avenue; Horton Odessa, 5133 Wabash avenue, and Mrs. Worelie Blackman, 4437 Prairie avenue, the last five being colored. Neither the automobile driver, August Okon, 3221 West 64th street, nor G. Dunkhardt, the motorman, was injured.

Walter Gingala, 65 years old, 882 North Marshfield avenue, was seriously injured last night at Ashland avenue and Chestnut street by a speeding motorist who failed to stop. Gingala, an old age pensioner, was taken to County hospital.

Willie Saunders, 49, colored, of 3349 Prairie avenue, a WPA laborer, was killed by an automobile in front of 3763 South Wabash avenue. Sam Nation, colored, of 4311 Prairie avenue, was the driver.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 63 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 47 were killed in Chicago, where 1,542 were injured in the same period.

AUTOIST LACKING 1940 TAGS FACES FINE, SAYS JUDGE

Motorists who don't have their state license plates will be assessed $8.50 in court costs, even if they buy their plates as soon as they are arrested and bring them to court. And if they haven't city vehicle licenses the total costs will be $10.50.

This was announced yesterday by Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court after a conference with Police Commissioner Allman. The annual drive to round up delinquent motorists will begin next Thursday.

HOT STUNT BURNS UP POLICE; PUT VICTIM IN COOLER

To Chicagoans a Polar Bear is not a white furred animal, but a member of the Polar Bear club which believes midwinter swimming in Lake Michigan is healthful [and newsworthy]. Such a Polar Bear prepared yesterday for an icy dip [amply attended by news cameramen]. But instead of a swim he spent the night in a cell at the Town Hall police station.

Capt. Patrick O'Connell yesterday received a telephone call that a man was preparing to commit suicide in the lake at the foot of Montrose avenue. A Town Hall police squad and another from the park district reached there simultaneously. They found Norman Aronson, 25 years old, 752 Junior terrace, a clerk, in his swimming trunks on the icy shore. He was testing the water with his toes [for the benefit of photographers]. He was charged with disorderly conduct and held on a $25 bond.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks last night halted that 13 game winning streak the Boston Bruins had piled on them, spread over three National Hockey league seasons. They tied the mighty champions, 2 to 2, in the Stadium, thus ending a series of futile endeavors which started in the final game of the 1937-38 season.

The Hawks hopped off to a 2 to 0 lead on goals by Doug Bentley and Mush March, both before the game had reached the 11 minute mark. The Bruins scored less than a minute after the Hawks' second goal, were held scoreless in a spirited second period, and tied the score in the third period. Then came the 10 minute overtime and the Hawks avoided defeat for the first time in 14 clashes with the Bruins.

12,289 See Fine Game.

The 12,289 customers who braved near-zero temperatures to watch the Hawks in another of their streak-breaking games [the Hawks halted the Rangers a week ago Sunday after a world record string of 19 straight without defeat] saw fine hockey, tho the tying goal in the third period took some edge off the merriment. The Hawks, brooding over the long losing streak, then had to focus on a tie instead of the victory their two quick goals had inspired.

The first of the Hawks' two first period goals was made by Bentley 30 seconds after he took the ice for the first time in the game. Cully Dahlstrom went down right ice for a wide shot and a crash into the end boards. Phil Hergesheimer picked up the puck from behind the cage, skated to his left, then passed out to Bentley, waiting directly in front of the cage. Little Doug, showing veteran calm, lofted the puck past Goalie Frank Brimsek into the cage. The time was 3:30 and both Hergesheimer and Dahlstrom were given assists.

Youngsters Pepper Goal.

After the Bentley-Dahlstrom-Hergesheimer line had completed its three minute stint, Johnny Chad and Bobby Carse made their major league debuts, teamed with Bill Thoms. While they failed to score, the two youngsters peppered Brimsek after outskating the Bruin defense.

In 10:17 March, back for his second turn, rushed down the right boards, let loose a hard long shot which went between Jack Shewchuk's and Brimsek's heels for Chicago counter No. 2.

Shortly after the Hawks' second goal Mel Hill and George Allen put on a fist fight, but the referee settled for a cross-checking penalty and gave the fighters only two minutes. During the interval both sides were shorthanded, Shewchuk and Bobby Bauer teamed up for a swoop on the cage along the right boards, Shewchuk scoring in 11:33 on Bauer's assist.

Hawks Miss Penalty Shot.

Contrasted with the three goals in the first period there was none in the second period, tho the hockey scarcely was any less interesting.

The Hawks had a penalty shot, missed by Thoms, early in the period, Roy Conacher going in the penalty box for the same offense, holding Dahlstrom as he dashed for the cage on a breakaway.

The Bruins in the third period kept all hands forward until they tied the score in 5:11. During a power maneuver Bill Hollett took the puck off his left boards and passed out to Red Hamill, 10 feet inside the center of the blue line. Hamill cut loose with a long hard one, too rapid for Paul Goodman to handle.

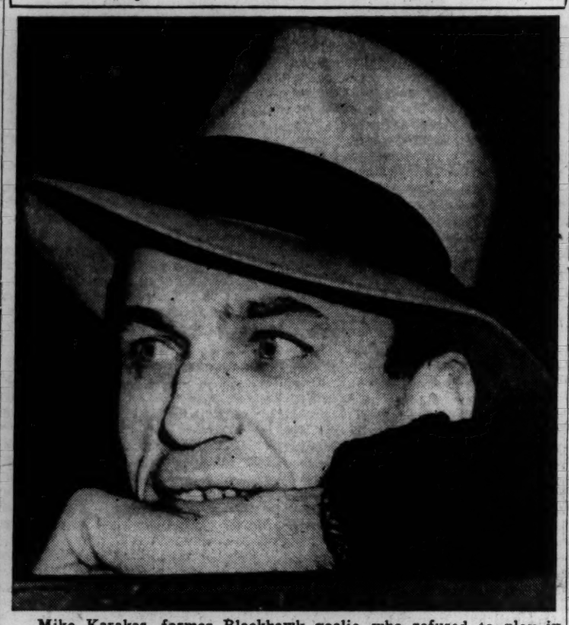

Each team played hard but cautiously in the overtime period in which there were few threats, no scores and no penalties.

Tonight the Hawks will play the Red Wings in Detroit.

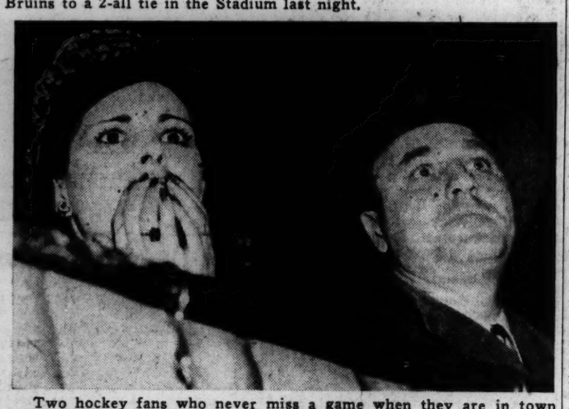

THE GUMPS—MAZIE'S NO HEROINE TO MAMA

Hockey Fans, Sad and Otherwise

Mike Karakas, former Blackhawk goalie, who refused to play in the minor leagues, looks on as his former mates battle the Boston Bruins to a 2-all tie in the Stadium last night.

Chicago's Fighting Men

Bud Taylor Leading Figure in Two of Chicago's Most Spectacular Battles

[Chicagoland's greatest all-time fighters? This is the third of a series that will attempt to answer the question, tracing the topnotchers of the gay '90s to the present and recalling some of the famous battles in the city's ring history.]

BY EDWARD PRELL.

YOU must come right back to Bud Taylor when inspecting the activities of Chicagoland's featherweight favorites, for the blond belter was the center of two of the town's most spectacular battles after the sport was legalized by Illinois in 1926.

Earl Mastro, one of the many fine amateur products of the middle 25's, rose to the top in rocket-like fashion. He was a sharp, clever boxer and his path of success steered him into an inevitable meeting with Taylor, who by this time had outgrown the bantamweight class.

When they came together in the Stadium on Dec. 27, 1929, it was to settle a previous 10 round draw. The west side pugilistic palace was in the midst of its terrific gate draws and 17,211 paid $63,087 in anticipation of an eventful evening. They were not disappointed.

Both Fall Out of Ring, but Mastro Climbs Back to Win.

It was Mastro by a big margin in the first two rounds. His superior boxing skill and speed nullified most of his older foe's rushes, and as the fight wore on it became apparent that the Hoosier's only chance to win was by a knockout. Taylor was aware of this, too, and he doggedly stalked his elusive rival. He was rewarded in the ninth when a right hand smash floored Earl, who took a short count, then picked himself off the floor and grabbed Taylor in the instinctive manner of a punch-shocked warrior.

In retaliation, Taylor tried to drive Mastro away with a fusillade of blows delivered in close quarters. The fierce action took them near the ropes on the east side of the ring and the fury of Bud's blows backed Earl against the ropes and thru them. Out they tumbled together. Taylor, flat on his back, with Mastro beneath him on the apron of the ring, was a grotesque figure, both legs hanging over the lower rope, with his feet inside the ring. The fans screamed as the bodies crashed and for a time it appeared that boxing's rarity—a double knockout—was about to be witnessed. But Mastro squirmed free and still dazed, staggered back into the ring, then walked to a neutral corner.

Taylor, still stretched out, turned to Referee Phil Collins and said:

"My back is injured; I can't get up."

Collins then awarded the fight to Mastro on a technical knockout.

There were many versions of what actually happened during those exciting seconds. The one you have just read is Collins' own story.

Before this fight, Taylor had been cast in an unfortunate rôle. Joey Sangor, a devastating puncher from Milwaukee, was on the prowl and Bud was called upon to stop his progress the night of Feb. 10, 1928. A crowd of 10,000 that paid $40,000 filled the Coliseum to overflowing.

Taylor Loses Another Fight in a Freakish Ending.

For six rounds it was give and take with first one, then the other, in a commanding position. They went into the seventh with the crowd screaming. The round was only 50 seconds old when the two started throwing short punches. Sangor lashed a straight right to the body and Taylor

GOLDEN GLOVES WARRIORS GET FIRST SUMMONS

800 to Report Tonight in Trafton's Gymnasium.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Eight hundred amateur boxers have received letters instructing them to report tonight in Trafton's gymnasium, 180 West Randolph street, for preliminary Golden Gloves physical examinations. This group will include both inexperienced boys and those who will be classified in the Open division and entered in the Chicago championship bouts Feb. 20, 21, and 22.

Amateur boxers of the Catholic Youth Organization will report Monday for their examinations, and the final group of inexperienced boxers will go to Trafton's gymnasium next Wednesday. All examinations will be held between the hours of 6 and 8 p. m.

Registration for the three novice tournaments ends tomorrow at midnight. After that date, only boxers eligible for the Open division may enter the 1940 Golden Gloves tournament. These will fight for city championships in the Coliseum—the first city tournament in more than a decade—and the winners will be eligible to compete in the Tournament of Champions in the Stadium Feb. 26, 27, and 28.

The Best Meet the Best.

Chicago's city tournament, which will mean that only one championship team will compete against the winners from 45 cities in the Stadium, will pit all the best boxers together in quest of a golden glove, emblematic of the championship. The C. Y. O. champions from the meet held last December, the winners in the Illinois Athletic club tournament last Wednesday night, and teams from the Savoy A. C., the 124th field artillery, Madison Athletic club, and a score of other organizations will vie for the trophy which will be presented to the team placing the largest number in the semi-finals.

The system of scoring for the city team championship will be the same that is used in determining the winner in the Tournament of Champions. Each championship will count five points; each defeated finalist, three points, and each defeated semi-finalist, one point.

Coliseum Gets Show.

Resumption of the city championship tourney brings Golden Gloves back to the Coliseum for the first time since the Tournament of Champions was held there in 1931. Even then, however, the last night of the tournament was shifted to the Stadium. Before out of town teams entered Golden Gloves the tournament of 1928 and 1929 were, in effect, for city championships. After 1930, however, out of town teams competed in Chicapo and the city then bepan qualifying four boxers in each weight for the Tournament of Champions. With the inception of the C. Y. O. tournament those eight champions were admitted to the Tournament of Champions without fighting in the city trials.

Chicago's eight champions will be outfitted by The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., with uniforms and sweaters for the Tournament of Champions. If the Chicago team should win the team trophy in the Tournament of Champions it will be presented to the club or organization which has the largest number of the eight city champions.

Novices Start First.

Entrants in the novice tournaments will begin competition Feb. 5 on the west side. The south side tournament opens Feb. 6 and the north side tournament starts Feb. 12. Forty-eight novices, two in each weight in each of the three sections, will receive gold medals and will be permitted to enter the city tournament in the Coliseum if they wish.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., reports that 150 boxers will compete in the tournament sponsored by the Gazette. The Cedar Rapids boxers will begin their preliminaries Feb. 5, continue for the following two nights, and the champions will be determined Feb. 14.

Four nights also will be required to conduct the 11th annual Golden Gloves tournament sponsored by the Springfield, Ill., State Register.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

IT becomes increasingly apparent day by day that amateur sport in the United States, especially in our colleges, is badly in need of sane leadership. . . . Not long ago certain educators were urging a return to pure amateurism in intercollegiate football by abolishing admission fees and high salaried coaches. . . . They would substitute an invitational system for spectators and a graduate coach with sufficient zeal and school loyalty to work without financial compensation. . . . In this way, they figured, the evils attending the sport would be eliminated, since abuses seemingly were rooted in the commercial phases of the game. . . . Advocates of this policy usually were presidents of smaller schools, at least in an athletic sense, and consequently their suggestions did not weigh as heavily as if they had come from the head of a university where football truly was a big business. . . . One of the reasons we never have been able to applaud a communist orator in his insistence that Henry Ford's wealth should be taken from him and distributed among the street cleaners is that we are not sure he would feel the same way about it if the bank balances were reversed. . . . Recently we have seen organizations, such as the Southeastern conference, legalize subsidization of athletes. . . . Last Monday the morning papers carried a dispatch from Raleigh, N. C., to the effect that athletic scholarships would be openly awarded by North Carolina State alumni groups for at least the next five years. . . . This amounts to alumni control of collegiate sports. . . . Here you have two extremes in the conduct of amateur athletics.

Henry Ford.

Neither stand can long survive. . . . It is as ridiculous to deplore the fact that hundreds of thousands of Americans like to attend college football games as it is to resort to high pressure tactics in recruiting talent to attract such throngs. . . . If all the college and university presidents were to announce today that their institutions were going to sanction subsidization of athletes, and if all schools of higher learning were to follow that plan football as a college activity would be on its way out. . . . When an amateur sport becomes semiprofessionalized it begins to decline. . . . Amateur boxing was in that condition a few years back, but, thanks to the aggressive action of men who had the interest of the sport at heart, the abuses have been pretty well eradicated. . . . It is too much to expect that sport or any other human activity always will be 100 per cent efficient.

Not that it is a matter of any importance, but this department feels indebted to the heads of schools in the Big Ten conference, at Notre Dame and other institutions which practice the same code for operating intercollegiate sport on a nonpaid basis. . . . The encouraging feature of the situation is that in most instances it is the athletic leaders themselves who insist on this program. . . . As the sports editor of a great metropolitan newspaper our interests and activities are varied, but none gives us a greater thrill than intercollegiate football. . . . We want to see it preserved, so the coming generation may enjoy it and benefit from it as have the men of our generation.

All In a Day.

There's a chap working in a Detroit night club who claims the world's record for being frozen in 1,600 pounds of ice. He says he also eats bullets, glass bottles, and razor blades. I'll bet he's a notary public on the side, too.

I see where an Illinois judge has set forth the opinion that a man and his wife can serve on the same jury. Pity the poor attorney who has to get a man and his wife to agree on anything.

Movie careers don't last long any more. Why, there's a glamor girl who was dubbed a "has been" before she had dropped her fourth husband.

Penelope Was a Lady. [O, Yeah?]

Comes now Walter Allen Jr. of Princeton university, who stands up boldly before the 70 delegates to the first annual convention of students of mythology and gives out the amazing statement that Homer knew very well that Penelope did a whole lot more than just sit around biting her nails and listening to the news flashes whilst Ulysses was off warring against the Trojans. He intimates, mind you, that the lady wasn't above an odd fling with the lads of the neighborhood, all very much subrosa, of course. But think of it, all this about Penelope, who, if you remember your classics, has been hailed all down the ages as the perfect wife, the symbol supreme of uxorial perfection. Gee, aren't they going to leave a fellow anybody or anything to believe in? Next thing we know they'll probably be telling us that Venus' arm wasn't off at all, that she was just holding it behind her back to hide out a couple of bucks of the old man's pay check.

Now It's My Turn.

I've been having conversation
'Bout my latest operation,
And I find there isn't much that I can say;
'Cause before I get a chance
To explain the circumstance
I'm told mine's but a bit of children's play.

But now THEIR operation
Speaking with no hesitation
Was performed in quite another manner;
Miraculous they survived,
From death they were revived,
And surely they should wave a hero's banner.

So now I'm thru conversing,
Operation talk's dispersing
'Til some day I'll meet another doc who dares
To cut with such precision
I'll win my friends' decision

2D HALF KICKOFF ELIMINATION IS URGED AT YALE

Intramural Sports Head Suggests Change.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 25 (AP).—The elimination of the second half kickoff in football was recommended today by Widdy Neale, director of Yale's intramural sports program, after two years of experimenting.

Neale, one of the Eli's famous football players, reported the study revealed there had been marked decreases in the number of injuries and tie contests and impressive gains in scoring as the result of ridding the game of its most dangerous play.

"While others have been debating the subject for years, we've been putting it to a practical test in our intramural games," said Neale, whose brother, Earle [Greasy] Neale, is assistant varsity football coach.

Gave Theory Real Test.

"At the end of our 1938 intercollege season, during which 45 games were played, it was generally conceded that something should be done to eliminate the number of tie games by increasing scoring opportunities," said Neale.

"I suggested the second half kickoff be eliminated and the ball be put in play in the same manner as at the beginning of the second and fourth quarters.

"The results of this change, comparing the seasons of 1938 and 1939, with the same ten teams and identical relative strength, clearly revealed there were marked decreases in injuries and tie games. They also clearly showed more scoring."

Conclusions Supported.

The conclusions of Neale, an outstanding back on Yale's unbeaten 1923 eleven, were supported by two of the state's leading officials, James E. Coogan and George T. White, who worked most of the games.

White, commissioner of the Eastern Preparatory Schools Football association, said he would recommend that his organization consider elimination of the second half kickoff this fall.

Yale's board of athletic control was reported interested in the results, but nobody in authority would comment.

TOPPING WILL NAME COACH OF TEAM NEXT WEEK

New York, Jan. 25 (AP).—Dan Topping, owner of the Brooklyn football Dodgers, said today he would announce the club's coach either next Tuesday or Wednesday. There were reports that Jock Sutherland, former University of Pittsburgh coach, would sign with the Dodgers either tonight or tomorrow. Topping, however, parried all questions with, "You'll find out next week."

VETERAN GOES TO AMERICANS FOR WISEMAN

Deal Is the Result of Minor League Row.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 25 (AP).—Eddie Shore, who has been a National Hockey league headliner for 13 seasons, tonight was traded by the world champion Boston Bruins to the lowly New York Americans, the jumping off place for fading stars.

Eddie Shore.

In exchange the Bruins gained Eddie Wiseman, a 28 year old right winger with six years of major league experience. The Bruins management said no cash was involved, but it was reported in New York that about $5,000 was paid by the Americans.

Only a year ago Shore, despite his 38 years, was reputed to have the highest market value in hockey's history.

Eddie Is a Quibbler.

Shore, one of Boston's sports idols, had almost annual arguments with the Bruins management, chiefly over a salary reputedly the highest ever paid in organized hockey. His relations with president Weston Adams and Manager Art Ross, however, did not approach the breaking point until this season.

Shore, according to Adams, has been notified to contact Manager Marvin [Red] Dutton of the Americans, for instructions. Wiseman will report to the Bruins in Detroit tomorrow night and will dress for Sunday's game with the Red Wings.

From Chicago, Manager Art Ross of the Bruins, wired the following:

"Convinced that Eddie Shore no longer was interested in playing hockey in Boston, the Bruins acceded to his final wish that he become associated with the New York Americans. When I informed Shore of the trade, he wired me:

"'Deal with Americans satisfactory to me.' Accordingly I again talked with Dutton and completed final arrangements. I then notified Shore that he was the property of the Americans and to contact Dutton for instructions."

Shore hoped to retire from major league hockey last June, when he purchased the Springfield franchise in the International-American Hockey league. When he informed Ross he wanted to play for his own club the latter balked and they compromised by drawing up an agreement under which Shore would play in all of the Bruins' home games and all of the playoff contests, and then be declared a free agent at the close of the current season.

Appearance Causes Trouble.

Shore has played in only four of the Bruins' games this season and recently Ross acceded to his request that he be permitted to participate in his Springfield club's home games.

His debut as an International-American league player in last Saturday's game with the Rhode Island Reds created a dispute when several of his co-magnates warned Maurice Podoloff, International-American league president, that they would protest every game the major league star played in if he did not compete at least once in every other city in the circuit.

When informed of the deal in Springfield, Shore said: "Red Dutton and I, though we've had our ups and downs while playing against each other, are good friends, and I'll like playing for him. I do regret leaving Boston, for the fans there always treated me as good as any one could. I've been skating for ten days and am in good shape. I'll play with Springfield for three more games and should be ready next Thursday when the Americans meet the Blackhawks in New York."

Dutton, who was in Montreal, said the great defense man would play both for the Americans and for Springfield in both home and road games. The final details as to the number were left for determination at a conference next Monday.

KARAKAS SEES GAME

Mike Karakas, for four years the regular Hawk goalie, was in town yesterday and watched his former mates in the Bruin game in the Stadium last night.

Mike, who was shipped to Providence after a 6 to 3 Hawk defeat in Boston Christmas night, left the minor league outfit when the Hawks discontinued paying the difference between his minor league salary and what he received with the Hawks.

Playing without Karakas in the nets, Providence suffered an 8 to 0 defeat in an International-American league game in Indianapolis last night. Indianapolis scored four goals in the first period, three of them in a minute and four seconds, while Ab Demarco, Providence center, was in the penalty box. They made the fourth just after he returned.

BAIT CASTERS TO TRY FOR PRIZES IN TWO TOURNEYS

First Contest Opens Next Saturday on Navy Pier.

BY BOB BECKER.

Chicagoland casters have only a little more than a week in which to practice for the first of the bait casting tournaments to be sponsored by THE TRIBUNE during February. Navy pier, where the Chicago National Boat and Sports show opens Saturday, Feb. 3, will be the scene of the first of these tournaments. The second will be held during the International Outdoor Sportsmen's show in the International amphitheater Feb. 17 to 25.

Each year many novice casters and fishermen enter the Tribune events, and this year the incentive is greater than ever because of the attractive prizes which will be awarded during the two shows.

Winner to Get Plaque.

Handsome trophies will be given to the preliminary winners in the boat and sports show, and the final winner will take home an engraved plaque. More than $150 worth of fishing tackle will go to the winners of the eight events to be held during the casting tournament at the amphitheater.

Casting rods and reels, fly rod reels, lines, bass bugs, trout bugs, rod cases, several kinds of bait casting lures, and other fishing equipment will be on the prize list. Both tournaments will be conducted by W. J. Butler of the Shedd aquarium, who has had charge of these Tribune events for several years.

No Entrance Fee.

Casters who plan to enter either of the Tribune events should write to Bob Becker, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Tribune Tower, for copies of the schedules and rules for all contests. There are no entry fees for either of the tournaments.

23d Bowling Singles Classic Opens Tonight

The first of eleven squads of 32 bowlers each who will compete for $8,800 in prizes in Louis P. Peterson's 23d annual singles classic will take over the alleys in the Archer-35th Recreation at 9:45 tonight. A large number of Chicago pinmen, among them Eddie Zajac, winner of the 1939 classic, are listed on the opening squad.

Five squads will bowl tomorrow, the first going on at 1:15 in the afternoon and the last at midnight. Five more will occupy the alleys Sunday, starting at 11:30 a. m., and continuing until 10:30 p. m., when the final squad goes on.

First prize in the competition is $3,000, second prize is $2,000, and third prize $1,000. Three squad prizes will be up tonight. High man will receive $75, second high $50, and third high $25.

The Joseph L. Gills rolled a 3,129 series, the evening's high, but dropped one of three games to the Rupperts and thereby lost a game in their quest for the Randolph Bowling league leadership last night. The Budweisers who are at the top of the standings won three from the Furmans. John Russell of the Mineralites rolled high individual series, 707, and Adolph Carlson of the Gills, who hit 622, retained his lead in the individual standings with a 216 average. Scores:

Indoor Auto Racers Plan Snyder Memorial Event

The late Jimmy Snyder will be honored Sunday night during the auto race program in the 124th Field Artillery armory, where Mrs. Grace Snyder, widow of the former race star, will present a memorial trophy to the winner of the main event. Snyder, who finished second last Memorial day in the Indianapolis 500 mile race, was killed last summer on a southern Illinois track.

Moriarity Adds to Cue Lead Over Rudy Helberg

Joe Moriarity, Chicago three cushion billiard champion, won the second block of his 150 point challenge match with Rudy Helberg in the Hamilton hotel last night. The score was 50 to 28 in 55 innings. The final block will be played tonight in Bensinger's, 131 South Wabash avenue. Moriarity also triumphed in the opening block and now leads, 100 to 57.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Omission, $9.10 straight, $5.70 place, $4.10 show; Double Call, $3.20 place, $2.60 show; Fly Gent, $4.60 show.

OMISSION well ridden. He was away slowly but came with a rush and won in the last stride. DOUBLE CALL broke fast, ran straight, and held on well. FLY GENT displayed early speed but swerved badly. LOCHLEA had good speed but suddenly dropped out of it. MERITORIOUS is worth noting.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,000. Claiming price, $1,500. Three year olds. Start good. Won driving, place easily. Went to post at 2:31½. Off at 2:32. Two dollar mutuels paid: Ambuscade, $6.10 straight, $3.50 place, $2.90 show; Baltee, $3.70 place, $3.00 show; Takeitfrome, $4.40 show.

AMBUSCADE was hustled along in the early running, finally raced BALTEE down, took lead in stretch, and won going away. BALTEE had plenty of speed, was kept on the rail all the way. TAKEITFROME closed gamely. NUTTY saved ground all the way. DEEP SUMMER tired in last furlong.

THIRD RACE—Seven furlongs [out of chute]. Purse $1,000. Claiming prices, $2,000 to $1,500. Fillies and mares 4 year olds and up. Start good. Won driving, place same. Went to post at 3:02. Two dollar mutuels paid: For Romance, $39.70 straight, $20.70 place, $10.90 show; Chance Queen, $9.50 place, $5.50 show; Woodsia, $5.20 show.

FOR ROMANCE, showing smart improvement, moved up very fast in stretch, was taken very wide, closed gamely. CHANCE QUEEN was repeatedly shut off in early part but got clear, then closed fast. WOODSIA was used up racing PEKAKI into defeat and tired badly. PEKAKI had speed for six furlongs, then quit. SUN GIRL never a factor. She ran a poor race.

FOURTH RACE—Six and one-half furlongs. Purse $1,100. Maiden 3 year olds. Start good. Won easily, place same. Went to post at 3:30½. Off at 3:31½. SCYLLA a rapid breaker. She assumed command at once, saved ground all the way and held on well. SIR GIBSON was allowed to run all over the track. He was probably best. GOOSEBERRY well up and made a game effort. DIXIE-MAN tired badly.

FIFTH RACE—Seven furlongs [out of chute]. Purse $1,100. Claiming prices, $3,750 to $3,250. Four year olds and up. Start good. Won driving, place same. Went to post at 4:01½. Off at 4:02. Illinois Sends 40 to National Skating Meet

Forty Illinois skaters will leave this morning for La Crosse, Wis., to compete in the national championship races tomorrow and Sunday.

Among them will be Vic Ronchetti, winner of the national crown in 1938; the Chicago 1940 Olympic members, Leo Freisinger, Bob Heckenbach, Ed Schroeder, and Al Kucera; George Spalten, Steve Gadus, and Tony Neberz. Ranking women contenders are Shirley Jameson, Elaine Bogda, Bess Laga, Ann Vitaska, and Genevieve Sweirkos, winner of this year's Tribune Silver Skates.

Chicagoans who will officiate at La Crosse include Herb Knudten, patrol judge; Carmen Tortorello, starter; Sid Novak, chief clerk of course; Phil Pritikin, judge, and Pete Miller, president of the Illinois Skating association. Skaters who will not make the trip will have an opportunity to compete here Sunday in the Bill Rand ice Derby in Jackson park.

CANADIAN DUCK EXPERT TALKS IN CHICAGO TODAY

Representatives of sportsmen's organizations and duck hunters from Chicago and many downstate cities will meet at noon today in the Union League club to hear Tom Main of Winnipeg, Canada, report on the outlook for a bigger crop of waterfowl during 1940. The meeting is sponsored by Ducks Unlimited, the organization which is striving to maintain Canadian waterfowl breeding grounds.

Main, an engineer, is the Canadian manager of Ducks Unlimited, and has flown or canoed thru every great duck-producing area in Canada to survey the waterfowl marshes and launch rehabilitation projects. His talk will be illustrated.

SQUASH PLAYERS DUE TODAY FOR 2 DAY TOURNEY

Leading squash racquets players of the central states will arrive in Chicago today for the western squash tournament which will be held tomorrow and Sunday in the Lake Shore Athletic club. J. Dudley Pope of Chicago is the defending champion.

Among the players rated as favorites to win Pope's title are Ike Russell of Milwaukee, Roland Nord of Cincinnati, Joseph Hahn of Detroit, John Reindel, Michigan state champion, and Joe Jannotta of Chicago. For the first time the western association will hold a veterans' meet, limited to players over 40 years old.

MAROON MATMEN MEET BRADLEY AGAIN TONIGHT

University of Chicago wrestlers, who defeated Bradley, 26 to 8, at Peoria for their second victory of the season two weeks ago, will meet Bradley in a return engagement in Bartlett gymnasium tonight at 9 o'clock. The meet will prepare the Maroon mat men for their Big Ten opener against Northwestern in Evanston tomorrow night.

Chicago Gymnasts Meet Minnesota on Midway

The University of Chicago's gymnastics team opens its Big Ten schedule by meeting Minnesota, Big Ten 1939 runnerup, in Bartlett gymnasium tonight. The Maroons may compete without Capt. Glenn Pierre, capable side horse and long horse performer, who was injured Monday.

White Sox List 14 Who Think They Can Pitch

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Uncle Joe Barry, managing editor of that snappy brochure, the White Sox roster, yesterday gave his 1940 edition to the world. The publication lists 34 active ball players, counting Manager James Dykes as an active ball player, an item which can be taken or left alone.

The roll is headed by the Sox veteran of veterans, Ted Lyons, the listing marking the beginning of Ted's 18th year as a member of the Sox. There are 14 pitchers, 5 of whom were born in the first decade of the 20th century—Lyons in 1900, Clint Brown in 1903, Pete Appleton in 1904, and Thornton Lee and Jack Knott in 1907. Of these Lyons, Brown, Lee, and Knott are quite mature, each weighing in excess of 200 pounds.

Jim Is the Dean.

Dykes is the grandpappy of the squad, born in Philadelphia Nov. 10, 1897. The baby of the outfit is Bob Kennedy, third baseman, who was born in Chicago Aug. 18, 1920. Two boys who will be fresh off the campus are on the list, Catcher Joe Weeks of Tufts college and Outfielder Harold N. Cromer of Indiana university.

The squad which Dykes will take to Pasadena next month is overloaded with infielders with 11, but down to a midseason total in outfielders, with only five, counting the collegian, Cromer. The names of four catchers appear: Mike Tresh, Ken Silvestri, Tom Turner, and Weeks.

In addition to the vital statistics on all the players, the roster lists details of the exhibition season of 31 games with listings of the hotels for both the exhibition and the regular season. There is only one change in the regular season hotels, the present list being: New Yorker, New York; Drake, Philadelphia; Shoreham, Washington; Copley Plaza, Boston; Fort Shelby, Detroit; Hollenden, Cleveland, and Chase, St. Louis.

Ruling Delays Cubs.

The Cub roster is expected to be out in a few days, recent rulings of Commissioner K. M. Landis necessitating a makeover. The Cub roster, a departure from the usual form, will be a looseleaf affair which may be inserted in scorebooks or other holders.

Capt. Bill Herman visited the Cub offices yesterday and announced himself in shape for a big season.

ROYAL MAIL GETS 169 POUNDS FOR GRAND NATIONAL

LONDON, Jan. 25 (AP).—Roy Mail, 1937 winner owned by Mrs. Camille Evans, and Sir Francis Towle's Airgead sios today were assigned top weight of 169 pounds in a field of 59 for the Grand National steeplechase at Aintree on April 5.

Sir Alexander Maguire's 1939 winner, Workman, got in with 159 pounds. H. C. McNally's Royal Daniell, runner-up to the American-owned battleship in 1938, was allotted 167 and L. Scott Brigg's Macmoffat, second last year, only 150.

Royal Mail, whose owner is a former American actress, is one of the six American-owned horses eligible for the four and a half mile race. Of the others, F. Ambrose Clark's Uplifter and London Town were handicapped at 162 and 158 pounds, respectively; John Hay Whitney's Knightsbrook and Louis Stoddard's Milano, 149, and Whitney's National Light, 144.

OPEN ICE YACHT MEET TODAY ON LAKE GENEVA

A fleet of nearly 50 ice yachts will race today on Williams bay, Lake Geneva, Wis., in the Northwestern Ice Yachting association's annual regatta. Sailing craft representing the Neenah, Oshkosh, Four Lakes [Madison], Pewaukee, and Skeeter ice yacht clubs of Wisconsin; the Fox Lake Ice Yacht club, Fox Lake, Ill., and the Detroit and Kalamazoo ice yacht clubs of Michigan will compete.

The first events, for all classes, will begin at 2 p. m. Racing will continue tomorrow and Sunday. The regatta is sponsored by the Skeeter Ice Yacht club, Lake Geneva, whose chief flag officer is Commodore Chester Granath.

Jungbluth's Fritz Entered.

Among the craft entered is Fritz Jungbluth's A class sloop, Fritz, former class champion. Carl Bernard of the Four Lakes Ice Yacht club is skipper. Ben Lambert, commodore of the association and a member of the Oshkosh Ice Yacht club, will sail his C class flagship, Crazy Craft. Commodore H. J. Bonjard of the Toronto Ice Yacht club will sail a Lake Geneva C class racer.

Chris Meyer of the Pewaukee Lake Ice Yacht club heads the regatta committee. A portable house, recently completed by members of the Skeeter Ice Yacht club, will be used by the committee in timing and scoring events.

Race in Four Classes.

Races for A, B, C, and E class ice yachts are scheduled. The E's, smallest and most popular, carry one sail 75 square feet in area. Approximately 30 of the entries are of this class.

Make Gabby Deputy Fire Marshal—but Not a Driver

Hot Springs, Ark., Jan. 25 (AP).—Gabby Hartnett, manager of the Chicago Cubs, became a deputy Arkansas fire marshal today, but Hot Springs Public Safety Commissioner Weldon Rasberry demurred when Gabby insisted the title qualified him as a fire truck driver. State Fire Marshal Guy Williams deputized Hartnett as an assistant. Gabby mounted the seat of a big pumper at central station, saying, "Open the door; I'll show you guys I can drive this thing." The order didn't impress the firemen, Rasberry explaining they would take the Cub skipper at his word.

New York, Jan. 25 (AP).—The New York Rangers tightened their hold on first place in the National Hockey league tonight by beating the Toronto Maple Leafs, 3 to 0, for their fourteenth victory in 15 starts.

The injury-riddled Leafs, minus four regulars, lacked the punch and speed to stay with the leaders after the first period of a game exciting only during brief flashes of Ranger power. The Rangers picked off a goal in each period with Dutch Hiller, Alfie Pike, and Bryan Hextall as the marksmen.

Administering the Leafs' first shutout of the season, the Rangers won their fourth straight since Chicago broke their record unbeaten run at 19 games last week. Lineups:

CANADIENS TIE AMERICANS

MONTREAL, Jan. 25 (AP).—A rally that produced a pair of goals in the last six minutes of the third period gave the Montreal Canadiens a 2 to 2 overtime tie with the New York Americans tonight. With the game apparently hopelessly lost, the Canadiens put on a spirited drive and broke Charley Sands and Marty Barry loose for goals. Then they came close to netting the winning goal on three other occasions. Lineups:

B'NAI B'RITH TO OPEN BASKET MEET MARCH 3

The B'nai B'rith Youth organization's fifth annual city-wide basketball tournament will open on Sunday, March 3. This was announced yesterday by Able L. Glick, athletic director.

Elliot Hasan, Hyde Park High school coach, will for the second successive year be chairman of the event which is open to every Jewish boy in Chicago and surrounding cities and states without any entry fee.

Entry blanks are now ready and may be obtained from Nuss Elman, B. B. Y. O. registrar, room 600, 6 North Clark street, phone State 5352.

Angels Sign Reynolds as a Player-Coach

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 25 (AP).—The Los Angeles baseball club today signed Carl Reynolds, veteran outfielder who recently was released by the Chicago Cubs as player-coach for the 1940 season. The club also revealed that Dean Cromwell, University of Southern California track coach, will direct base running during the Angels' spring training.

A VOTE IS CAST FOR HOSTAK, AND BY A KNOCKOUT

"Al Hostak will knock out Tony Zale," Henry Lenard, former featherweight challenger, said yesterday. Lenard made his prediction after watching the middleweight champion work out for a 10 round overweight bout with Zale in Chicago Stadium Monday.

Lenard is the only one of a score of old time boxing leaders who have watched the rivals train in Trafton's gymnasium in the last few days to make a prediction on the probable result.

Tony Has Good Records.

Others who watched the workouts include Max Marek, heavyweight; Eddie Shea, featherweight; Battling Nelson, lightweight; Harry Forbes, bantamweight; Mickey Walker, middleweight, and Benny Leonard, lightweight. They agreed Hostak is a real champion, but all refused to predict a winner, probably because Zale is a terrific puncher.

Zale, who continued boxing yesterday by going four rounds against Johnny Shaw and Luther Brent, has a string of seven consecutive victories, the last five by knockouts. Zale scored a knockdown over Shaw with a whistling right which landed on the point of his partner's chin.

Knox Opens Drills.

Hostak, who displayed signs of being overtrained on Wednesday, was given a vacation yesterday. He will return to training chores this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Zale will work out an hour earlier.

Amateur boxers from East Chicago and Chicago will meet in a series of contests tonight in the Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street. Walter Schramm, East Chicago heavyweight, is paired with Clayton World of Chicago in a five round event. Additional matches include those between Al Calpalby, East Chicago middleweight, and Columbus Mitchell, Chicago; Eddie Polk, East Chicago light heavyweight, and James Arnold, Chicago; Verne Alvarez, East Chicago, and Earl Pionto, Chicago, and Jack Ida, East Chicago, and Dick Stone, Chicago.

U. S. SWIMMERS WIN AGAIN IN SOUTH AMERICA

MAR DEL PLATA, Argentina, Jan. 25 (AP).—Swimmers from the United States dominated the Pan-American swimming championships again tonight as the representatives of six nations continued their meet at this summer resort. Helen Perry of Cleveland, O., bettered the South American record in winning the 100 meter backstroke in 1:19.8, but will not be credited with the mark because she is not a South American. The listed record is 1:22 set by Sieglinda Lenk.

Tom Haynie of Detroit, Mich., won the 400 meter free style event in 5:01.2. Helene Rains of New York won the women's 100 meter free style in 1:13, and Taylor Drysdale of Detroit captured the 200 meter backstroke in 2:40. The only South American triumph was scored by Maria Lenk of Brazil in the 100 meter breaststroke, which she finished in 1:22.6 with Miss Rains third.

Walter Johnson Seeks a Place in Congress

Rockville, Md., Jan. 25 (AP).—Walter Johnson, the American league speedball king of other days, is going to try to comeback in Washington—as a congressman. Johnson, now a Montgomery county commissioner, announced tonight his candidacy for the Republican nomination for representative from the 6th Maryland district. The seat is now held by William D. Bryon, Democrat.

dropped. Again the referee was Phil Collins. He started to count, but Taylor, writhing on the canvas, attracted the attention of Paul Prehn, then chairman of the state athletic commission. Taylor asked a five minute rest, claiming a low blow. He was placed on a chair, but just before the time limit expired, his seconds cut off his gloves. Again the Terre Haute Terror had lost by a technical knockout in a freakish ending.

The featherweight division is rich in lore. Eddie Santry, a smart and clever boxer, claimed the title when he knocked out Ben Jordan of England in 16 rounds in New York on Oct. 10, 1899. Clarence Forbes, brother of Harry [the bantamweight champion], fought with success around Chicago from 1897 to 1912.

Tommy White was one of the greatest boxers of his time, which was from 1889 to 1900. He fought Terry McGovern three times and other stars of his era, such as George Dixon, Billy Whistler, Oscar Gardner, Perry Queenan, Chicago Jack Daly and Billy Moore.

Yanger Urges Restoring of Winner's and Loser's Split.

Benny Yanger outgrew the bantamweight class and caused havoc among the featherweights. Today, watching the fistic parade of the moderns, Yanger can be excused for being a bit critical. He says:

"To make the game better restore the winner's and loser's end of the purses. Most of my fights were winner-take-all or the big share to the winner. When you know you won't collect unless you win, you'll train harder and fight harder. In these days a fighter knows he will make a certain sum, win or lose. It takes away the incentive.

"I have to laugh when I see boxers with headgears in the gyms. You must learn to take it. If the leather harness takes all the shock out of a blow, how is the fighter going to be prepared to take those hard ones in a real fight? My advice to fighters today is to train harder and fight harder."

Eddie Shea, who graduated from the amateur ranks a few years before Mastro, was a rugged and strong puncher who fought the best at his weight. Before he grew into a featherweight, Eddie made a bid for the bantamweight title in 1925 but was knocked out by Charley [Phil] Rosenberg in New York.

FEATHERWEIGHT FACTS: Earl Mastro now is working for a movie studio in Hollywood. . . . Tommy Moore, who fought in the early 1900s, has been working for the gas company for 30 years. . . . Willie McNamara, a clever featherweight around the turn of the century, is a Chicago attorney. . . . Billy Finnercane, who also met the best in the early 1900s, is a city employé. He was born in Limerick, Ireland. . . . Joe Taylor, who boxed around 1905, is a lieutenant in the Berwyn fire department. . . . Jimmy Christy, one of the first outstanding products of the Catholic Youth organization amateur boxing program, is promoting boxing shows in Springfield, Ill. . . .

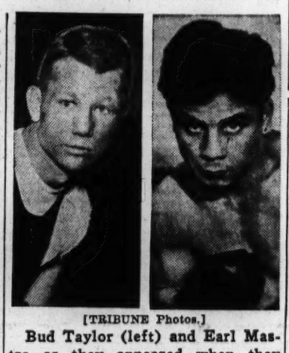

Taylor Fought Sarmiento with One Hand Tied Up.

Bud Taylor is the only boxer who ever entered the ring with one of his hands literally tied, is the claim put forth by his own manager, Eddie Long. . . . Three days before his scheduled bout with Pete Sarmiento in Aurora, Bud dislocated his right shoulder. . . . A substitute was unavailable, so Long and Taylor visited a physician, who said Bud could go thru with the fight if he wouldn't use his right hand. . . . To make this certain he put it in a cast. . . . Taylor won the decision. . . . After the fight, Sarmiento said, "He doesn't need a right hand, I saw three left hands all night." Until the injury, Taylor was strictly a right handed puncher. . . . From then on he favored his right so much he developed a sharp left hand.

Down memory lane with other featherweights: Mike Bartley, Morrie Rauch, Billy Rotchford, Billy Wagner, and Jack White [the latter two brothers of Charley White], Herbie Schaefer, Joe Sturch, Solly Smith, Billy Murphy, Ole Olson, Mike Mesmic, Walter Little, Buddy Glover, Julius Stein, and Leo Rodak, still going strong.

Injuries Hit Teachers for Game Tonight

The Chicago Teachers college basketball team will attempt to get back into the victory column tonight against the Charleston Teachers on its home court, 6800 Stewart avenue, after having had its three game winning streak halted by Indiana State last week.

Three members of the Chicago Teachers regular team were sidelined this week by injuries, with only one being improved enough to play in tonight's game. Joe Podraza, sophomore forward who leads the team in scoring with 112 points in 12 games, suffered a dislocated finger on his right hand against Indiana State Saturday. He is the only member of the hospital list Coach George Boyle will be able to count on.

ARMSTRONG HAS A DATE, HE HOPES, WITH MR. GARCIA

New York, Jan. 25 [Special].—Henry Armstrong left tonight for Chicago, possibly on his way to a middleweight battle with Ceferino Garcia in Los Angeles. He was richer by $17,694 as a result of his nine round technical knockout victory over Pedro Montanez of Puerto Rico here last night.

An if loomed large in arrangements for the Garcia bout, scheduled for Los Angeles Feb. 22 under American Legion sponsorship, because of the opposition of Mike Jacobs to the match. Jacobs, whose Twentieth Century Sporting club holds the contracts of both Armstrong and Garcia, today sent a copy of Garcia's contract to the California boxing commission and wired the Filipino an order to defend his middleweight title [New York and California brand] against Ken Overlin, National Boxing association No. 1 challenger, in Madison Square Garden March 29.

Jacobs Heads South.

While Eddie Mead, Armstrong's manager, waited to see him in the hope of inducing him to waive his rights, Jacobs left for Miami for a short vacation.

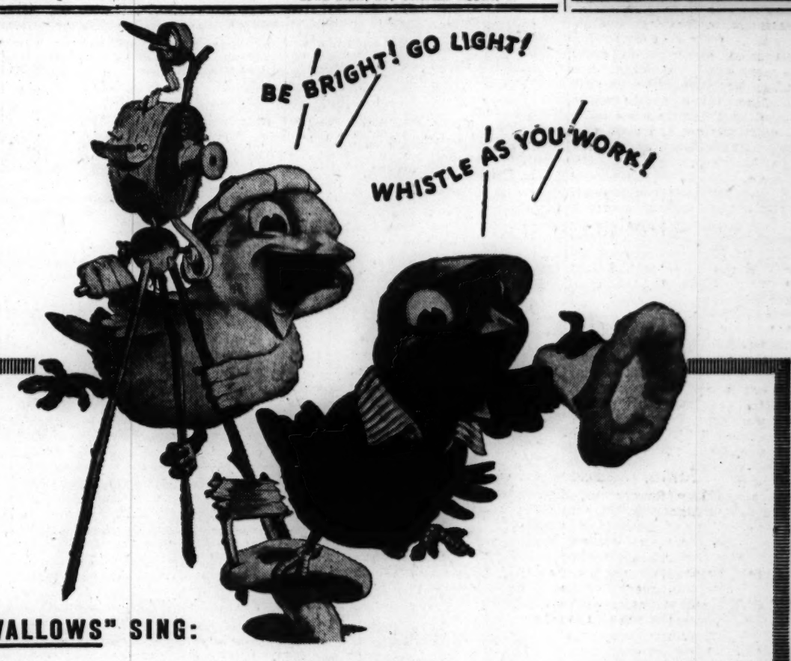

It was believed that the California commission might approve the bout tomorrow, however, because its rules differ technically from those of the New York commission. As the bout would be a 10 round match under California rules and therefore not recognized by New York as a title bout, Garcia would not violate his contract. For the same reason, Armstrong, a welterweight, would not violate the New York rule which prohibits a champion from seeking a title in a heavier division without first vacating his own title.

Managers Want Bout.

Mead and George Parnassus, Garcia's manager, are anxious to arrange the bout for Los Angeles as both fighters are popular there. It is believed the match would draw $100,000. Armstrong had refused to fight under Legion sponsorship because the veterans' organization banned Negro boxers in its Hollywood club shows, but he has agreed since the lifting of that ban.

Armstrong will arrive in Chicago at 12:30 p. m. tomorrow to attend the première of his motion picture, titled "Keep Punching," in the Regal theater tomorrow night.

GAINS REPORTED BY TWO CHICAGO INSURANCE FIRMS

Assets of Continental Go Up $3,211,807.

Substantial progress in 1939 was reported yesterday by H. A. Behrens in annual statements to the stockholders of the Continental Assurance and Continental Casualty companies—two Chicago enterprises. Behrens is president of the assurance company, which is a life insurance company, and chairman of the board of the casualty company.

H. A. Behrens.

Assets of Continental Casualty totaled $33,650,142 on Dec. 31, 1939, compared with $30,438,335 on Dec. 31, 1938, an increase of $3,211,807 and an all time high. Cash and United States government securities totaled more than $6,500,000. Surplus stood at $2,642,443, an increase of $135,343 after payment of $200,000 in dividends. Insurance in force reached a new high of $252,671,711, an increase of $20,699,213.

Casualty Company Report.

Continental Casualty assets on Dec. 31 totaled $33,650,142, an increase of $3,238,000. Cash and United States government securities aggregated $15,043,970, which was more than $572,000 in excess of its claims reserves.

Surplus was $6,822,050, an increase of $617,087 after payment of $585,000 cash dividends and transfer of $250,000 from surplus to capital as a result of a stock dividend. New premiums written totaled $22,998,520, an increase over 1938 of $1,959,347.

Travelers Insurance Companies.

L. Edmund Zacher, president, announced in Hartford, Conn., that all three Travelers Insurance companies showed increases during 1939. The Travelers Insurance company had assets of $1,039,202,643, a gain of $63,675,100. Life insurance in force at the end of the year was $4,986,971,181, a gain of $342,048,320. The Travelers Indemnity company had assets of $30,318,756, a gain of $1,824,437. The Travelers Fire Insurance company listed assets of $27,357,000, a gain of $1,077,069.

WAR AND MEAT.

I wonder if the war has helped the meat packers, such as Swift? I should think the necessity of feeding the huge armed forces of Europe would create a larger demand for American meats. K. W.

Answer: The European war did not bring the large volume of orders for American meat predicted in some quarters when hostilities began. Domestic packers reported recently that Great Britain at this stage of the war was depending largely on its accumulated meat reserves and upon supplies from its colonies and South American countries.

Swift & Co. sales to the belligerent countries declined sharply after Sept. 1 and only a small upturn occurred in later months, according to the recent annual report. Improved domestic demand based on better business conditions in the latter half of 1939 brought improvement in the company's operations, he indicated.

Altho tonnage sales in the fiscal year ended Oct. 28, 1939, were larger than in the preceding fiscal year, dollar sales declined slightly because of somewhat lower average prices. Earnings for the 1939 fiscal period, however, were sharply higher. The company estimated that its profits in the last five fiscal years averaged 1.1 cent out of each sales dollar.

	Sales.	Net income.	Earned per share.
1935	$767,227,000	$17,651,000	$2.99
1936	831,672,000	8,991,000	1.52
1937	885,837,000	9,214,000	1.56
1938	793,817,000	*3,494,000	*.59
1939	756,732,000	10,322,000	1.74

*Net loss. [Note: Only operations of wholly owned domestic and Canadian subsidiaries consolidated in 1939 report.]

The company has outstanding $36,000,000 of funded debt represented by first mortgage 3¾ per cent bonds due 1950. Capital stock consists of 5,920,535 shares of $25 par value.

Quarterly dividends of 30 cents a share have been paid on the capital stock since 1937. Dividends in 1937 totaled 90 cents a share; in 1936, $1.85, and in 1935, $1. Since 1888 the company has made disbursements to stockholders in each calendar year except 1933.

Swift & Co. is the world's largest meat packer. Besides meats, which constitute more than one-half of its total sales, the company distributes poultry, eggs, butter, cheese, and numerous byproducts of its packing operations.

Swift owns numerous subsidiaries here and abroad and controls Libby, McNeill & Libby, food canning company, and A. C. Lawrence Leather company. Swift will dispose of its Libby stock this year in compliance with an order of the federal District court of the District of Columbia prohibiting packers from controling companies not related to meat packing.

PLAN HEARINGS ON REVISION OF HOLDING FIRMS

SEC to Act Against 12 Utility Groups.

New York, Jan. 25 [Special].—The Securities and Exchange commission will try to complete within 30 days its hearings on plans to simplify and integrate the 12 largest utility holding companies in the nation, Jerome Frank, commission chairman, said today.

Jerome Frank.

The program, sponsored by the SEC under the public utility holding company act of 1935, calls for simplification of the utility systems both geographically and financially.

The companies are permitted under the act to suggest plans of their own, but the SEC is empowered to take the initiative. The commission chairman said proposals have been made by only one or two companies.

Hopes for February Hearing.

Frank, who discussed the program after a speech before the American Management association here, said he hoped the hearings would begin in February. After their completion, the companies are permitted to seek rehearings, and the law also allows an extension of one year after issuance of a commission order.

These possibilities of delay, Frank said, make it likely that enforcement of any orders will be in the hands of the next Washington administration.

The chairman said that any implication that the big holding companies as a group are shaky financially is erroneous. He said at least one big top company is in "excellent financial shape."

Intimates Values Too Low.

There will be no "crackdown" on holding companies, he asserted. The primary concern of the SEC, he declared, is to protect valid existing investment in operating companies and "moneys legitimately in holding company securities, most of which has sound value."

Frank asserted efforts would be made to scale down top company management control and put it in the hands of local management of operating companies.

MIDDLE WEST IS FIRST

The Middle West corporation will be the first affected by SEC orders invoking provisions of the holding company act, according to reports. Altho it was understood the commission has already drafted an order requiring revision of Middle West, company representatives said yesterday they had no notice of the pending action.

Middle West provides electric, gas, and other service in about 2,300 communities, principally in the north central, middle west, and southwestern sections of the United States. The communities have a combined population of about 3,000,000. Major intermediate holding companies in the Middle West system are Central and South West Utilities, North West Utilities, American Public Service, United Public Service, and Middle West Utilities of Canada.

Other important utility systems against which the SEC has been reported preparing action include the Electric Bond and Share, North American, Commonwealth and Southern, Standard Power and Light, United Gas Improvement, United Light and Power, Cities Service, and Engineers Public Service companies.

DENIES FEDERAL AIM TO CONTROL ALL INSURANCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.], chairman of the temporary national economic [monopoly] committee, denied today that the committee's objectives included federal regulations of and government competition with the insurance business.

O'Mahoney issued his denial in response to an inquiry from Representative Edward T. Taylor [D., Colo.], two of whose constituents had expressed fears as to purposes of the pending investigation of the insurance business. O'Mahoney also enclosed, in his letter to Congressman Tayler, a memorandum prepared by C. B. Robbins, manager and general counsel of the American Life convention, an association of insurance companies with offices in Chicago.

O'Mahoney said the Robbins memorandum contained "several statements which are not substantiated by any facts which have come to my knowledge."

GRAHAM-PAIGE MOTORS PLANS TO EXPAND LINE

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 25 (AP).—Graham-Paige Motors corporation announced today it has completed arrangements to resume production of an expanded line of motor vehicles and to manufacture body, chassis and other parts for some models of the Hupp Motor Car company.

The corporation has obtained a $2,000,000 loan and a revolving fund commitment of $500,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Private sale of convertible notes has yielded another $300,000.

Finds America Short on Plane Engine Plants

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—Additional facilities for turning out airplane engines are necessary to handle future domestic and foreign orders for military and civil aircraft, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said today.

The secretary is President Roosevelt's liaison man with a special committee appointed by President Roosevelt to protect American national defense in view of large prospective orders for military supplies from the British and French empires. He has been making an inspection trip of aircraft factories with other members of the committee, which includes army and navy officials.

The committee was charged with guarding against rising prices and swamping of facilities thru competition of foreign orders with our own. Morgenthau said, however, that American orders for the army, navy, and civil transport lines will be assured first consideration.

Board Passes on Contracts.

A joint army-navy board passes upon all foreign contracts and can deny the filling of orders in the American market anytime it wishes. There is no need, Morgenthau said, to hold up any of the foreign orders now on the books. It is more of a future problem, he asserted.

Limited production of engines is a potential bottleneck, however, in the aircraft manufacturing industry, in his opinion.

"I know that American airplane manufacturers could get a lot more orders if they could get engines fast enough," he said.

Some quarters, however, are very skeptical of the information dropped by the empires' purchasing agents in this country that they are ready to spend more than 1 billion dollars on 8,000 or more planes, as previously reported. These quarters see it as part of a propaganda campaign to persuade American manufacturers to enlarge their facilities so they can handle any future orders from the empires.

Profit Fixed at 12 Per Cent.

The depreciation and costs of expansion allowed by the treasury in the handling of government contracts is an important factor from the manufacturers' viewpoint.

The Vinson-Trammell act, as amended at the last regular session of congress, permits a maximum profit of 12 per cent of the contract price on military and naval aircraft. The bureau of internal revenue enforces this limitation.

The treasury now negotiates agreements with contractors who must enlarge their facilities in order to meet army and navy needs. These agreements set forth the manner in which the bureau of internal revenue is to treat the cost of any special facilities in computation of the manufacturers' profits.

Under the agreements the army and navy certifies to the treasury that installation of special facilities by a contractor is necessary for the national defense program and such facilities will be partially or totally useless after completion of the contract. The treasury, when the contract is signed, agrees to allow a percentage of reasonable cost to be charged when the profits are computed.

There have been two such agreements signed since the act was amended—one with Colt's Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing company, and the latest with the Consolidated Aircraft corporation.

Charge Off Tools' Cost.

The agreement with Consolidated provides that the company may charge off as indirect factory expense the cost of tools consumed in performance of the contract. It also provides that the company may charge off as an indirect factory expense the depreciated cost, less salvage value, of buildings which are required to be demolished.

With respect to any buildings, machinery, or other similar facilities which must be acquired by the company in order to perform the contract, the agreement refrains from fixing rates of depreciation and obsolescence, but permits the company to take a deduction with respect to the portion permanently discarded upon completion of the contract.

RAIL LOADINGS DIP; STILL 10 PCT. OVER LAST YEAR

The Association of American Railroads yesterday reported 645,822 cars of revenue freight loaded during the week ended Jan. 20. This was a decrease of 21,891 cars, or 3.3 per cent from the preceding week, but an increase of 59,166, or 10.1 per cent over a year earlier.

The decline was described as more than seasonal. All but two classes of loadings were lower than the preceding week.

Engineering Awards Drop 34 Pct. from 1939 Level

New York, Jan. 25 (AP).—Engineering construction awards for the week ended Tuesday totaled $32,678,000, a decrease of 21 per cent from the previous week and 34 per cent below a year ago, Engineering News-Record reported today. Private awards, which had been advancing since last fall, were down 16 per cent from the week before and were 32 per cent less than last year. Public construction continued to taper off.

Trade Treaties Cost a Billion, Asserts Taber

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25 (AP).—L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange, warned the house ways and means committee today that if the reciprocal trade program is extended for three more years it will necessitate another billion dollars for farm relief.

"After experimenting with trade pacts for six years," Taber declared, "American farm prices are 22 per cent below parity. Imports of agricultural products have been detrimental to American farmers."

Taber asserted that the pacts already negotiated had hurt agriculture since "the tariff has been reduced on more than 200 items coming under the agricultural schedule." He added:

Lists Commodities Affected.

"Referring specifically to some of these commodities we reduced the duty on cattle, swine, pork, bacon, grains, cereal products, milk, cream, cheese, eggs, potatoes, and a long list of fresh vegetables, canned or preserved vegetables, fruits, nuts, and other competitive agricultural products."

Taber said the duty on eggs had been reduced from 10 to 5 cents per dozen in the Canadian agreement and the concession generalized to the rest of the world. In the meantime, he said, the cumulative purchases of eggs by the Surplus Commodities corporation amounted to 30,289,020 dozens. The duty on apples was reduced from 25 to 15 cents per bushel, the Grange chief continued, while the Surplus Commodities corporation has purchased more than 9,000,000 bushels in an effort to get rid of a surplus and stabilize the price.

Favors Smoot-Hawley Rates.

As Taber completed his testimony he was asked by Chairman Doughton [D., N. C.] whether he thought American farmers would be better off under the old Smoot-Hawley tariff rates or under an extension of the reciprocal trade program.

Reminded of the log rolling that occurred in framing tariff rates in the past, Taber declared he "would rather trust congressional politics in the open than red tape behind the state department's closed doors."

Emphasizing the value of the domestic market—which he declared the American farmers wanted to keep—Taber declared the women of the United States spent more buying commodities for 140,000,000 people than the women of Europe spent for 500,000,000 people, or the women of Asia for one billion.

Calls Trade Pacts Beneficial.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, declared the trade pacts had been beneficial to American farmers, encouraging exports of farm products as well as increasing domestic sales as a result of industrial stimulation.

Secretary of State Hull in a letter read in the house today said that no concessions on imports of chilled and frozen beef were under consideration. Some representatives from cattle-raising states have expressed opposition to the reciprocal trade program on the ground it would be detrimental to cattle interests.

CHICAGO PLANTS SPEND MILLION FOR EXPANSION

The Chicago Association of Commerce announced yesterday that expansion programs costing a million dollars have been undertaken by Chicago area industrial concerns in the last 30 days.

E. P. Querl, the association's industrial development manager, said the programs will add 415,000 square feet to the manufacturing area of sixteen factories and give employment to about 900 workers.

Leading in expansion expenditures were W. C. Ritchie & Co. and Johnson & Johnson. Each firm will spend about $250,000 for added space. The Lewisburg Chair company, Bridgeport, Conn., has entered Chicago with branch manufacturing quarters at 1271 West North avenue.

Miller Reappointed Member of Commerce Commission

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25 (AP).—Carroll Miller received from President Roosevelt today a seven year appointment as a member of the interstate commerce commission. Miller is a native of Richmond, Va., and a legal resident of Pitsburgh, Pa.

A. & P. BUYING POLICY CHANGED BY BROKER SALES FEE DECISION

New York, Jan. 25 (AP).—The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company announced today it will stop buying from manufacturers who deal with brokers. The action follows a Federal Trade commission order forbidding the paying of brokerage to the grocery chain on purchases made for it thru its field agents.

The United States Court of Appeals sustained the commission's order and the Supreme court of the United States recently refused to review the case.

Caruthers Ewing, general counsel of the A. & P., said the company's step was taken with reluctance. "The federal trade commission and the court forbade it from accepting any allowance or discount which in whole or part represented brokerage being currently paid by sellers on sales to others," he said.

"By avoiding purchases from a manufacturer who currently pays brokerage, no inference can be drawn that a permissible discount represents in whole or in part brokerage so currently being paid. Since the Robinson-Patman act went into effect, the A. & P. has paid independent brokers upward of $8,000,000. This excludes any idea that the company is hostile to brokers."

LARGER PROFIT IN 1939 IS SHOWN BY BURLINGTON

Other Roads Report Better Results.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad yesterday reported net income for 1939 of $3,661,339, equal to $2.14 a share, compared with $3,641,763, or $2.13 a share in 1938.

The Great Northern announced its net income increased to $8,686,425, from $2,712,560 in 1938. Last year's profit was equal to $3.47 a share, against $1.08 in 1938.

JAPAN WORRIED OVER PACT, SAYS TOKIO ATTACHE

Frank S. Williams, commercial attaché to the American embassy at Tokio, said last night that there probably will be no immediate change in American-Japanese trading relations as a result of the abrogation of the commercial treaty today.

Williams addressed a meeting of the foreign trade division of the Chicago Association of Credit Men. He said that Japanese business men are greatly concerned over future trade relations with the United States. Business in Japan, he said, now is honeycombed with regulations. Permits are necessary both to cover import of foreign materials and for foreign exchange to pay for them. Purchases abroad are limited to urgently required materials for use in heavy industries and for the manufacture of goods for export.

Big Iron Ore Mines Enter Open Market

Sharper competition in the sale of iron ore in the open market to general industrial consumers was seen yesterday with the disclosure that the Oliver Iron Mining company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, for the first time in its history is soliciting such business.

Oliver Iron Mining is reported to have sold 150,000 tons of iron ore to the Ford Motor company at a price about $1.20 a ton below the present market prices. Present prices for the product are reported to be about $4.95 a ton.

World's Largest Producer.

Entry of the United States Steel subsidiary into the competition is reported to have resulted from the disclosure in the recent monopoly hearing in Washington that the corporation was not selling iron ore in the open market under agreement. It was brought out in the hearing that sale of iron ore by independent companies had returned them a profit and had helped them to sustain the price structure for steel.

Oliver Iron Mining is the world's largest producer of iron ore. It operates 17 mines and processing plants in northern Michigan and Minnesota. Its mines, both of the open pit and underground type, are in the Vermilion, Mesaba, Gogebic, and Marquette ranges.

Advertise Ore for Sale.

Since the company was organized in 1892 it has shipped more than 700,000,000 tons of iron ore, most all of which has gone into blast furnaces of United States Steel subsidiaries as a raw material in the production of steel. Sale of the ore in the open market, therefore, is something new. The change in policy was disclosed recently in advertisments that appeared in a Duluth trade paper offering the sale of ore.

The company was organized by Henry W. Oliver, who heard about the finding of ore in the Mesaba range while attending a political convention at Minneapolis. He made a dash to the fire field the next day and leased a considerable amount of property. In 1894 he hooked up with the old Carnegie Steel company and after the formation of the United States Steel corporation his company became a subsidiary of that enterprise.

Among the independent sellers of iron ore has been Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company.

URGES SUPPORT OF RECIPROCAL TRADE PACTS ACT

Illinois congressmen yesterday were urged to support the pending trade agreements act, which would extend the enabling legislation making possible the negotiation of more reciprocal trade treaties with foreign nations. Support for the bill came from C. A. Price, president of the Export Managers Club of Chicago.

"It is our judgment that the treaties thus far consummated have resulted in a substantial increase in foreign trade, and a valuable contribution to our national economy," Price said in a letter to the congressmen.

Price said the export managers club does not contend that the trade agreements are perfect, but that they are a step in the right direction. Similar support recently came from J. D. Fletcher of the Caterpillar Tractor company, who said in a forum sponsored by the foreign trade committee of the Illinois Manufacturers' association that every member of the committee approved of the reciprocal trade pacts.

Japanese Controled Firm to Drill Mexican Wells

TAMPICO, Mexico, Jan. 25 (AP).—Carlos Almazan, director of the Japanese controled Vera Cruz Petroleum company, said today that company engineers were preparing to drill more than 30 new wells in the rich region south of the Panuco river. Almazan said most of the increased production would be shipped to Japan but that the Mexican government had approved the projected drilling and would share in the profits.

EARNINGS RISE FOR ATLANTIC REFINING CO.

1939 Profits Equal to $1.66 a Share.

Atlantic Refining company reported yesterday that its consolidated profit for 1939 increased to $5,028,000 from $4,317,000 in 1938. The earnings were equal to $1.66 a common share, against $1.40.

The company directly or thru subsidiaries engages in nearly all branches of the oil business. Its refineries are at Philadelphia, Pa., and Atreco, Tex.

Remington Rand, Inc., manufacturer of office equipment and electric shavers, announced its consolidated profit in the December quarter amounted to $752,255, equal to 34 cents a share, compared with $921,188, or 45 cents a share, in the corresponding period of 1938.

Net earnings in the nine months ended Dec. 31 totaled $1,104,418, compared with $1,427,463 in the last nine months of 1938. Earnings for the 1939 period were equal to 30 cents a share, against 50 cents in the 1938 period.

Universal Pictures Has Profit.

Universal Pictures Company, Inc., reported its consolidated net profits in the fiscal year ended Oct. 28 were $1,153,321, against a net loss of $591,178 in the preceding year. J. Cheever Cowdin, chairman of the board, told stockholders that labor costs last year "reached the highest levels in history and placed such costs at the studio on a higher basis than generally obtains for similar work in other industries."

Aviation and Transportation company reported a consolidated net loss of $386,799 for the year ended Nov. 30, against a loss of $212,316 in the preceding year. Working capital declined to $1,477,808 from $3,164,194, principally because of reductions in cash position and the market value of marketable securities.

Victor Emanuel, president, said the reduction in cash position was "largely accounted for by the exercise of rights to purchase 275,124 shares of stock of the Aviation corporation, a subsidiary, for $907,909, and the purchase of 26,600 additional shares of New York Shipbuilding corporation founders stock for $400,774."

Broken Treaty Hits Vitals of Japan's Trade

Expiration of the Japanese-American commercial treaty today caused foreign trade observers to review the items which may be affected by the treaty break.

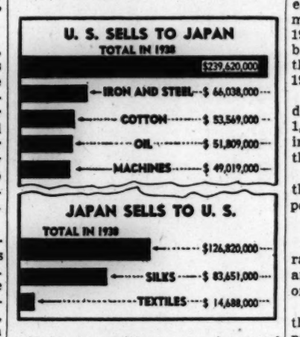

Total trade between the two nations in 1938, the last full year for which figures are available, amounted to $366,440,000. The United States exported $239,620,000 worth of goods to Japan, and in return purchased $126,820,000. In the first five months of 1939, the United States sold $96,290,000 to Japan and bought $50,242,000 from Japan.

Japan is the third largest customer of the United States, with the United Kingdom and Canada taking first and second place. The United States, on the other hand, is Japan's biggest customer for her most important exports, such as silk, textiles, canned goods, tea, and novelties.

Buys War Materials Here.

An important difference in the two nations' purchases is that the goods America buys from Japan are not essential, while the products Japan buys in the United States are vital to Japanese economy.

Japan's principal purchases in the United States are materials needed to make war. In 1938 her purchases of four classes of goods alone—iron and steel, raw cotton and cotton linters, crude oil and its products, and automobiles, machinery, and parts—totaled $220,435,000, or nearly 92 per cent of her imports from this country. All of these materials are war necessities, altho they may of course be used for other purposes.

This chart illustrates the total trade between the United States and Japan and the major materials bought and sold in 1938, the last full year for which statistics are available.

The biggest item on Japan's list of sales to the United States is silk, which amounted to $83,651,000 in 1938, nearly 66 per cent of Japan's total sales to America. Next comes cotton cloth and other textiles, which totaled $14,688,000 in 1938.

Metals Top Buying List.

Japan's need of American metals and machinery is demonstrated by the fact that she purchases 92.9 per cent of all her copper imports from the United States, 91.2 per cent of all automobile and parts imports, 60.5 per cent of all oil imports, 41.6 per cent of all pig iron imports, 59.7 per cent of all other iron imports, 49.5 per cent of all machinery imports, and 20.4 per cent of zinc imports.

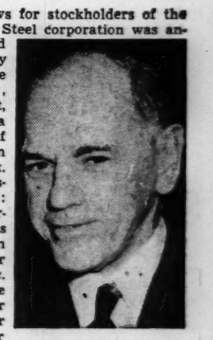

At the top of Japan's buying list are steel, pig iron, and scrap iron and steel, for which she spent $66,038,000 in 1938. For cotton and related items Japan spent $53,569,000; for crude oil, gasoline, and other oil products, $51,809,000, and for machinery, automobiles, and auto and aircraft parts she spent $49,019,000.

BETHLEHEM NET QUADRUPLED IN 3 MONTHS, YEAR

Vote Common Stock Dividend of $1.

Eugene G. Grace.

1. The corporation's profits in the quarter ended Dec. 31 were nearly four times larger than a year earlier, and earnings in the full year 1939 were more than four times larger than in 1938. The quarter's income was the best for any quarter in 10 years, and the 1939 total was the largest since 1937.

2. Shareholders will receive a dividend of $1 a common share on March 1, and another payment will be made in the second quarter of this year, the amount being still undetermined.

3. Orders on hand Dec. 31 were at the highest level ever reached in peacetime.

Plants Operate at 91 Per Cent.

4. Current operations are at the rate of about 91 per cent of capacity, and the average in the last quarter of 1939 was 98.6 per cent.

5. New business is coming in at the rate of about 50 per cent of capacity, and the outlook is for "good operations" during the first 1940 quarter and perhaps part of the second.

The company's net income for the last 1939 quarter was $13,028,928, after federal income taxes and all other charges, compared with $3,658,160 in the corresponding period of 1938. Earnings per share of common stock in the respective periods were $3.74 and $1.10.

For the full year 1939, profits amounted to $24,638,384, or $5.75 a share on the common stock, against $5,250,239 in 1938. The 1938 profit was equal to $4.92 a share on the 7 per cent preferred and 70 cents a share on the 5 per cent preferred stocks. The company's 1937 profit was $31,819,596.

Usual Preferred Dividends Paid.

Grace announced that the $1 common dividend will be paid to holders of record Feb. 9. The corporation resumed payments on the common last September, with a declaration of 50 cents, and then paid $1 in December. Nothing was paid on the common in 1938.

The company authorized regular quarterly dividends of $1.75 on the 7 per cent preferred and 25 cents on the 5 per cent preferred stocks.

Grace informed the stockholders

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

New York, Jan. 25 (AP).—The stock market lacked further rallying power today and profit taking on Wednesday's bulge put leading issues down fractions to around a point. Selling was not urgent, however, and transfers fell to 543,570 shares from 712,180 the day before.

Many skeptical traders cashed profits on the idea that yesterday's upswing was not a definite signal the market was preparing to climb back into recovery territory.

Steels were among the principal sliders, altho the Bethlehem report, coming after the close, confirmed the brisk expansion in this industry during the final months of 1939.

A few aircrafts managed to come out on top as talk was revived of a huge British-French buying program in the United States.

Prominent losers were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, United States Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, New York Central, Kennecott, du Pont, and Texas corporation. Finishing ahead were Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Sperry, Eastern Air Lines, Bendix, United States Gypsum, and Caterpillar Tractor.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission reported today that sales on all registered securities exchanges in December totaled $892,789,285, a decrease of 8.9 per cent from November, and 34.9 per cent below the December, 1938, total.

Stock sales, excluding rights and warrants, totaled $767,061,701, a decline of 9.1 per cent from November, while bond sales fell 7.3 per cent from the previous month to $125,630,977. The volume sales of stock totaled 31,238,335 shares, a decrease of 11.4 per cent from November.

New York Bonds.

New York, Jan. 25 (AP).—Corporate bonds, behind the lead of rails, tilted slightly upward today. Overcoming earlier irregularities, the market assumed a firm tone shortly before the final bell.

Transactions, however, were only $6,512,600, face value, compared with $7,277,000 in yesterday's more optimistic session.

Latin American governments' dollar loans were as popular as the rails, due, it was believed, to the increasing favorable outlook for inter-American trade. Rises of major fractions to 2 points were made by Chilean municipals, Sao Paulo, Buenos Aires, Uruguay, and Colombia issues. Most other foreign loans slipped.

United States governments were largely inactive and closed the day 3-32 point higher to 5-32 lower.

Chicago Stocks.

Prices were irregular on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, and the volume of trading was slightly less than on Wednesday. The volume leader was Middle West, which closed ¼ point higher.

Bank Stocks.

All major bank stocks except Continental Illinois remained steady yesterday. Continental Illinois shares declined half a point to a closing bid of 90. First National stock, which advanced sharply earlier in the week, remained at 246.

FINNISH BUYING HELPS BUOY RYE; WHEAT DECLINES

Reports that Finland had purchased 400,000 bushels of American rye and was inquiring for an additional 400,000 bushels were credited for independent strength of that grain yesterday. Rye futures advanced around 1½ cents at one time, but weakened later in sympathy with wheat and closed ⅛ cent higher to ⅝ cent lower.

Wheat, subject to commission house and professional selling, closed 1⅝ to 1¾ cents lower, the May contract falling below the dollar level. Corn finished ½ to ⅝ cent lower.

Part of the rye bought by Finland is already at eastern ports awaiting shipment, it was said.

The 1939 Finnish rye crop was 13 million bushels, or about 1,500,000 bushels less than in 1938. Normally that country imports 2 million bushels of wheat annually. Imports prior to last Sept. 1 were less than 500,000 bushels.

MONEY, GOLD, AND SILVER

Netherlands currency closed higher in terms of the American dollar in trading at New York yesterday after reports were received that revaluation of Dutch gold stocks would not affect the currency outside that nation's boundaries. The guilder advanced 0.03 cent, at 53.14 cents, erasing Wednesday's loss. Sterling closed unchanged at $3.98½.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP).—Bar silver, 34¾c, unchanged.

LONDON, Jan. 25 (AP).—Money, 1 per cent. Discount rates: Short and 3 month bills, 1⅛ per cent. Bar silver, 21⅜d, off ⅛d. [Equivalent 39.56 cents based on sterling at $4.03.] Bar gold, 168s, unchanged. [Equivalent $33.85.]

PARIS, Jan. 25 (AP).—The United States dollar remained at 43f 80c [2.283 cents to the franc] in foreign exchange dealings today, compared with 2.260 cents to the franc in New York overnight]. Exchange on London, 176f 62½c. Principal rente issues in the bourse were: 3 per cent, 74f 30c; 4½s "A," 83f 50c; 4½s, 1937, 210f 75c.

Commodities

Copper futures advanced 0.05 to 0.08 cent a pound in New York trading yesterday. Brokers said the advance was due to buying based on copper statistics published Wednesday for the first time in five months. The figures showed a 50 per cent cut in refined supplies from July to December.

Tin, lead, and cocoa contracts also moved upward slightly, but the major trend in commodities was downward. Silk futures led the break, slumping 4 to 11½ cents a pound, and cash silk dropped 9 cents to $3.50 a pound.

Hides closed 0.17 cent a pound lower, and cottonseed oil sank 0.05 to 0.11 cent. Smaller losses were recorded against wool tops, Santos coffee, and both sugar contracts. Zinc and Rio coffee were unchanged.

The bureau of labor statistics reported that its index of wholesale commodity prices fell 3-10 of 1 per cent in the week ended Jan. 20, chiefly because of sharp declines in wheat, hides, silk, and rubber. The drop brought the index to 79.3 per cent of the 1926 average, against 76.6 per cent on Jan. 21, 1939.

DECEMBER STORE SALES UP 6 PCT. IN CHICAGO AREA

Increase Also Shown for Entire Year.

Department store trade in the first two weeks of January and in December in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district was 6 per cent larger than a year earlier, George J. Schaller, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, reported yesterday.

Schaller issued a report on business conditions which included a review of 1939 trends in the district. The survey showed that the December gain in department store sales, as compared with the November volume, was larger than normal for the season.

The volume of such sales for all of last year was estimated at 6 per cent larger than that of 1938, but 6 per cent smaller than the 1937 figure.

Stocks Expanded After July.

Department stores carried lighter stocks till the end of July last year, expanded them steadily in the nekt four months, and then reduced them more than seasonally in December until they were about 4 per cent larger than a year earlier, the report said.

Wholesale trade in the district was described as about 8 per cent larger in volume in 1939 than in 1938, with the widest gains being recorded in the electrical goods, hardware, paper, and meat trades. December wholesale volume was placed at 2 per cent less than in November, but 3 per cent larger than in December, 1938.

Figures for the meat packing industry thruout the nation showed December output was 9.6 per cent larger than in November, 1939, and 148 per cent larger than in December, 1938. Tonnage of sales last month was 0.9 per cent less than in November, but 12 per cent larger than in December, 1938.

Construction at Low Level.

Schaller reported that construction contracts awarded in December in the district fell to the lowest level for any month since January, 1939, amounting to slightly more than half the volume for December, 1938. The declines extended to all types of building, the report said.

Industrial production increased substantially in the last four months of 1939, following minor declines earlier, the survey indicated.

Industrial employment expanded about 23 per cent in the last five months, adding 350,000 workers to pay rolls in the district, the report said. It was estimated that in December factories had 230 more workers than in the 1938 month. December wage payments were 24 per cent larger than a year earlier, the survey showed.

Schaller said there has been no evidence than many large scale war orders have been received from abroad by industries in this district. He also reported that at the end of the year and early this month new business of many industries dwindled.

679 PAGE REPORT FILED IN MISSOURI INSURANCE CASE

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 25 (AP).—Paul V. Barnett, special master appointed by a federal court to investigate the compromise of the $9,000,000 Missouri fire insurance rate case, filed a report of 679 pages today. As instructed, he made no findings of fact or conclusions of law.

The report is a digest of 2,100 pages of testimony. Barnett offered no recommendations to Circuit Judge Kimbrough Stone and District Judges Albert L. Reeves and Merrill E. Otis.

They reopened the case after Boss Tom Pendergast and R. Emmett O'Malley, former state insurance superintendent, pleaded guilty to income tax dodging on funds paid them to end in 1938 the long litigation. The government charged Pendergast got $315,000 for his influence and O'Malley $62,500. Both are serving prison terms at Leavenworth.

Business Bits

Frank Bennett, new president of the Chicago Piano and Organ association, is preparing for the group's annual banquet to be held Wednesday night in the Palmer House. Bennett, who is with the Baldwin Piano company, is a musician and a leader of choral groups and church choirs. Each summer he leads community singing at the Chicago Tribune's Chicagoland Music Festival in Soldiers' field.

Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker corporation, will address the 29th annual dinner of the Bond Club of Chicago at the Blackstone hotel tonight.

The Chicago and North Western railway will open a downtown freight office Feb. 1 in the Utilities building at 327 South La Salle street, F. G. Fitzpatrick, chief traffic officer, announced yesterday. R. C. Stubbs, assistant general freight agent, will be in charge.

IDLE BANK FUNDS RECORD ANOTHER 10 MILLION BOOST

Gold Imports Help Swell Total.

The amount of money lying unemployed in bank vaults of the nation increased again in the week ended Wednesday, the federal reserve board reported yesterday.

The board said lendable excess reserves of member banks of the reserve system rose 90 million dollars during the week to a total of $5,590,000,000.

Gold imports are credited with causing part of the increase. Another influence has been a continuation of the flow of Christmas shopping funds back to the banks thru trade channels.

The board's report follows:

BETHLEHEM NET QUADRUPLED FOR 3 MONTHS, YEAR

Declare Dividend of $1 on Common Stock.

that the corporation will call, as of April 1, all of the outstanding 5 per cent $20 par value preferred stock. He said the amount outstanding is between $18,000,000 and $19,000,000.

He said further action toward revising the capital structure may be taken this year. He mentioned in this connection that the 7 per cent preferred stock is not redeemable.

Further Financing Hinted.

Asked about further financing, Grace said:

"You will notice that we have several bond issues outstanding."

He hinted that changes might be made in these issues eventually. The corporation, he said, has one 4¼ per cent bond issue and a 3¾ per cent issue which possibly could be refunded on a more favorable interest basis "at the proper time."

Grace discussed the European war in its relation to the company's business, saying Bethlehem's proportion of export sales to domestic business last year was about the same as in 1938. Bethlehem, he said, is not doing any "ordnance or war baby" business.

Shortly after the war began, he said in his report, prices paid by Bethlehem for certain raw materials increased substantially. This resulted in an increase in the inventory value of such raw materials and certain manufactured products as of Dec. 31, compared with normal costs, he added.

Create Inventory Reserve.

"To provide for a possible decrease in market prices of similar raw materials and consequently a decrease in the replacement cost of manufactured products, a reserve of $2,000,000, equal to the estimated amount of such increase in the inventory value at the end of the year, has been set up out of income and deducted from the total inventory value," Grace said.

The Dec. 31 peacetime record for orders on hand was $287,002,024, compared with $263,857,017 three months earlier and $162,774,713 a year earlier. At the end of 1937 the company had $93,470,063 of orders on the books.

New business booked in 1939 totaled $538,386,398, against $340,497,325 in 1938 and $388,336,129 in 1937.

Year's Expenditures Larger.

The stockholders were told that the company spent $11,711,743 for additions and improvements in 1939, compared with $7,360,353 in 1938. Bethlehem has spent $104,681,011 for construction in the last five years, Grace said.

Commenting on the shipbuilding division's operations, Grace said that phase of the company's activities was less profitable in 1939 than in 1938.

PROFIT TAKING HALTS UPTURN IN EGG FUTURES

Profit taking halted the spectacular upturn in egg futures on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange yesterday, sending prices of the current refrigerator delivery tumbling. Earlier in the session, however, contracts for delivery of fresh eggs scored new highs for a year or longer.

January standards, after reaching 22.5 cents a dozen, closed with a net decline of 2.35 cents. January firsts were unchanged at 24.5 cents. October standards dropped 0.05 cent and February firsts 0.8 cent. Cash quotations remained steady to slightly higher.

Butter contracts reached new highs, then closed irregularly with the current delivery unchanged at 30.75 cents a pound. Cash contracts advanced ¼ to half a cent, reaching the highest levels in nearly two years.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Two days of light hog receipts, colder weather and increased buying of pork relieved congestion in the pork trade yesterday. Altho wholesale pork prices were little changed from Wednesday's low level, supplies moved more freely, packers reported. This had a direct effect on hog buying.

Competition for hogs ran high, pushing prices up 15 to 25 cents generally, with some butchers above 220 pounds and below 160 pounds rising more than 25 cents. A few pigs and light hogs were 50 cents above the week's low point.

COTTON

Cotton prices fluctuated yesterday after an early advance, breaking about $1 a bale late on heavy selling attributed to Bombay, India, traders and a sharp decline in prices in the latter market. Mills and commission houses bought on the decline and a good rally followed. Closing trades were unchanged to .13 cent lower.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .07 cent lower, with New York at 10.89 cents; New Orleans, 10.55 cents; Galveston, 10.43 cents, and Houston at 10.42 cents a pound. Prices follow:

THE CUSTOMER ISN'T ALWAYS RIGHT, BUT DON'T YOU TELL HIM

The customer is not always right. In fact, he is often wrong, but it doesn't pay to let him think that's what you think. This argument was put forth yesterday by Henry G. Weaver, director of consumer research of General Motors corporation. He addressed the annual midwinter conference of the Illinois Bankers' association in the Palmer House.

Weaver advocated low pressure salesmanship, which, he said, means building consumer acceptance into a product rather than attempting to break down consumer resistance by high pressure methods.

Weaver advocated a scientific approach to advertising problems, but admitted that it was not as spectacular as high pressure salesmanship, and that it required more work to obtain a thoro understanding of the consumer's tastes and habits.

"The trouble with the advertising specialist is that he makes things too simple, just as the economist always makes things to complicated," Weaver said.

BANK CLEARINGS DECLINE, BUT TOP LEVEL OF 1939

New York, Jan. 25 (AP).—Bank clearings in 22 leading cities in the week ended Jan. 24 totaled $5,109,814,000, compared with $5,094,547,000 a year ago and $5,806,298,000 in the preceding week this year, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

New York clearings of $2,980,019,000 represented a decline of 5.3 per cent from the 1939 week. Volume at other centers amounted to $2,129,795,000, up 9.3 per cent.

Chicago clearances totaled $309,008,000, or 13.9 more than the $271,200,000 in 1939.

WHO LIKES BISCUITS?

If the children make you grouse,
If the laundry gets you down,
And you're tired of cleaning house . . .

IN other words, if you need some one to relieve you of a part or all your many housekeeping responsibilities, take your problem with you on a trip through the Situations Wanted columns in the Tribune want ad section.

Capable domestic workers—nursemaids, governesses, gardeners, housekeepers, couples—use these columns to seek employment. You can easily find the type of assistance you need among the variety of offers you will find in these columns. Read them now in the want ad section of today's Tribune.

PLEASE READ

For even though I represent a company with AAA-1 rating with branch offices in every major city, no one seems to answer my ads.

Is there not some one living on the South Side who is sincerely interested in making more money and having a permanent connection?

If so, come in and I will show you the most amazing electric unit that you have ever seen with over a score of uses, and you will understand why barbers, farmers, lawyers, mechanics, etc. earn in a single day on commission and bonus alone from $25 to $100.

The only qualifications you need are honesty and sincerity. Call 10:30 a. m. Friday. Walter Leonard, Rm. 400 Maryland Bldg., 63d-street and Maryland-avenue.

A SALESMAN

wanted to represent a standard line of Infants' and Children's merchandise. Commission basis with drawing account and automobile allowance. Trade established. In replying state age, nationality, experience, whether employed. Single men about 30 years preferred.

MEN

The Kirby Cleaner Company extends an invitation to all specialty salesmen to work on the greatest profit setup that has ever been offered to any man in this industry. We pay by far the best commission and we pay it all at once—we hold no commission back. We also pay the O. R. weekly. The United States government finances our accounts through the E. H. F. A. and the accounts are applied right on the light bill and payable with same. Customers' monthly installments as low as $2.50 per month and $5 down payment. Easiest pay plan ever heard of.

Any salesman who is willing to work hard should draw from $100 to $200 every week. Apply Friday morning and see the new spectacular 1940 model, 11 o'clock sharp—no other time—2400 West Madison-street, Room 305.
